ELLES SONT PLUS BELLES, N'EST-CE-PAS?—These high-spirited French made-moiselles, attired in sailor costume, are shown as they marched arm in arm through Paris streets during the annual St. Catherine's Day parade, a day when "old maids" search for mates.

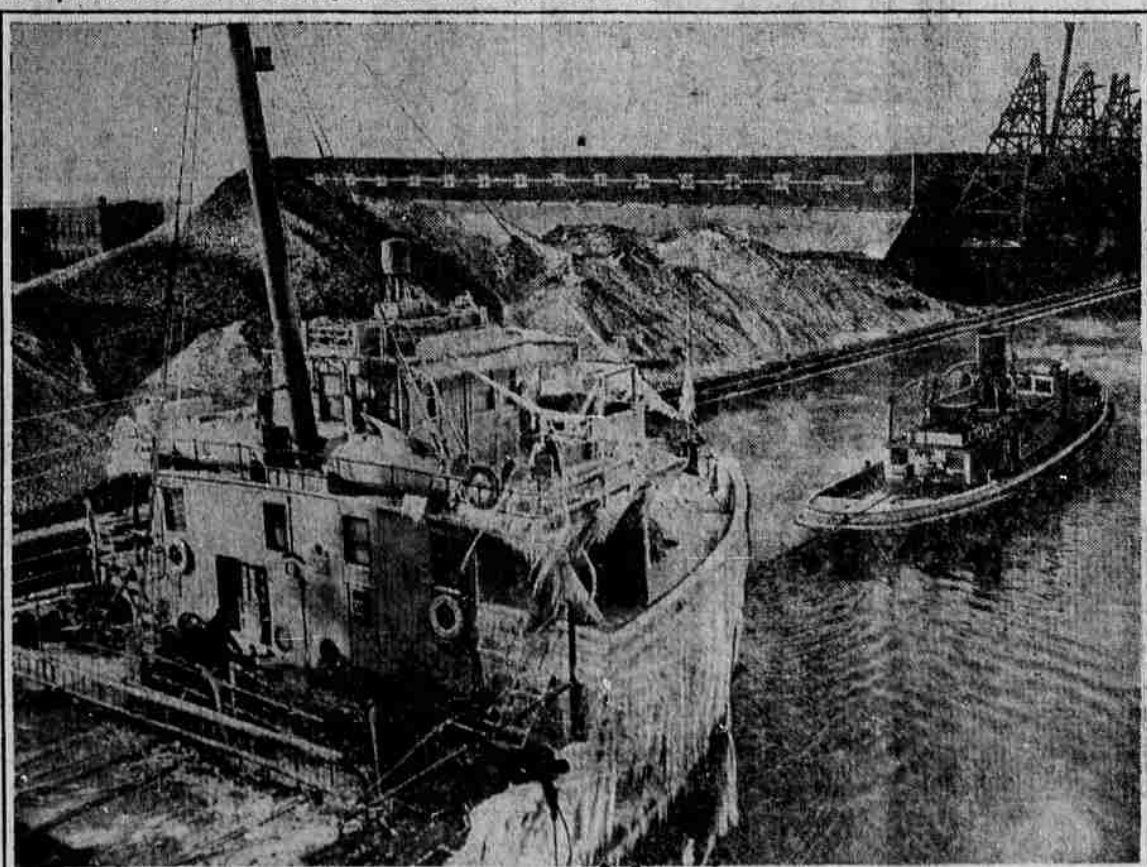

LIKE THE VORTEX OF A WHIRLPOOL is this interesting photo of this modern, main stairway of the French liner Ile de France. The view is from the top looking down. Notice the figures at the bottom of the staircase.

IF YOU WERE KEEN ON ADVENTURE 215,000,000 YEARS AGO, you'd probably seek out a quiet lagoon like this and battle a bevy of monsters as those shown above. In this painting by C. R. Knight, which is to be installed in the E. R. Graham Hall in the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago, a group of lizard-like reptiles is pictured at the left, and a family of vicious fin-back reptiles at the right. Both species, of course, are now extinct.

A STITCH IN her side has Janet Gaynor, above, but it's not from laughing this time. The demure movie favorite is shown here in a gay mood as she left San Francisco for Honolulu where she recently underwent a successful operation for appendicitis.

HER HULL HIDDEN IN A MASS OF ICICLES, the freighter Pioneer, above, presented a picturesque sight as she nosed her way to her dock on the Milwaukee River after a stormy trip through Lake Michigan. She carried more than 9000 tons of coal on her trip.

SUPERIOR in rank and in good looks, too, is lovely Alice Jean Dysart, above, who has just been elected battalion sponsor of the R. O. T. C. at Ripon College, Ripon, Wis. Jean is a senior and an honor student.

DEBUTANTE in Washington society this season is Miss Adele Townsend Jahneke, above, charming daughter of assistant secretary of the navy and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahneke.

THE TERRIER FAMILY did itself right proud at the Ladies' Kennel Club show in London recently when these exquisites walked off with the honors. "Huckleberry Humbug," top, wire-haired fox terrier, the Border terrier, "Staple Martin" and "Greatmeo Leo," center, and little "Baleon Jinks," below, all won first prizes.
