MANN'S ARRANGES FINE FUR DISPLAY SHELBY SHOWING FINE DEER HEAD

As a special feature of Christmas week, just two days in advance of the glorious holiday, Mann's Department store will bring to Medford shoppers an opportunity to buy the supreme gift for ladies, furs and fur creations. It was announced this morning that John F. Everett, representing Benloff Bros., one of the oldest and most reliable fur dealers in America, will be at Mann's store next Tuesday and Wednesday, December 23 and 24. He will bring with him a wonderful selection of fur coats and scarves, which will make beautiful Christmas gifts.

L. M. Shelby, well known sportsman of this city, brought a mounted deer head to The Mail Tribune office today, which was a beauty, and aroused enthusiastic comments from the snipe and fish editor, as well as other members of the staff. Mr. Shelby shot the deer near Shakes Butte, Klamath county, this fall when hunting with Clarence Ends, his frequent hunting companion. It was a mule deer about 250 pounds, the head and arrangement of the antlers being particularly symmetrical.

City Prison Attracts Lodgers

The cold weather last night caused over ten wandering transients to take advantage of the warmth of the city prison. Five men arrived at the police station in one group and were released this morning with advice that there is no work in Medford and that they should continue their journey out of the city. The prison has accommodations for only four prisoners, but the transients overlook this inconvenience as long as they are sheltered.
