

TEARS FALL ON BIER OF FRENCHMAN

Thousands View Body of Joffre Lying in Simple State — Comrades of War Show Emotion in Final Honor to Hero of Marne.

By Adelaide Kerr, Associated Press Writer.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Men who fought with Marshal Joffre at the Marne and obtained a badge of honor there, and others who live the lives they do today because that battle was fought and won, today passed in sad single file past the bier of the savior of France.

There was audible, visible weeping as the thousands, crushed close together outside the Ecole Militaire until 9 o'clock, lined in to take their final glance at the body of Marshal Joffre, the former French commander-in-chief, laid out on a camp bed in the chapel of the old military academy.

Hands folded and holding a crucifix, sword resting on his black blue cape over his feet, and wearing a single decoration, the French military medal, the body of the marshal was laid out with all the simplicity which has marked his career from the days of the victory at Tannenberg to death Saturday in the little room of the hospital St. Jean de Dieu.

The body is clad in the loose black coat and obsolete red breeches of a colonial general officer of division, which was the rank Joffre held at the battle of the Marne. On 19 pillows, placed about the simple casket and his other 18 decorations and honors. At each corner of the bed there stands an officer at attention. At the head another sub-officer, while at each corner of the catafalque there is a mortar, emblematic of trench warfare.

Emotion Shown.
The crowd which has lined past the body today seems most unstrained; hands have been clenched, tears shed unashamed, and young, aridized men have uttered sob as pitiful as those of children. Among them have been men with patches on their eyes, some on crutches, some on wooden legs, others without arms and many more showing the traces of other wartime wounds.

The line will continue to pass before the bier until perhaps 10 o'clock tonight, and will be resumed tomorrow. Wednesday at dawn the body will be taken out for a dual religious and state funeral, which will differ in only a few details from that of Marshal Foch, who preceded him nearly two years to the grave. From the Ecole Militaire the body will go to Notre Dame for the requiem of the church, from there to stop for a moment beneath the Arc de Triomphe, and then on to the Invalides where it will be placed temporarily in the sacristy not far from the tomb of Napoleon.

ate and early today the fire bureau had responded to 50 chimney fire calls. In many sections of the city large signs were torn loose and both pedestrians and motorists were endangered.

A 50-mile gale was blowing across the Portland airport and no ships could leave the port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Rain swept in on San Francisco early today and the steady downpour was expected to spread over most of California. Storm warnings were posted along the coast from San Francisco to Cape Flattery.

GHANTS PASS, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—A steady rain was falling here today, accompanied by a southwest wind. The temperature was mild.

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Eugene residents were awakened during the night by a 32-mile wind which tore limbs from trees, rattled doors and windows and threatened signs, but did no great damage. A driving rain accompanied the blow.

THE DALLES, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The weather was clear here today, following a half-inch of rain yesterday. A blizzard melted three inches of snow and saturated orchards and wheat fields.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—A 48-hour drought brought 1.72 inches of rain to Coos Bay. All rivers are high, and the bottom lands are covered with logs coming down in the county's heaviest log drive of the season.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 5.—A wind so strong automobile driving was difficult, hit this section of the state today. The barometer predicted more gales and snow flurries, prevalent since late last night. The wind brought wet snow which melted as it fell. The lowest temperature was barely at the freezing point.

Drewsey—Formal opening held for new Grange hall.

JUDGE CAMPBELL ASSUMES ROBES

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Judge J. U. Campbell of Oregon City today became a justice of the state supreme court. He succeeds Justice O. P. Coshow whom Campbell defeated in the November election.

Coshow was appointed by Governor Pierce to fill a vacancy, was later elected for a six-year term and during the last two years has served as chief justice. His home before coming to Salem was in Romeburg, but he has formed a law partnership in Portland with Jay H. Stockman.

SALEM TO BE HOST TO 13 CONVENTIONS

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Salem chamber of commerce has secured 13 conventions for this city for this year. The latest to be scheduled is the Oregon Cooperative council, which will meet January 27 and 28. The organization is a group of agencies devoted to cooperative marketing.

ASKS FUND TO DIVERT KLAMATH FALLS DITCH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Senator Steiwer, Republican, Oregon introduced a bill today to appropriate $200,000 for construction of a canal to divert the main canal of the Klamath project in the city of Klamath Falls, Oregon.

PLANE HITS PINE IN FOG THREE DEAD

Engine Buried Beside Shattered Tree—Farmer Hears Crash Mile Distant—Machine Was Seen Flying Low Before Accident.

OVERTON, Texas, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A dense fog was blamed today for the loss of three lives yesterday in the crash of an airplane against a forest pine.

The mist veiled treetop brought death to H. Addison Nover, 26, of Kansas City, pilot; Tom Holcomb, 20, of Midland, Texas, a student flier, and Horace F. Clark, 26, president of the United Guaranty Securities company of Dallas.

Torn loose by the impact, the plane's engine was buried beside the shattered tree. T. C. Bradberry, farmer, reported the crash could be heard a mile distant. He said he had seen the plane banking low in the fog as though seeking a landing place.

