

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

Daily and Sunday... MEDFORD PRINTING CO. Phone 75... ROBERT W. REED, Editor... S. BLUMFELT SMITH, Manager

Subscription Rates... Daily, with Sunday, year... $7.50... Daily, without Sunday, year... $5.50

Official paper of the City of Medford... MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS... MEMBER OF THE UNITED PRESS

Advertising Representatives... M. C. MOGENSEN & COMPANY... Offices in New York, Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland

Ye Smudge Pot (By Arthur Perry)

In these parts, in the past, several minor happenings have been labelled "hysterical"... And the reporters never knew until the voices were counted that the attendance was due to curiosity

ARLINGTON, July 5.—The glorious, ungracious, flamboyant Fourth has already been. Celebrations at Condon and Heppner were successful and well attended.

A new instrument, called the "flu-scope," has been invented, which enables the doctor to see through a man. It is quite a rig, and a great compliment to human ingenuity

Our blondes are freckling to beat the dickens in the prevailing bright glare of Old Sol.

Harry Moore is back from Kansas, where he narrowly escaped starvation, and could not sleep nights for fear of cyclones. He reports the farmers in the same distress as F. Bybee, the Jville serf.

JOURNALISTIC TRIALS (Ayon, Mont. Herald) Last week, in a few copies of our paper, we published a story telling of the death of the Rev. John B. White.

Press dispatches state that Miss Vivian Duncan, of stage and film note, is suffering from a black eye and a red nose, the result of not ducking a flurry of right-handed swings, flung by an ardent admirer.

A DISGRACEFUL EXHIBITION

THE opposition of the Senate insurgents to the naval reduction bill, is typical of this crowd of pestiferous trouble makers, who are consistent in only one thing—to do everything in their power, to embarrass and harass the President.

THEY pretend to want only the facts this correspondence contains. But they don't give a rap for the facts, for they already have them.

Senator Johnson rose in typical demagogic wrath and scorned such an offer, on the ground that the people of this country were entitled to know the truth concerning the pact.

IT is an open secret in Washington that these facts, do not concern the naval treaty itself, but are indiscreet comments, made by Ambassador Dawes, regarding certain prominent statesmen in England.

MOREOVER the insurgent senators know very well, that President Hoover is under no obligation, direct or implied, to make public this correspondence.

THE situation, we repeat, is perfectly typical of the Senate insurgent group, and the low estate to which the Upper House of congress has fallen.

SMALL wonder, President Hoover has decided he cannot afford to take his scheduled trip to this coast, but must stay on the job through the summer with perhaps a month's rest

THERE has been nothing more shameful and disgraceful in recent political history, than the tactics of this senate group toward President Hoover and particularly toward this naval reduction treaty.

GOOD NEWS FOR SOUTHERN OREGON LAST night's announcement of the cannery price for California pears contains good news for Medford and the Rogue River valley.

MUTT AND JEFF—It's Nicer Work If They Don't Get You THIS IS TERRIBLE, MUTT! LISTEN TO THIS: "PAYROLL BANDITS STEAL A MILLION DOLLARS!"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Whitfield's Ointment in Liquid Many persons who have ring-worm of the feet (athlete's itch, toe itch, trichophytosis) find the now well-known Whitfield's ointment an effective remedy.

James Grieve, of Prospect, who recently met up with pneumonia, now has a $400 accordion with a chromatic scale. The owner's fingers are too pudgy to jump from chromo to chromo, causing his melodies to be botched.

But the maximum for No. 1 grade is $48, which will probably mean approximately $45 in Southern Oregon. This assures a good profit for local growers, who decide to sell to canneries, and it also indicates a firm market for pears in Eastern auctions.

Personal Health Service By William Brady, M. D.

Blinded letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

MEDICAL TREATMENT VERSUS SURGERY FOR DUODENAL ULCER

A large metropolitan clinic or clique of doctors reports (to the profession) that a permanent cure is obtained in less than 50 per cent of cases of duodenal ulcer by operation, and that secondary gastro-duodenal ulceration (that means a new ulcer at the site of the short-circuit union of stomach and intestine) occurs in a third of the cases operated upon.

Not so good, considering the claims many perfectly deft operators make for surgical treatment as against medical treatment; yet not so bad, considering the fact that in some of the surgical cases the operation is done as an emergency measure or even as a last resort after medical treatment has proved inadequate or neglected.

