KRUSE TAMES TERRIBLE ONE IN HOT MATCH

Oswego Mat Artist Takes Two Fast Falls After Lively Exchange of Kicks and Cuffs.

Barefooted John Freberg, the "Terrible Swede," of Seattle, failed to be as terrible as he was painted and lost two out of three falls at the armory last night to Bob Kruse, the Oswego potato grower, who took the second fall in seven minutes and the deciding fall in 45 seconds, in one of the roughest matches of the local wrestling season.

With the opening of hostilities Freberg kicked his opponent in the stomach and Kruse rushed for the protection of the ropes, climbed back hurriedly and began kicking at Freberg. Following a lively session of this sort, Kruse managed to place a headlock on the Seattle man, but the Swede refused to stay down and rushed Kruse through the ropes and referee Harry Elliott had some difficulty in making the two men break.

Freberg placed a vicious arm stretch on the potato grower who kicked loose and retaliated with a headlock. At the five minute period, Kruse clamped on another headlock only to find himself the victim of a keylock, with Freberg hanging on tenaciously. The Dutch boy broke loose, found the Swede's big toe and began a tug of war. Freberg began kicking at Kruse and the latter rushed out of the ring.

The Swede kicked Kruse in the stomach sending him sprawling under the ropes, where he emitted a groan or two and came back for more. Kruse grabbed a wristlock, one of several he tried with little or no success during the evening, and emphasized it with swift kicks in various sections of Freberg's anatomy.

Freberg Takes Fall.
Freberg grabbed a full Nelson from a standing position, was thrown to the mat with a flying mare and then fell out of the ring. A variety of holds followed and when Freberg tried the third or fourth full Nelson, Kruse threw him to the mat. However, Freberg soon had the advantage with a leg split, taking the fall in 23 minutes.

Bob started the second canto by grabbing the Swede's arm for a series of wristlocks. Freberg took a toe hold and followed it with a double Nelson, but this time Kruse took another flying mare, and sent Freberg crashing to the mat on the base of his neck. Freberg was stunned and lost the fall on a pin hold in 7 1/2 minutes.

The third fall was short and sweet. Almost before the sound of the opening gong had died away, Kruse obtained a standing leg split and administered such punishment that Freberg lost in 45 seconds.

German Heavy Coming.
The winner of last night's event will meet Max Bauer, German heavyweight champion, here a week from Thursday at the armory. Bauer recently staged a great match in Seattle.

Last night's special event of four Australian rounds ended in a draw between Harry Elliott, former University of Oregon wrestling coach, and Young Haekensmidt of Yakima. Elliott took the first fall and lost the second fall in the last round. The men were evenly matched and put up a battle that met with the approval of the crowd. The bout was refereed by Cecil Barrick.

Both bouts were broadcast over KMGD. The Mail Tribune-Virgin station, with H. Fox and H. Gregg at the microphone. Oscar Dunford, as usual, was the time keeper.

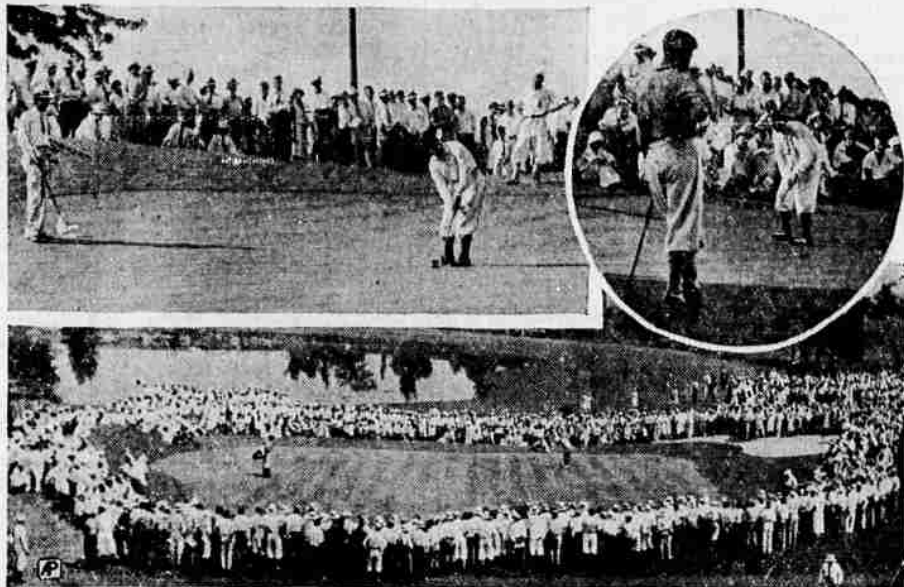

EXPECT HORNSBY READY AUGUST 1

CHICAGO, July 15.—(P)—President William Veeck has taken a final verbal smack at the prophets who have been saying "Rogers Hornsby had played his last baseball for the Cubs."
"It is improbable Hornsby will be available for regular service when he reports to Manager McCarthy a week from Thursday," Veeck said last night. "But we expect him to take over his old job at second base by August 1."
"This ought to end rumors his days with the Cubs are over."
Hornsby returned to Chicago yesterday and planned a workout at Wrigley field today.

