

FINAL TOUCHES PUT ON FOR BIG AIR DEDICATION

Air Field Being Decorated Today for Monday's Celebration—Final Meeting of Committees Tonight—Programs Out.

Medford's $120,000 airport is being marked today for parking of autos and planes, which will visit the field Monday in the celebration to be sponsored by Medford Post, No. 15, American Legion honoring the arrival here of the Pacific Northwest Air Tour and official dedication of the airport. The hangar building is being decorated with flags and footcans in preparation for the program and dedication hall, which will climax the day's celebration.

W. H. McInch, chairman of the hospitality committee, is contacting all members of his group to complete plans for entertaining the fliers while they are not entertaining the public.

Souvenir programs with attractive colored covers have been printed by the Medford Printing company for the event.

Final details of the celebration will be completed tonight and the following day spent anticipating the arrival of the fleet from the north Monday afternoon, which will mark the opening of the air circus, outstanding event of the day's program.

Considerable interest is being shown in the special air mail shipments which will be dispatched from the Medford airport over the lines of the Pacific Air Transport on Monday morning on the occasion of the dedication flight from the Medford airport. A special air mail cachet is being applied to all letters leaving on these flights by the Medford Chamber of Commerce, and Medford residents wishing to send air mail letters to their friends are asked to drop letters in the box in front of the Chamber of Commerce building as those mailed at the post office will not be given the special stamp.

On the occasion of the first flight from the new field, last October, a total of over 17,000 letters were mailed and given special cachet markings by the local chamber. Those letters were sent all over the country, many of them going to stamp collectors who are interested in air mail stamps.

About 6000 such letters have already been received by the chamber or dispatched on the Dedication Flight, and it is expected that those mailed locally will increase this number to at least 10,000.

Woman 70 Years Old Runs Street Car to Dead Heat, Lives

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Mrs. Lucy Vorbeck is 70 but she can still spring—for a block at least.

As she alighted from a street car, her hand was caught in an automatic door. The trolley started and Mrs. Vorbeck had to run after it or be dragged. She elected to run.

The car went a block before her cries attracted the motorman's attention. Mrs. Vorbeck was out of breath but unhurt.

OREGON RULES OUT LOGAN AND BRYAN

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Mark D. McCallister, state corporation commissioner, today denied to Logan & Bryan, New York brokers and members of the New York stock exchange, a permit to operate in Oregon because of the firm's former connection with the defunct Portland brokerage house of Overbeck & Cooke. The failure of Overbeck & Cooke in January, 1928, caused losses to customers estimated by McCallister at over $1,000,000 and resulted in penitentiary sentences for James P. Cooke, president and C. A. Goodwin, another associate of the concern. The Portland firm was correspondent for Logan & Bryan. The New York firm applied for an Oregon permit about three weeks ago.

LOCAL APARTMENT HOUSE IS ROBBED

Personal property, valued at several hundred dollars, was stolen last night from Floyd Meeker, 12 Fairchild and E. L. Dieter when thieves entered their duplex apartment, 502 Palm street. The house had been left unlocked yesterday morning and Meeker and Fairchild did not return until 10 o'clock last night.

Upon their arrival, the theft was discovered. Two suspicious appearing characters were seen on the premises by a neighbor, Otto Hecker, at 8 o'clock last evening, but he could give no description of them today. The police are working on the case.

RUSSIAN EMBARGO ORDER MODIFIED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary Lowman today modified the treasury order forbidding imports of Russian pulpwood. Lowman ordered admitted cargoes of pulpwood which have already arrived in this country, those on the high seas and those already loaded at Archangel.

In all, the order affects less than 20 vessels.

The pulpwood had been barred from this country under a section of the tariff act which prohibits importation of merchandise produced wholly or in part in any foreign country by convict labor.

NORTHERN PACIFIC OFFICIAL DROPS DEAD

SEATTLE, Aug. 2.—(AP)—T. H. Lantry, general manager of the western department of the Northern Pacific railroad, dropped dead here today.

Colonel Lantry had just returned from an official trip to Spokane and had told his secretary, George W. Lew, the night before the heart in eastern Washington had made him feel slightly depressed. The fatal heart attack occurred in a hotel coffee shop where Lantry had gone for breakfast.

He had been an employee of the Northern Pacific for thirty years.

BABE RUTH AND GEHRIG HOT ON TRAIL OF A'S

Home Run Leaders May Put Yanks in Lead Before Season Ends—Only Nine Games Behind.