Equally fair data on the effectiveness of medical treatment indicate that in actual practice approximately 50 per cent of cases of duodenal ulcer (9 out of 10 cases of peptic ulcer are duodenal) are permanently cured.

For the past two years I have had the habit of drinking one or two glasses of (a proprietary soda fountain beverage) every day.

Communications

The First Clock in Oregon. To the Editor: Among the many show windows on the streets of Ashland on July 4th, wherein pioneer relics were exhibited, was one showing relics of 1843.

Jonathan Frost clock, made in Boston, Mass., in 1841 and shipped to Oregon by sailing vessel. Property originally of Jason Lee, the first missionary to come to Oregon, coming as early as 1824.

But the plain truth is the only honest opposition comes from the Big Navy men, who want some of that added billion dollars, that the defeat of this measure will force the taxpayers of this country to spend.

THE president knows best, of course. But England, when she had the money, had no difficulty in out-building all other nations, including this nation.

Suppose you suddenly learned MY WORD: CRIME IS ON THE INCREASE. "SMUGGLERS CLEAN UP ALMOST A BILLION!" WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THAT, MUTT?

MAIL TRIBUNE DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Crossword puzzle grid with clues for Across and Down. Clues include: Across 1. Large rambling mansion; Down 1. Name of a city.

Brisbane's Today (Continued from page one) Yesterday, created Sherlock Holmes, a name that has become part of the English language, and died a believer in spiritualism.

Table with 10 columns and 10 rows, likely a calendar or schedule. Numbers 1 through 31 are scattered in the grid.

But your grandmother used to walk a tight rope on one foot, her other foot held high in the air. You'd be shocked.

Does he remember this earth, or anything about it, or is all that as vague as the months spent on earth, before birth?

Experiments prove that workers work harder, wear themselves out more rapidly, accomplish less, while exposed to sudden loud noises.

It was predicted in this column some time ago that the arrival of July 1st would bring a crisis in wheat.

Experienced dealers believe that the government farm board has made matters worse by discouraging normal limitation of the carry over.

Relieves a Headache or Neuralgia in 30 minutes, checks a Cold the first day, and checks Malaria in three days. 666 Also in Tablets

Do You Remember?

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY (From files of the Mail Tribune, July 8, 1920) Council clamps lid on use of city water supply.

Uman-Bryan brands Nominee Cox as "wet" candidate. County starts work on road from Medford to Trail.

City excited by report that plane drops near Talent. First forest fire of season in Butte Falls district.

Republican central committee of county reports on "the Tammany menace." TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY (From files of the Mail Tribune, July 8, 1910)

Porter J. Neff defeats Ben Pearson at tennis on Oakdale courts. Editorial: "Is Roosevelt a Mystery or a Sham?"

SUNDOWN STORIES

WEATHER'S JOKES (By Mary Graham Bonner) Old Weather Man, the Little Black Clock, John and Peggy and the pilot were taking a ride in the plane while Old Weather Man was talking about his children.

"Yes," he continued, "I have many children. Now when a lot of my cloud children decide they need a good rest in the fall of the year they wrap the old family cloud blanket around them and their year people may be sure there will not be a frost."

"But how we all love to fool people. To be sure we play our games according to certain rules, but my cloud children can get up just as people do."

"Then there are my dear little half-stone grandchildren wearing their coats of ice and snow. They don't care for the winter time so much as they do for the summer—strange though that may seem—and they like to go back to the same old places year after year. They like the daytime best."

"There are my cloud children who wear dark clothes lined with silver."

"Good! I'm glad you've heard of them. Oh, I've such a great, great many children. Some of them are wild and stormy in their ways. But wait! Listen!"

"If we stay right here in the plane we can hear two of them talking. They have such good lung power. They told me they'd give you a treat. I hope you'll think it is a treat!"

"Do you suppose, Little Black Clock, you could take that long trip tomorrow or the next day or the next so John and Peggy could hear these two children of mine?"

"What about it?" the Little Black Clock asked. "I can put off that other trip for awhile."

"Let's hear them," said John. Tomorrow—"Fire and Water Friends."

JOHN H. LOOK Painting-Decorating Fine Interior Work a Specialty Phone 118

By BUD FISHER