Hail Stribling as Challenger for Schmeling's Ring Crown

LOGICAL CHOICE AFTER FIASCOS OF BOSTON GOB

Defeat of Scott By Macon Mauler Clears Muddle in Heavyweight Division Is Assertion.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 29.—(AP)—Thomas E. Donohue, chairman of the championship committee of the National Boxing Association, said today he believes Young Stribling has earned the right to challenge Max Schmeling for the world championship.

By disposing of Phil Scott in clean-cut fashion after the muddled bout between the Briton and Jack Sharkey in Miami, Fla., Stribling has done much to clear the air, Donohue declared today.

"Stribling on his showing last night, should be the next opponent for Schmeling," said Donohue. "He certainly is entitled to a shot at the championship ahead of Jack Sharkey, who deserves no consideration at all after the mess he has made of his three chances."

"I am glad Stribling is abandoning his safety first methods. It was the only thing that was holding him back. Otherwise there can be no doubt as to his ability."

LONDON, July 29.—(AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling has tossed aside the caution that used to mar his efforts in the ring and smashed his way once more into the forefront of challengers for the heavyweight championship.

Just five weeks after his sensational one-round knockout of Otto von Porat, lantern-jawed Norwegian, Stribling stormed through the weak defenses of Phil Scott, English champion, in Wimbledon stadium last night, floored the London fireman four times in the first round and knocked him out in the second.

A crowd of 35,000 roared approval of the Georgian's ferocious attack and cheered their fallen workmanlike job of it. The American leaped to the attack with the first bell, never gave Scott a chance to make use of his undoubted boxing skill, flailed away at the Briton's body with an educated left hand and had him groggy and staggering almost before the bout had started.

Graduates and ex-students of Texas Christian university live in 23 states and in five foreign countries, records just compiled show.

GRID SITUATION AT MEDFORD HI HOLDS PROMISE

'Hard Boiled' Burgher, New Coach, and Heavy Athletes Await Season—Junior Hi Stars to Aid.

A "hard-boiled" coach and plenty of hefty material are the football prospects for the Medford high school the coming season. Darwin K. Burgher, former University of Idaho end and basketball star, will arrive the middle of August, and will spend the two weeks before the opening of school in getting acquainted with the outlook and players.

Darwin K. Burgher

Most of the Callison trained athletes departed by graduation last June and the victory complex has been eliminated, so the new mentor will have a new start with practically a new crew.

The junior high school will send up three or four stars, good enough for any high school team in the state. They are Fichtner, a 180-pound lad with aspirations to play tackle, and Gallinsky, a speed merchant, who plays half back. Both are basketball players and were the pride of Ray Henderson, junior high school coach.

Of last year's squad there are Bill Cunningham, tackle; Odd Hughes, end; Young Joe Cave, Wedel, Bowman, and Dick Applegate, a half back, who hurt his legs and was out most of last year. Wilton White, a sturdy youth who has spent the summer in mining and is as hard as the proverbial nail, expects to return this fall and try for a regular berth on the squad. Burgher will have sufficient hands on his squad to at least form a nucleus for a team.

Plans Strict Training
Burgher has already served notice on several prospective football players that he will not tolerate any lax training on their part and that if they play under him they will have to give up the social whirl or their football suits. There will be a curfew for the team.

It is highly probable—but not definitely settled, that southern Oregon fans will have an opportunity of seeing the U. of O. Frosh and O. S. C. Rooks play one of their two games in this city. One of the games will be played October 24, and its place has not been designated. The teams played here last fall and they had an attendance of 5000 people, a better attendance than ever treated the squads in Eugene, Corvallis or in Portland.

HORTON SMITHS CADDY PLAYS IN TOURNAMENT

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—(AP)—Caddying is hardly in keeping with the dignity of a golf champion. Therefore, Horton Smith, professional of Craigton, N. Y., has lost a good caddy for the $10,000 open tournament scheduled for St. Paul August 15-17.

