

FORMER RESIDENT PRAISES MEDFORD AND LAKE RESORT

Things are looking "brightly fine" in Medford, according to Jack Aitken, who is in this city with Mrs. Aitken from San Francisco for a short visit with relatives and friends.

Asked his opinion of conditions here, Mr. Aitken said, "There is no bread line. Things look fine in southern California, there is a hitch hiker for every mile you travel and Howard street, San Francisco, where the employment bureaus are located, now looks like Market street on New Year's eve."

Mr. Aitken, who is a brother of Bill Aitken, was fruit inspector in the Tozme River valley for 19 years, while he made his home in southern California, there is a hitch hiker for every mile you travel and Howard street, San Francisco, where the employment bureaus are located, now looks like Market street on New Year's eve."

PATROL PLANES MAY BASE HERE

Awarding of the contract for patrolling the forests of Oregon and southern Washington has been made to the Portland Airways, which operates off the Swan Island airport.

Most of the long distance patrolling of Oregon and Washington forests will be done in a four-place Stinson junior cabin monoplane equipped with a Lycoming motor. An observer from the forest service will be along on all the trips to check fires.

The base of operations for the present will be the Swan Island airport. When the fires shift in the forests the base may be moved to Medford, Eugene, or any other airport near the danger sectors. The company is subject to call now. Later, however, the planes will be in the air every day over forests.

GREENLEAF ON COPCO HOUR PROGRAM TONITE

"The Melting Pot," Zangwill's famous drama, will be presented by William Lee Greenleaf, well known dramatist and Shakespearean reader, during "Copeo hour" tonight. Mr. Greenleaf, who is visiting the valley for a few days from his home in Santa Rosa, Calif., has built up an enviable reputation for his stage and radio presentations and a large audience is assured for his broadcast.

He last appeared here in a Copeo program featuring an original version of "Rip Van Winkle," a play which he presented in monologue more than 1800 times.

WEDNESDAY CONCERT BY ELKS' LODGE BAND

The band concert will be held Wednesday night of this week in the city park, Wilson F. Watt, director, announced this morning. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock instead of 8:15 and the program will be published in The Mail Tribune tomorrow.

BOY SCOUT CAMP HONORS AWARDED ON CLOSING DAY

With the closing of the first period of scout camp at Lake of the Woods today, awards were made for honor and satisfactory campers at the camp fire last evening, with Newell Elliott of troop 12, Ashland, being chosen as the boy the majority of the boys at camp would prefer to camp with.

Those receiving honor camping awards, which gives them the right to wear an "H" on their sleeve, were Donald Kenyon, Harvey Brannon, T. G. Lindquist, Bob Johnson, Newell Elliott, Wade Hanson, Bob Fowler, Warner Kincaid, and Ben Gohdy. As a part of the closing of camp, a track meet was held Monday with boys acting as officials. The camp was divided into two troops, with about 25 in each. The "Dan Beard" troop was composed chiefly of Crater Lake scouts and the "Molokos" of the Klamath group. The latter was surpassed by 2 to 1.

PRIME FIRSTS UP CENT IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—(AP)—Prime firsts in butter were advanced 1c to 31c the Monday afternoon session of the Portland Produce company today. This leaves a spread of 4c to the next lower grade, firsts being quoted at 27c. Butter extras were firm, with demand fairly good.

The price of butterfat is unchanged at 21c, delivered Portland. Top grade eggs were steady with the demand satisfactory. Hot weather is said to be injuring quality. Fresh meats, beef prices are usually low for all grades. Fresh raspberries are at their peak with the price ranging around $2.25 a crate. Cannery demands are brisk. Green corn from local gardens is more plentiful and prices are slightly lower.

"A PRICELESS GIFT TO ALL HUMANITY"

"In my opinion Sargol is a priceless gift to humanity and I believe it will relieve anyone who suffers like I did."

MRS. JOSEPHINE PRINGLE "For three years I felt tired and worn out and was so restless and nervous I seldom enjoyed sound sleep. Nearly everything I ate disagreed with me, my liver was out of order and I was almost continually bilious with sick headache. Sargol gave me more strength and vitality than I've had in years. My stomach, distress is gone. I'm no longer nervous and I sleep like a tired child. Sargol Pills stimulated my liver to regular action, overcame my constipation and did it without the least nausea or upsetting."—Mrs. Josephine Pringle, Otis Orchard, Wash. Magill Drug Co., agents.
