

Bobby Jones Is Winner of National Open Golf Championship

TAKES 287 STROKES ON LONG ROUTE

Sensational 40-Foot Putt Gives Birdie On Home Hole After Hard Fight in Fourth Round—MacDonald Smith Cards 289.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, July 12.—(AP)—Bobby Jones won the open golf championship of the United States today for the second straight year and the fourth time altogether as he scored his third successive major triumph of 1930. Jones clinched the crown by finishing the 72 holes with a total of 287 while his most dangerous rival, MacDonald Smith, posted 289.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, July 12.—(AP)—Sinking a sensational 40-foot putt on the home hole for a birdie, Bobby Jones, after a terrific battle against hazards, finished his fourth round in 75, three over par, and totalled 287, to lead for the 72-hole National Open golf championship today. He had shot a spectacular 68, four under par, and a new competitive record for the course, to take the lead in the third round. It gave him a 64-hole total of 212.

Walter Hagen rounded the turn in 38, two over par, and was eight strokes behind Jones for 45 holes. Bothered with a strong wind, Jones pushed his tee shot on 222 yard 17th to deep grass at the edge of a pond, well below the green, with trees and a deep trap intervening.

The crowd searched for the ball in vain. It was ruled a one-stroke penalty, under a special rule for a ball in parallel water hazards. Jones played another ball from back on the fairway, playing three and chipped short. His approach putt was wide and he took a five.

After his disastrous 17th, Jones finished sensationally with a birdie three on the hard home hole. His second was in front of the green, 44 feet from the cup, but the champion rolled the ball up over the humped surface straight to the cup as the crowd roared wildly.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, July 12.—(AP)—Scores for the fourth 18-hole round of the National Open golf championship with totals for the 72 holes included: Eddie Dutra, Los Angeles, 230—75—205; Eddie Schultz, Troy, N. Y., 317—74—313; Johnny Goodman, Omaha, Neb., 326—76—301; Herman Borrow, Portchester, N. Y., 229—77—306; Jim Fowls, Chicago, 333—27—310; Willie W. Klein, East Williston, N. RESIGNATION WRITTEN BY ASTORIA JUSTICE

ASTORIA, July 12.—(AP)—J. L. Tuomala, Astoria district justice of the peace, confined in the city jail in lieu of $5000 bail, today addressed his resignation to Governor Norblad. Tuomala was arrested Thursday, charged with embezzlement.

SAN FRANCISCO—Andy Divodi, New York, knocked out Joe Cordova, Los Angeles (8).

Al Singer's Title Hopes Undimmed By 'Knockout'

Al Singer, New York battler, and Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, who will battle for the title July 17 at the Yankee stadium.

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Singer claims that if he wins the lightweight title from Sammy Mandell here the night of July 17, no small part of the credit will belong to Ignacio Fernandez. Fernandez is the boy who almost ruined Singer's title chances by a quick knockout of the New York battler.

The aftermath of that knockout, Singer says, was more of a shock to him than the two blows which caused it. The realization was brought home to him that he possibly wasn't as good as all of his friends said he was.

John Junor's Big Moment Recalled As Interlachen Tourney Upset By Lacey

By O. B. Keeler. (Written for the Associated Press.) MINNEAPOLIS, July 12.—(AP)—History repeated itself about 40 minutes before sunset at the Interlachen Country club yesterday, when Charles Lacey, youthful English professional, from that extraordinarily tough golf course known as Pine Valley, kicked in with a card of 70, two better than par.

Nobody, you see, had heard of Charles Lacey, except that he was playing in the tournament. True, he had done 74 on Thursday, but quite a number of competitors had done that.

Up Comes Lacey. The press house was warm and the wires were hotter, and everybody was getting his story out at top speed, and then came Mr. Lacey with a par four left at the last hole for a 69, the course record, a clear title to second place by himself, and all sorts of fame, pestilence and earthquake for the correspondents who had already got their leads on the wire.

Well, it turned out not quite so bad as all that. He hooked his drive and his second hit and got into a bunker and worked out a hard five for a 70.

Junior Scrumbles Stories. And all of a sudden, just as sunset, a peeped courier came galloping up from the front with the report that one John H. Junor of Portland, Oregon, stood on the 18th tee with a par five left for a 70, to tie Jones and bust all the stories.

I shall never forget the scene that followed. Forty wild-eyed members of the fourth estate lined up along the balcony of the clubhouse and chanted in unison: "Hope he takes a 10! Hope he takes a 10! Hope he takes a 10!"

Fights Last Night

(By the Associated Press) CALUMET, Mich.—Billy Petrolle, Fargo, N. D., knocked out Corporal Izzy Kline, Winnipeg, (2). WEST NEW YORK, N. J.—One spectator insisted the Jones had struck a fly-bat. Another said it was a bull-frog. Walter Hagen took Bobby's side of the debate.