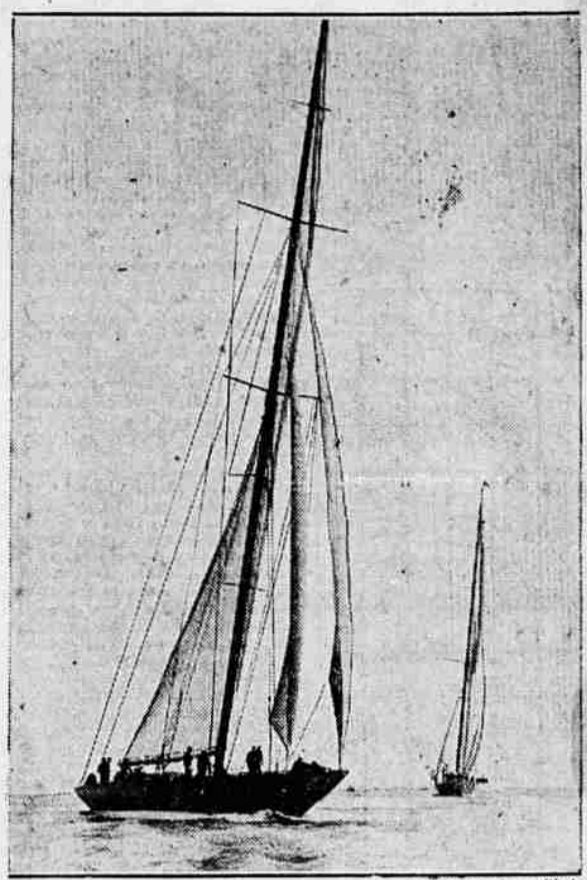

Pat Sawyer, 17-year-old caddy-golfer, won the state amateur tournament at Rochester, Minn., last week. When Smith was at Minneapolis for the national open three weeks ago, young Sawyer promised to caddy for him at the St. Paul open.

TORO'S TURF CAREER ENDED BY BAD LEG

CHICAGO, July 29.—(AP)—Edward B. McLean's Toro, which ruptured the muscles of a foreleg in the Arlington handicap Saturday, probably will race no more.

Trainer John Schoor plans to keep the son of the Porter-Brocotele with him during the rest of the Chicago racing season, after which he will go back to Virginia for stud service.

Gertrude of Channel Fame Now Instructing Swimmers In Boardwalk Pool; Is Deaf

RYE, N. Y., July 29.—(AP)—She teaches swimming in a boardwalk pool, a bronzed young woman with a determined grin.

Unless you raise your voice she cannot hear you and looks at you with an expression that has in it embarrassment, bewilderment, fear and across the back of her bathing suit is lettered:

"What I'd like would be for some one to build a pool and may be name it after me and let me be head instructor there. But I guess it would be pretty hard to get any backing now."

CENTRAL PT. GARAGE DESTROYED BY FIRE

CENTRAL POINT, July 29.—(Special.) Fire of undetermined origin here last night destroyed a small repair garage operated by the Gorman Service Station in the northern part of the city. The building was a mass of flames when the fire was discovered. Efforts of the volunteer fire department to quell the blaze were futile. The loss is believed to entail several hundred dollars.

PASS GOLFERS BEAT ASHLAND IN TEAM PLAY

ASHLAND, Ore., July 29.—(Special.) The beautiful golf course of the Grants Pass Country club was the battle ground Sunday of the second tournament between Ashland and Grants Pass clubbers. Ashland losing 13½ and 43½, or by strokes, 1848 and 1533. It was a hot day and a hot game.

The country clubbers were great hosts, and their lunch on the bank of the Rogue on the site of the future club house, could not be beaten.

S. Hamilton and H. B. Bentley carded low scores of the day, 78 for 18 holes.

Only three Ashland golfers were victors, while Grants Pass returned 13 winners, leaving three ties for ballast.

Ashland won from Grants Pass country clubbers two weeks ago, 41 to 21. The result of Sunday's tournament makes another date necessary. It is probable that this will be fought on a neutral course, probably Medford, some time during August.

NEW TONIC DID WONDERS FOR MY HAIR AND SCALP SHE SAYS

Considerable Dandruff, Itching and Bleeding Scalp and Her Gray Hairs All Vanish After Using Lea's Hair Tonic

ANOTHER LADY SAYS IT IS WONDERFUL

"My scalp was in terrible condition and broken out badly, and considerable dandruff worried me too. Besides that, I had quite a few gray hairs, so I began using Lea's Hair Tonic, and by the time I had used the first bottle my scalp felt much better, and after four months I found my scalp in perfect condition, and all dandruff and gray hairs gone. It is wonderful and I am sending a photo so you can see how nice and beautiful my hair is, thanks to Lea's," writes Mrs. Sabina Vila, 1917-11th Ave., Tampa, Fla.

With Rod and Gun In Rogue Valley

Regarded as one of the best fishing spots in southern Oregon, Blue Canyon, north of Mt. McLoughlin and east of Butte Falls, with its numerous lakes, famed for being success to a party of anglers there last Sunday. The party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Murray, Miss Geneva Hurt and Willie Pruitt, fished all day without as much as reporting a strike. They used flies and also resorted to still fishing, but the wily trout remained hidden in the cold mountain water. The lakes have all been named and the Crater national forest has placed identifying signs at each body of water.

The trip to Blue Canyon is not an easy one. The route leads to Butte Falls on a good auto road, followed by 15 miles of road through the tall timbers, past the Owen-Oregon lumber camps. When the end of the road is reached, a trail of approximately six miles leads to the lake, where only a few Medford people find their way. There are no boats there and rafts, floating lazily on the water, afford the only accommodation for anglers. The rafts make trolling impossible and it is probable that trolling would bring better results. As far as scenery is concerned, the trip to Blue Canyon is hard to equal, but on the other hand mosquitoes cause a problem.