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

With Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig going like a conflagration, the New York Yankees are looking more and more like the real threat to the supremacy of the Philadelphia Athletics in the American league pennant struggle.

The A's still have a commanding lead of eight games ahead of the Washington and nine ahead of the Yankees, despite the loss of a half game to the New Yorkers through their idleness yesterday, but 53 games remain for each team and a lot can happen in that number of contests.

It can happen especially when the Yankee slugger is hitting the high notes, and Ruth and Gehrig have been doing just that in the last few days. The Babe clouted two home runs yesterday after a lapse of more than a week since his last previous four-bagger. They served to win a ball game from the Boston Red Sox, providing three of the Yankee runs in a 4 to 1 victory.

They also put the Babe 16 days and 12 games ahead of his record pace of 1927 when he reached his present total of 38 on August 17 in the 116th game of the season.

The Yankee could not, however, gain on the teams that are pursuing them. Cleveland, in fourth place, and Detroit, in fifth, each won, and held their spots. The Indians got the jump on the St. Louis Browns by kicking Holland Stiles for two runs in the first inning and held their margin to win 6 to 3. Detroit hammered Dutch Henry around to inflict on him his 15th defeat of the year as Earl Whitehill held Chicago in check. The score was 12 to 4, with the Tigers' 17 hits turning the trick.

The National league race went along without change except that the Pittsburgh Pirates, after a brief day in a tie for fourth place, were sent back to the second division. The Pirates went down before the Chicago Cubs, 10 to 7, despite a game rally in the middle of the game.

The St. Louis Cardinals again became the only club in fourth place by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds, 10 to 1, with Wild Bill Hallahan hurling a four-hit game.

Brooklyn held its two-game margin over the Cubs by resuming the old pastime of slugging the Phillies from pillar to post, ending the afternoon with 15 hits and a 9 to 4 victory.

The New York Giants and Boston Braves did the heaviest hitting of the day and due to Freddy Lindstrom, the Giants made their hit count for a 10 to 4 triumph, their fifth straight. Lindy hit two home runs, a double and a single and accounted for six of the runs. The winners made 17 hits while Pete Donohue gave the Braves 16, 20 vessels.

With Rod and Gun In Rogue Valley

A new summer home that would cost many thousands of dollars will be constructed on the Rogue river by Eli H. Well, San Francisco, president of the Buckingham-Hoeltz company, that official, now fishing in the river, has indicated if the river is closed to commercial fishing when the matter comes up for a vote next November. Mr. Well has traveled extensively throughout the northwest and has found no section as adaptable to his needs as the Rogue River valley. He has been spending several days here following his favorite avocation of angling and has been meeting fair success. Indications are that other wealthy Californians are also contemplating making southern Oregon their fishing headquarters if the proposed river closing becomes a reality.

Since the peak of the fishing season has been passed, the sale of tackle is showing a decrease, local sporting goods stores report and quite a number are already looking forward to the hunting season, opening September 15. Fishing continues to be good at the Lake of the Woods where almost any angler trying his luck is rewarded with a good catch. Diamond lake is fair and is expected to be much better in a short time when vegetation on the bottom disappears. The black grout flies are regarded as the best for lake fishing and huckle flies as the most successful in the river, in which fish are not biting as good as usual for this time of the year.

The old saying that "There is nothing new under the sun" is in a position to be disproved in the Crater Lake national park, where a strange fish story came to light this week. Two enthusiastic followers of Isaac Walton were whipping Munsion creek for elusive trout. One line floated under some logs in the stream over which the water gurgled and rippled. The well known tug on the line gave evidence of a bite, but the usual fisherman's joy turned to amazement when the line straightened, not in the water, but high in the air, a bird attached to the end. With a snap the line returned to the astonished anglers and the bird continued its flight. A water ouzel, well known for its feeding habits in the water, noted the bait as it stood on a log and then darted through the water and seized the tidbit.