CUB DOWNFALL ONLY SURPRIZE WEEKS SERIES

Four Games Lost at Cincinnati Carries Chicagoans Near Foot of National League List.

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. The somewhat incomplete intrasectional play of the major league clubs, which came to a close with yesterday's beginning of a new east-west movement, brought few surprising results in its general emphasis of the fact a good ball club is successful, no matter where the games are played.

The unexpected downfall of the Chicago Cubs and the rise of the Detroit Tigers were the only results which were unforeseen. The Cubs lost a whole four-game series at Cincinnati and wound up near the bottom of the National league list with two victories and five defeats.

The Tigers, smashing out a final victory yesterday, took four of five from the Cleveland Indians after gaining a 3-2 edge over Chicago for a total of seven victories in ten games. The victory put the Tigers ahead of the champion Philadelphia Athletics, and second only to the Washington Senators.

The Chicago White Sox closed their nip and tuck series with the St. Louis Browns in the other American league game, gaining a 5 to 3 decision to take sixth place again by a half-game margin.

The suddenly triumphant Cincinnati Reds defeated the Phillies, 6 to 3. The Pirates slammed three Cardinal pitchers for 16 hits to win the series final, 6 to 2, and divide the six-game set.

GALLANT FOX HAS CHANCE TO UPSET EARNINGS RECORD

ARLINGTON PARK, Chicago, July 12.—(AP)—America's richest three-year-old race purse—the $70,000 added Arlington classic—today furnished an apparently easy start out to the champion three-year-old, Gallant Fox, in his drive for a record as the greatest money winning horse of all time.

Victory in today's mile and a quarter, worth approximately $76,800 to the winner, would bring the earnings of the sensational son of Sir Galahad III-Marguerite to around the $300,000 mark, and within striking distance of the earnings record of the great Zev. And victory today, even with some of the country's best three-year-olds opposing the Fox, seemed assured.

There were a few who thought Gallant Knight, second to the Fox in the Kentucky derby, might head off the champion in his try for a sixth major 1930 stake.

YOUNG FIRPO DOES STRANGE FADEOUT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Guido Bardelli, light heavyweight fighter of Burke, Idaho, more familiarly known as "Young Firpo," had his manager and the Portland boxing commission in a state of excitement today.

Firpo was to have met Nate Brown here next Tuesday in a 10-round header, and was to have fought in San Francisco July 27. Bobby Evans, his manager of a week, says the boxer simply dropped from sight. Evans paid $2500 for him last week. Fred Lenhart of Spokane has been signed to fill Firpo's place on the card here Tuesday.

SHIELDS WILL GO AS PROFESSIONAL GRIDIRON PLAYER

Marshall Shields, former star University of Oregon and Southern Oregon Normal school football player, will play professional football this fall, he announced here this week. Mr. Shields will join the ranks of the New York Giants.

Until the recent meeting of the Pacific coast conference faculty members at Seattle, Shields had hoped to play another season with the University of Oregon eleven. Final action taken at the meeting, however, declared him ineligible for further conference competition.

The question of Shields' eligibility for the season of 1930 was first brought up at the spring meeting of the conference faculty representatives. It was explained that Shields had spent one year at the Southern Oregon Normal school and played football there.

FREBERG SHOULD GIVE BOB KRUSE TERRIFIC BATTLE

John Freberg, Minneapolis Swedish heavyweight grappler who meets Bob Kruse here Monday, is one of the greatest grapplers in the country.

Though one of the heaviest mat experts appearing before the public now, weighing over 220 pounds, so well proportioned is he, that he doesn't appear bulky.

Freberg's speciality is scissors holds. He is as quick on his feet as a cat, and never fails to take advantage of every opening. He has been in the game for more than 10 years as a professional, wrestling in all parts of the country.

When Strangler Lewis held the title, Freberg often tried to get a match with him, but Lewis always turned it down. Freberg came west when he heard that Lewis and Sonnenberg were appearing in this section. He wrestled Lewis one match in Portland. With falls even, in the deciding one the Swede had a mental lapse, turning his back on his opponent for a second, long enough for Lewis to clamp on a hold that resulted in the deciding fall.

Freberg has appeared in a number of Pacific Northwest cities, against the majority of the best men obtainable, and has held his own with all of them. He should give Kruse a terrific battle.

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

Foul checks are all right so far as they go in protecting the fistic customer, but most effective of all measures taken to save boxing from going under for the third time is the radical ruling of the New York State boxing commission that bouts no longer can be won or lost on fouls.

Foul blows will be foul and the perpetrator penalized by loss of the round in which he strikes below the belt, but the gladiator in a New York ring who goes thru all the pantomime of agony and collapse will forthwith be counted out, instead of being given the decision.

