FOR SALE AT McPherson's

Proved by bursting tests stronger than other overall fabrics. Finer weave (without bulky feel) gives added protection against snagging, grease, oil.

TESTS PROVE GOLD LABEL TWILL strongest

THE FACT that Gold Label Twill, by actual bursting tests, stands a great many more pounds pressure than denims, means it will give much greater wear as well as greater protection against snagging, grease and oil. It is pliable without feeling bulky because it has 32 more threads per square inch.

Gold Label Twill is made in blue overalls, either high or elastic back, and in coats to match. All Can't Bust 'Em Overalls have high bibs, wide non-curling suspenders, form-fitting waist, ample pockets. They have riveted buttons and every strain point is reinforced.

The high back overall is also made in an excellent Express Stripe, extra fine and heavy, with coat to match.