There are two trails, with the one passing by Twin Ponds the favorite one used. The other trail leads by Snowshoe Camp and Mud Spring.

Only one more Sunday and fishing in the Hyatt Prairie dam will be a thing of the past due to the continued sinking of the water level, caused by the consumption of water by the Talent Irrigation district. The water has fallen four feet, and while it has 12 more feet to go, the last twelve does not cover a large area and will probably be quickly consumed. However, when it is gone, there will still be a sufficient amount left, at least five acres feet, to provide for the needs of the many base, perch, crappies and sunfish that afford such good fishing during the season.

August 15 marks the closing of Fish Lake to angling due to the fall of water caused by the needs of the Medford Irrigation district. Storage water in the lake has been practically exhausted and its depth has decreased by 30 feet since the beginning of the irrigation season. However, there were quite a number of fishermen there last Sunday and Deputy Game Warden Roy Parr reported yesterday that they were generally successful.

Hobart Lake in the Greenspring mountains on the road to Klamath Falls had been mentioned so much lately for its fishing possibilities that Maynard Bush and Charles Elliott visited that body of water Monday but came home empty-handed. The lake is two miles off the Greenspring highway and while there may be quite a number of fish in its waters, moon, snags and brush make poor fishing. A muskrat farm is located along its shores and the lake is said to be practically owned by one person.

Trot fishing in the Rogue river is looking up. John E. Ross, a veteran southern Oregon angler and a son of Colonel John E. Ross, Indian fighter, who knew Jackson county when Indians disputed possession with the white men, was down to the Rogue river two or three days ago and caught 12 trout on No. 10 flies in less than an hour. He indicated this was the best he had done for sometime.

Ralph Green, an angler at heart, whenever he can break away from business, was planning to leave this afternoon for the south fork of the Rogue river to spend a day or two. He has heard that fishing is good in that stream and expects to return home with his limit.

PELZ DECISIONS DOLAN IN FAST PORTLAND BOUT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—(AP) Benny Pelz and Mickey Dolan, Portland's flyweight lightweights, staged another furious ten-round bout at the auditorium here last night. This time Pelz was awarded the decision by a narrow margin. Dolan scored the only knockdown of the contest, in the tenth round, when he sank a right cross under the chin. Pelz went to his knees, but was up before Referee Tom Louitt could start a count. Johnny Hanson, the fighting newsboy, scored a knockout over Tiger McElone in the second round.

Eddie Edleman, the Eskimo southpaw, knocked out Soldier Dugatis, Vancouver Barrocks, in the third round.

Tuffy Wink, veteran Albina scrapper, took a hard six-round battle over Joe (Strman) Buffalo. They are junior welterweights.

Johnny Garvey, won a close four-round decision over Johnny Shell in the curtain-raiser.

HEENEY WILL TRY FIGHT COMEBACK

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP) Tom Heenev, brawny New Zealand blacksmith, strikes the comeback trail tonight in a ten round bout with Gerald (Tuffy) Griffiths, heavy punching youngster from Sioux City, Iowa. They battle over the ten round route at the Queensboro stadium.

Unless he wins or makes a good showing the bout may mark the end of Heenev's career, for the New Zealander has shown little since his terrific lacing at the hands of Gene Tunney here two years ago.

THURSTON AIDS ROBINSON CLAN WITH BOX WORK

Braves Held to Two Hits in Brilliant Hurling Exhibition—Cubs Gain a Half Game.

By Orlo Robertson Associated Press Sports Writer

Back up to the majors for his second trial, Hollis Thurston, age 21, has strengthened the National league pennant hopes of Manager Wilbert Robinson and his Brooklyn Robins.

With Dazzy Vance pitching only mediocre ball and the Robins badly in need of a good right hander, Thurston apparently has relieved "Uncle Bobby" of one less worry as the Robins continue to show the way in the hectic senior circuit race.

Yesterday he opened his third game of the season against the Braves and turned in a brilliant exhibition, yielding only two hits and no runs. Just 29 men faced the Brooklyn hurler. Needless to say the Robins won by 2 to 0.

Terry Impresses

Just as impressive, but in another style was the performance of Bill Terry in the Giants 5 to 4 victory over the Phillies. The big first baseman's activities included two home runs, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly, which drove in the winning run in the ninth.

Although the Robins won, the Cubs gained a half game on their rivals by taking a double header from the Cincinnati Reds. The score of the first game was 3 to 2 and the nightcap 5 to 3.

The Athletics and Yankees renewed their American league argument at Philadelphia with the champions taking a 6 to 5 decision in 12 innings.