Unfortunately this is not retroactive, otherwise such flimsy victories as Phil Scott scored over Otto von Borst, Max Schmeling over Jack Sharkey, could be made null and void.

The ruling should immediately restore the acrobatic artiller, Lou Magnolia, to an A-1 rating as referee. Lou was somewhat severely criticized after the Sharkey-Scott fiasco in Miami for going exactly what the New York solons now have decided is the best thing. Magnolia not only ruled out the foul-claims of the Briton, Scott, but gave Phil the benefit of an extra minute's rest.

Gene Tunney was the first to make the flat statement that a fighter, wearing a proper protector, could not be hurt when struck low.

The former champion declared himself to newspapermen just before the Miami melee. To illustrate he recalled the now famous story of his bout with rough-tough old Chuck Wiggin, who turned to the arbler after being clearly hit low for the third time by Tunney and remarked:

"Say, Mr. Referee, that WAS low!" Whereupon Wiggin went right on fighting, to prove Tunney's additional contention that the game fighter never claims foul anyway.

KRUSE DISABLES GRAPPLING FOE

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 12.—(AP)—Bob Kruse, Portland grappler, defeated Paul Wilkins of Salt Lake City in a feature mat bout here last night when his opponent was unable to continue after having been tossed for a fall in the fifth round. Kruse finished his opponent with a reverse body slam that completely stunned the Utah wrestler.

With Rod and Gun In Rogue Valley

By Ernest Roedel and Dick Green

A natural barrier to fish in the Rogue river, known as Cnfield riffle, some distance below Grants Pass, is due for improvement this summer, if plans announced recently by Ralph Cowgill, are carried through. The riffle causes the greatest trouble when the water reaches its lowest summer-time level, reducing the depth of the river to inches over the barrier.

It is approximately 1800 feet long, crossing the river diagonally and is from two to three hundred feet in width. On August night, the fish can be heard splashing their way over the sand, struggling hard to reach the deeper water on the other side. It is quite a task and the fish are exhausted when the deep water is reached.

Present plans call for the construction of a channel through the sand, where water will be amply deep to allow easy swimming. Wing dams may also be used to raise the water level over the entire obstruction. This year, if the improvement is not made, the riffle will cause more than usual trouble, as the Rogue river is already reported two or three inches lower than last year's mark.

When speaking of the Rogue river improvement work, Mr. Cowgill remarked on work planned for the Sandy river near Portland, where a sand bar is threatening the entrance of fish into that stream. The mouth of the Sandy is in conflict with the Columbia river and the cross-currents have caused a bar. Instead of being moved, plans indicate that an old stream bed of the river will be reopened allowing easy flow into the Columbia.

A boon to catfish and bass in the slough behind Gold Itay dam at Tolo is believed to be possible through the planting of fresh water shrimp. The shrimp are wonderful food for fish and in the past have been found a great help in increasing the size of such fish. The shrimp are not suitable for human food.

Roy Parr, deputy game warden, was in Medford yesterday still expending efforts in the direction of catching game poachers, complaints of whom come more and more frequently from the hills. In the past two or three weeks, he has received quite a number of complaints of deer killing in the hill country, including the death of fawns and does as well as of bucks. He has several suspects under surveillance and it is likely that arrests may soon occur as a result of his sleuthing.

He claims that persons living in the mountains, far back, cause less trouble as poachers than city dwellers, in some cases make regular trips into the hills, kill their deer, mostly for food purposes, but quite often just for the sake of killing. This offense carries a heavy penalty and persons arrested on such charge, can expect no leniency from the game warden or from the courts in which they are ordered to appear.

San Francisco evened the series with Portland, beating Walter Mails challenge, 8 to 6, by breaking up a tight tie game in the eighth.

ANGELS CINCH AT LEAST TIE IN FIRST HALF

Solons Turn On Stars to Advance Within Three Games of Leaders—Oaks Extend Run.

By the Associated Press. Los Angeles was assured of at least a tie for first period honors in the Coast league today, with time rather than game winning giving them that standing.

Sacramento advanced to within three games of the Angels yesterday by turning tables on Hollywood, 13 to 5, Keating doing the mound work for the winners. But with only three games to play, the best the Senators could hope for today was a tie.

Seattle continued an onslaught which made it three games out of four from Los Angeles yesterday, winning, 7 to 5, by a ninth inning rally after two were out. Horne, second pitcher in the league, suffered.

Oakland's run was extended to four straight from the Missions and two successive shutouts as Daglia blanked the Reds, 6 to 0. Higelow, replacing Boone for the first time, got three of the team's six hits.

San Francisco evened the series with Portland, beating Walter Mails challenge, 8 to 6, by breaking up a tight tie game in the eighth.
