Fresh

Schilling tea

Tea in vacuum! Just like your coffee!

It is just as vital for one as it is for the other, to prevent the evaporation of the fragrant oils that give them both their flavor.

Iced

Schilling Iced Tea is far more refreshing than any other because it is fresh to begin with.

JUNE WEATHER WAS FEATURED BY RAIN LACK

The month of June was not noteworthy in the matter of weather except possibly lack of wetness for that month over James of past years, according to the monthly meteorological notes of W. J. Hutchison, head of the Medford weather station, made public today, as follows.

"The month passed with no pronounced features of the weather. Unlike June of 1929 there were no heavy thunderstorms bringing abnormal rainfall. Cloudy skies prevailed during the first week and the weather was somewhat threatening a large part of the week.

However, rainfall occurred only in very small amounts. The balance of the month, with the exception of a light thunderstorm on the 19th, was without precipitation.

"Temperatures were generally normal throughout the month. Clear skies predominated the month with an abundance of sunshine. There were only five days when the cloudiness could be considered total for the day.

All vegetation and agricultural activities made rapid progress. The total monthly precipitation was considerably less than normal and the seasonal total (September 1, 1929 to June 30, 1930) remains several inches below the normal amount for that period.

"On the 16th during the early hours of the morning an exceptionally brilliant aurora was observed. Tall spires of white light were first noted shooting into the sky. The tips of these white shafts changed to red and a band of orange merging into a purplish blue colored the lower portions.

These colored lights were alternately bright and dim, finally disappearing at about 3:10 a. m.

The following is a summary of meteorological data: Temperature, mean, 64.2 degrees; highest, 99 degrees on 15th; lowest, 39 degrees on 13th; greatest daily range, 49 degrees; least daily range, 17 degrees; absolute maximum for the month for 29 years, 109 degrees; absolute minimum for the month for 29 years, 22 degrees. Precipitation: total for month, 12 inches; greatest precipitation in 24 hours, .06 inches on 1st; normal .75 inches; total since September 1, 1929, 13.97; normal amount since September 1, 1929, 17.48; deficiency for the season, 3.51 inches.
