What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

Camp Willpen Pines, the Girl Scout camp on the Big Applegate, is now in full swing with twenty girls in attendance for this past week.

Swimming classes are held daily with three groups in each class, the minnows, trout and salmon, or in other words, beginners, junior swimmers and senior swimmers. Miss Marjorie Goff, otherwise known as Neptune, is swimming instructor, and the girls are making rapid progress under her training.

Miss Marjorie Kelly has charge of handicraft, dramatics and archery. Two of the most interesting classes in handicraft this week have been the etched silver bracelets and the soap sculpture. Original designs have been used on nearly all of these, and the ability and cleverness of the girls with these materials is remarkable.

Mrs. Cully, camp director, has a varied and interesting program planned for the three weeks camp period with each week different as to stunts, hikes and surprises.

The girls in attendance this past week were: Carlin Jane Hill, Lois Frazer, Betty Ann Thorndike, Betty Paske, Helen Elizabeth Henson, Virginia Rianna, Mollie Brown, Jessie Helen Cole, Kate Janney, Helen Patton, Joan Scott, Mary Smith, Marie McLaren, Marie McLaren, Corinne Baker, Alice McLaren, Mary Jane Gay, Marie Biles, Amy Plank.

Following is one of the daily accounts from the camp "log" as written by Mary Smith:

Wednesday, July 7th. At 8:30 the whistle blew for all Girl Scouts to jump out of bed and get dressed for the day. Some of us take dips and others take exercises. The dip makes us feel refreshed and ready to enjoy the rest of the day. We are accompanied by Neptune (godness of the sea), our swimming instructor. The exercise teacher, Orion, does very fast exercises and they make the girls feel all ready for work and play. Orion's greatest occupation is archery and she teaches us how to shoot the bow and arrow.

Every day all tents have something different to do. One tent is on P. duty to help the cook, and others do different things to clean up the grounds about camp.

Seven-thirty is breakfast time. Polaris, the name of the north star, is our cook. She is named that because all the others stars rotate around the north star, and all the Girl Scouts and leaders surely rotate around the cook!

About 2:00 is when we have our morning sing. Sirius, our camp director, is song leader. Sirius is the brightest star in the sky.

We are doing some very interesting things in camp such as making bracelets, paper cutters, soap carving, pillows, nature blue-prints, archery and swimming.

At 4:00 after swimming we usually have just crackers and milk but today one of the mothers sent out treats so we had a real party.

At campfire tonight we are going to have individual stunts.

Mrs. Hill Is In Portland

Mrs. George E. Hill of New York, an executive of the National Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild, who was in this city a short time ago to consider with local plant lovers the organization of a chapter here, is spending the week-end in Portland, according to news in the Morning Oregonian.

She will leave Portland later for the north, and will visit other branches of the guild en route to New York City, where she will arrive in time for the national convention to be held in October.

While in Medford Mrs. Hill was the inspiration for considerable entertaining.

Mrs. Cox, mother of Lester Cox, is in this city from Kennewick, Wash., to spend a month as guest of her son.