With Rod and Gun In Rogue Valley

By Ernest Rostel and Dick Green

Landing by an Ashland angler of a bass that weighed 8 1/2 pounds dressed was reported yesterday by M. Peck, in Medford for several days from the Lake of the Woods resort. The fish is the largest caught there this season and put up a terrific struggle. It bit on a plug. On the west shore of the lake, reported Mr. Peck, who has headed the lake his summer headquarters for years, operating a boat concession, is perhaps the largest bass in the lake. He hooked it once and it made its escape. Another angler did the same and it couldn't be landed. It is thought to weigh at least 10 pounds and has an abundance of fighting spirit.

The lake resort has been attracting quite a number of summer recreationists, most of whom have had their good luck fishing, with bass the popular catch. Other varieties of fish in the lake are not prone to bite. There are Lochleven trout, but all last season Mr. Peck was able to catch only one. Eastern Brook trout have been caught with some regularity and one 20 inches long, weighing over five pounds was caught recently by Mr. Peck. Perch are not so hard to land and take angle worms.

Ralph Fairchild has returned to Medford after spending Sunday fishing at Fish lake and reports the catch of a large fish of unknown identity. The weight he refuses to estimate, but states that it was heavy, long and pugnacious. He has several sore spots on his hand, barked on the side of the boat in the struggle while landing the peculiar fish. His appetite was whetted up to such a degree by the hard work he was unable to resist the temptation to place his catch in the frying pan before returning to this city, so its name will probably remain unknown in angling circles.

Sid Hamilton, Portland Atwater-Kent representative, Harry Lewis, cigar salesman of Portland, John Rollo, Portland drug supply salesman and Bert Craft spent the week end at Diamond lake. While fishing was good for others on the lake, they failed to make the day a success.

Otto Heckert, printer, brought evidence home Sunday evening that trout fishing in the Rogue river is good. He caught 21 trout on a Royal Coachman fly, his favorite lure. He refused to divulge the location of his fishing activities and indicated that he plans to return there several times before the season is over. His luck had been poor until last Sunday. For the past two weeks he would either become snagged or haul in an old shoe.

J. W. Sharp, Klamath Falls, found little difficulty at Lake of the Woods, in catching the limit of perch, fishing less than 20 minutes.

There has been considerable discussion among fishermen concerning the bag limit on crappies, perch, catfish and sunfish. Oregon game and fish laws reveal that the bag limit is 30 fish or 20 pounds and one fish in one day. The season is open the entire year. The season also is never closed for bass, with a bag limit of 30 fish, or 20 pounds and one fish in any one day, and

High School Boys Stage Riot When Barred From Ball Park

CHICAGO, July 15.—(P)—It's no laughing matter when 3,000 high school boys are refused free entry to a ball park, especially when Babe Ruth is one of the attractions, and more particularly when the gates on the same kind of passes held by the unhappy youngsters on the outside.

In such a situation, 3,000 Crane high school students took the only course they could think of yesterday: they started a fair-sized riot at Comiskey park. Fifty police, hurried from a nearby station, were helpless to halt the boys and the storming of the gates continued until the management ordered them admitted.

Then the secret of the trouble came out: A Chicago alderman had provided tickets today for 13,000 boys, but 3,000 of them had not been properly signed by Owner Comiskey.

HELEN TO DASH TRAP SHOOTERS FOR HOME ERE WILL VIE AGAIN NEXT NET PLAY FOR LEFTOVERS

NEW YORK, July 15.—(P)—Her hold on the throne of women's tennis more secure than ever, Helen Wills Moody was back in New York today after a flying trip abroad in which she snared her fourth straight British and third straight French championship.

Arriving from Europe aboard the Majestic yesterday, Queen Helen plans a quick dash home to Berkeley, Cal., before returning to New York to defend her United States title at Forest Hills starting August 18.

To suggestions she was getting ready to retire after winning ten straight major singles titles, Mrs. Moody returned an emphatic denial. "I shall go on playing tennis indefinitely," she remarked.

"It has been a long trip," she added, "but I am eager to be home and plan to leave for California almost at once. I will be back in New York a week in advance of the national championship."

SEATTLE, Wash., July 15.—(P)—Joe Anderson of Covington, Ky., won an eight-round decision over Wesley (K. O.) Ketchell of Salt Lake City in the main event of a boxing show here last night. They battled to a draw in a fight here last month.

The Kentucky saltoper, after taking several of Ketchell's lefts in the opening rounds, came back to win a clear-cut decision over the southpaw by consistently beating him to the punch.

Second Division Team Adds Spice to American Race — Down Yankees in Weird Affair.

By Orlo Robertson
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Chicago White Sox may be struggling along in the second division of the American league but they still have the profitable faculty of doing the unusual at the unusual time to pep up an otherwise drab ball game. They divided a double bill with the New York Yankees yesterday.

The opener went to the Sox 10 to 9 in a long, weird affair that lasted one minute short of three hours while the Yankees took the nightcap—a tame affair compared with the first—by the score of 7 to 2 in two hours and four minutes.

Lon Gehrig featured the Yankees part in the doubleheader, getting his twenty-second home run in the opener and his twenty-third in the second contest.

It took the Athletics eleven innings to defeat the St. Louis Browns but they finally managed to eke out a 9 to 7 decision and increase their lead in the junior circuit to two full games as Washington fell before the ap and coming Detroit Tigers, 8 to 4.

Walter Johnson tied two pitchers against the Tigers but Detroit found the pair for 13 hits to make it three to one for the current series.

Only one game was played in the National league but the Brooklyn Robins increased their lead to three games as they downed the Pirates 12 to 8.