Jim Dinkens has had several visitors up at his place in the Evans creek country this season. Some stayed several days and others a week or so to see wild life in the mountains. They wanted to see the deer come down and feed and possibly gain a glimpse of the wild turkeys that were released there sometime ago. Most of the visitors left with their ambition unfulfilled. Jim was proud of his surrounding country because of the apparent absence of snakes and he has not noticed one for years. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cone arrived from Pasadena, Cal., to pay him a visit and the first day they spent at the Dinkens ranch they saw two rattlesnakes, one of which was killed, and on the second day, they saw quite a number of deer that had come down to the lowlands to feed. Seeing the deer and hearing and seeing young wild game birds so impressed the California couple that they plan to return to southern Oregon in a few months and purchase property. It will presumably be in the neighborhood of the Dinkens ranch, where Mr. Cone, a Pasadena newspaperman, expects hunting will be ideal and residence in the forest country conducive to long life and good health. Jim Dinkens almost left his mountain fastness a few weeks ago to go south, but he could not break away from his old haunts and the creatures of the woodland. He indicated yesterday that he will attempt to go south this winter and spend a time at Bakersfield in southern California.

JIM JEFFRIES PROTEGE SHOWS HE HAS PUNCH

Al Morro, Burbank Heavy, Upsets Dope by Giving Emanuel a Beating—Only Inexperience Halts K. O.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Al Morro, hard-hitting Burbank, Cal., protege of Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight king, today had sprung into the front ranks of California's heavyweights through his sensational 10-round victory here last night over Armand Emanuel, San Francisco barber-boxer.

Fighting an even battle up to the fifth round against his heavily favored opponent, Morro penetrated Emanuel's defense in the half-way round to take a lead that was increased steadily as the fight went on. Smashing lefts and rights to the head closed one of Emanuel's eyes in the fifth and at the final bell the San Franciscan was in a bad way. Ring-siders opined only Morro's comparative inexperience saved Emanuel from a knockout. The victor had fought professionally only once before, when he won an easy decision over Tony Staineau, veteran Hollywood trial horse.

Morro's victory was a clean-cut surprise. Emanuel had been picked to easily defeat his green opponent and only the veteran, Jeffries, had any hopes his protege would make a good showing. The youngster plainly showed the careful coaching he has received from Jeffries, hitting well with both hands and fighting a heavy battle. He waited patiently for openings and moved quickly to the attack when they were apparent.

SPORTSMEN ASK GOV. NORBLAD TO AID HUNTERS

PORTLAND, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Sportsmen, timber owners and forestry officials requested Governor Norblad today to issue a statement to the effect the hunting season would not be postponed beyond October 1, provided it is found necessary as a fire emergency to suspend the opening set for September 15.

Governor Norblad, who was present at the meeting called by S. A. Wilson, chairman of the forestry committee of the chamber of commerce, said in case it became evident the fire hazard would be critical he would give notice of any intended closing order as early as possible.

Assurance was given by representatives of the regional forest service that no general closing order would be continued after October 1 so far as the federal forest service was concerned.

CHATHAM, N. J., Aug. 2.—(AP)—Addison H. Day, champion competitor of these parts, has started his 32nd year as a daily train passenger.

7 LAW VIOLATORS HELD FOR TRIAL IN JUSTICE COURT

Alleged burglary, game law violation and destruction of property cases came up for arraignment in Judge Taylor's court this forenoon, most of which were continued to future dates for a hearing.

John C. Smith, George Newman and Harry Trent, transient youths of from 19 to 21, charged with burglary not in a dwelling, for the burglary of the Humphrey grocery on East Main street one night recently, waived examination and were found over to the grand jury under bail of $1000 each, which they were unable to furnish.

On two charges, one of having fresh deer meat in his possession on July 19th last, and the other of mutilating the carcass of a deer to disguise the sex, George Laidley, timber cruiser of Medford, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for August 20.

Sam McKay and George Stovall, charged with malicious and wanton destruction of property, when arraigned demanded a preliminary examination, the hearing of which was then set for August 5, and the bail of each was set at $250. The alleged crime is that to obtain possession of a boat belonging to T. H. Pankey and in dock at the Rogue river near the mouth of Bear creek some time ago. That is they shot the lock off with a revolver.

NINETY THOUSAND CRATER VISITORS SET NEW RECORD

CRATER LAKE, Ore., Aug. 2. (Special)—Twenty-nine thousand automobiles have already entered Crater Lake National Park since the opening of the 1930 season. This is almost double the travel registered here at the corresponding date of last year. Every state in the Union is represented by the license plates on these 29,000 cars as well as Canada and Alaska and a few carried European license plates.

Some of the 90,000 visitors that have come to the park during the same period, came from still farther afield than did the cars— from not only Great Britain and South American countries, but also from Japan, from China, from India, from Africa, from Syria.
