

NEW RATES PERMITTED ON GARBAGE

Residence Charge Is Unchanged—Business Area Pays Increase, According to Amount of Refuse Estimated in Schedule.

A revision of the schedule of rates for the collection and hauling of garbage, which makes no change in the $1 charge for dwellings in the residence districts, but permits the City Sanitary Service to increase the charge in the business district, so as to make the latter more equitable than heretofore, was unanimously adopted by the city council last night, after the special committee had studied the subject for months, in cooperation with the business men's committee and Manager Jones of the City Garbage company.

The new rates charge a minimum of $3 per month for six-day service in the business district and a maximum all the way up to $15, according to the amount of refuse and garbage handled, and gives the garbage company the right to bargain individually with each hotel and restaurant.

A supplementary schedule of rates for various classes of businesses, which had not been classified before, was also adopted.

The new schedule still leaves the garbage collection and hauling rates for Medford's business district lower than other cities of its size in the state, and is a compromise with the garbage company, which had requested that the charge be made on the cubic yard basis. The compromise gives the company only about half of the increase asked for.

The new schedule of rates is as follows:

PIONEER BUSINESS MAN, W. H. MEEKER CALLED BY DEATH

W. H. Meeker, a resident and business man of Medford for nearly 40 years, died at his home on North Bartlett street at 11:45 p. m. Tuesday. Mr. Meeker has been in failing health for several years and his passing was not unexpected. He was born at McDonough, N. Y., August 25, 1855, aged 74 years, 11 months and 10 days.

When a small boy he came west with his parents and settled in Illinois, where he grew to manhood and was married to Clara Brown, who survives. They then moved to Mansion, Iowa, where they resided until coming to Oregon in 1892 and the following year Mr. Meeker entered the mercantile business and was the founder of the present M. M. Department Store.

He had been a lay member of the Methodist church and enjoyed a wide acquaintance throughout the county.

Besides his wife he leaves one son, C. A. Meeker of this city, and two sisters, Hattie Shaddock of Portland and Ella Anderson of Medford.

Funeral services will be held at the First M. E. church at 2:30 Friday. Rev. A. G. Bennett will conduct the services, assisted by Rev. Bellnap. Entombment will be in Medford mausoleum. Conger Funeral Parlor in charge of arrangements.

GUGGENHEIM IS BACKER OF SKY ROCKET TESTS

Prof. Goddard Expects to Send Missile to Height of 75 Miles—Take Air Samples.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Experiments in shooting rockets to extreme altitudes, financed by Daniel Guggenheim, will be carried on by Prof. Robert H. Goddard of Clark university, Worcester, Mass., at Roswell, N. M. That site was selected because of favorable atmospheric conditions.

Prof. Goddard has been conducting rocket experiments since 1912 with the aid of the Smithsonian Institution, Clark university and the Carnegie Institute. Guggenheim recently made a grant to permit further work.

At Roswell, small rockets will be sent up first and finally one capable of ascending from 50 to 75 miles will be sent up by gas propulsion and with parachutes to regulate the speed of the return to earth. The rockets will carry thermometers, barometers, electrical measuring apparatus, air traps to collect samples of air at various altitudes and other instruments.

Pending completion of preparatory work it cannot be announced how soon the work at Roswell will begin.
