DEPEND UPON charming Constance Bennett, above, of the movies, to present a striking appearance in fashion's newest creations. She is shown here in a new ensemble, a feature of which is the high, fur-trimmed collar.

CROONING CHRISTMAS CAROLS, these young singers are shown above in a setting as picturesque as a rare old print, as they serenaded on the steps of the Anne Hathaway cottage, near Stratford-on-Avon, in England. Anne, you recall, became the wife of William Shakespeare.

GIRLS WILL BE BOYS, especially when students at Wellesley college, Wellesley, Mass., need to fill male roles for their annual play. In the cast of "Enter Madame" are Mrs. Norma H. Farber, above, of Wellesley; Helene Hirsch, center, of Portland, Ore., and Alice Habberton, below, of New York City.

RUSSIA CELEBRATES A BIRTHDAY—Here is a view of part of the crowd of more than 500,000 Communists who gathered in Red Square, Moscow, recently, to celebrate the 13th anniversary of the founding of the Soviet Union. At the time this picture was taken a detachment of troops was giving an exhibition of maneuvers.

SO QUIET AND RESTFUL IS THIS SCENE that you might easily take it for a spot in some rural suburb. But this photo was taken on the bridge of St. James Park, London, in the dusk of an autumn afternoon and shows strollers feeding hungry swans and gulls.

RECOGNIZE HER?—Well, this is little Barbara Joan Johnson, four-year-old daughter of Walter Johnson, manager of the Washington Senators. Barbara lives at Alta Vista, Md.

HE BELONGS to the Tuscarora tribe, but Romeo Greene, above, goes around with another band now. Romeo, a full-blooded Indian, plays first trombone with a radio orchestra.

THEY'RE SELF-SUPPORTING AND PROUD OF IT—They didn't have any pedigree or social ranking to speak of, but these pups won prizes at the S. P. C. A. dog show held recently in Philadelphia. Left to right are Rags, Lu Lu Montana and Queeny.

AN EXCELLENT EXAMPLE OF SYMMETRY IN ARCHITECTURE is the Capitol building at Madison, Wis., shown above in a striking scene from the air. The original state house was partially destroyed by fire in 1904 and in its stead this magnificent structure was erected at a cost of $7,000,000.