The party was returning from Shreveport, La., to Dallas.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The wreckage of a monoplane which carried three men to their deaths in a roaring power dive was the subject of an investigation here today by a department of commerce inspector.

The plane had been taken skyward for the final tests for cross-country races at Miami, Fla. Observers at the airport saw a square of fabric rip from the upper surface of the left wing. Then the plane went into a crazy twisting spin and crashed to earth.

The dead, all of whom lived here, were: Winston L. Hyatt, pilot of the plane, and operator of an airplane service; Leroy Reimer, a pilot; Harold E. Payne, a mechanical dentist.

COAST CANNERS OPEN CONCLAVE

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Oregon, Washington and Idaho fruit and vegetable canners who last year packed about $35,000,000 worth of canned goods, met here today for the three-day, 17th annual convention of the Northwest Cannery association.

With them, the Northwest Fruit Bearers' association, which packed about $5,000,000 worth of frozen fruits and vegetables in 1930, met in annual conference.

The cutting demonstration, which for years has been a feature of the convention, will be held tomorrow.

AIRWAY LIGHTING ACROSS COUNTRY NEAR COMPLETION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal lighting in the eastern section of the mid-transcontinental airway has won a race against winter.

Major work has been completed in stretching a lighted path to guide aviators from New York to the Pacific southwest.

The route from New York to Philadelphia is lighted; work between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh has been completed; while the newest link in the chain, from Pittsburgh to Columbus, is nearing completion.

Lights are in operation between Columbus and Indianapolis; and the strip between Indianapolis and St. Louis is ready for final inspection; and the stretches between St. Louis, Kansas City and Waynesville, Okla., are already lighted.

The final link, from north of Waynesville to Amarillo, Albuquerque and Los Angeles, is being surveyed.

Olympics Hostess

Peggy Hamilton, who was hostess to the Prince of Wales aboard the Berengaria shortly after her presentation to the British court, has been appointed official hostess for the 1932 Olympic games in Los Angeles.

MUSICIAN CITES UNWRITTEN LAW AFTER TRAGEDY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Frank Hugo, 35, a vaudeville musician, who confessed to shooting his wife and a man he suspected of being her lover, Saturday, claimed the protection of the unwritten law today, while police investigated the double slaying which resulted in the arrest of Hugo and a friend, John Duen, 33.

Hugo's wife, Mrs. Rina Hugo, 28, mother of two small children, and Louis White, 30, a friend of the Hugo family, were shot to death in the Hugo home Saturday night.

After the shooting Hugo summoned police and told them he had trapped the pair and had killed his wife for being unfaithful and White for violating the sanctity of his home.

He said Duen, arrested with him had aided in the shooting by crawling through a bedroom window and frisking Mrs. Hugo and White into a hallway where Hugo waited with a pistol. The bodies were found by police in the hallway.

Hugo said he had long suspected his wife and trusted friend, White, of intimacy and had set a trap for them by telling Mrs. Hugo he was going to be out of the city all Saturday night.

Albany—Verne Engstrom and Clifton Parker will construct up-to-date service station at corner of First and Washington streets.

Home Building Gain Viewed As Presaging Better Times

NEW YORK (AP)—Continuous improvement in the volume of residential construction offers substantial warrant for hope that the nation is on its way out of depression and working toward normalcy.

Such is the opinion of Clarence Woolley, chairman of the board of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation.

"The construction industry," says Mr. Woolley, "is the largest in the country. Its normal volume is eight billion dollars a year and, directly or indirectly, it employs four million workmen. For 23 months the volume of residential construction continuously declined. Under normal conditions, it has in the past exceeded the value of nonresidential construction."

"Its importance to general business cannot be over-estimated. The housing of 500,000 families yearly is of far greater importance than construction of less than 50,000 buildings for a great variety of other purposes."

"It is significant, therefore, that the decline of residential construction is rapidly becoming less and less. Month after month the volume of residential contracts awarded was running between 40 and 50 per cent behind the corresponding month of 1929."

"Up to August this decline was not less than 43 per cent in any month. In September and October in terms of square feet or floor space, it was 23 per cent and in November only 12 per cent lower."

"In addition to the increased volume of residential building a remarkable reduction in cost per square foot is shown. The cost in November was lower than in any month since April, 1923. Such a reduction is approximately 20 per cent."

"Mortgage money is now available at reasonable rates in all parts of the country which, in combination with lower cost of construction, should impel steadily increasing activity, as it has in former like periods."

400 REGISTER FOR ROAD JOBS 70 GIVEN WORK

Four Crews On Duty in Effort of County and State to Relieve Unemployment Condition.

Close to 400 names are now listed on the unemployment register of this county for emergency road relief work, according to Victor Tengwall, clerk of the county court. Seventy men are now employed and are rotated weekly, giving each worker $18. Four road crews are engaged, one out of Ashland, two out of this city, and one out ofogue River. It is expected that the work will last well into the month of March.

Wedding of the undependables from the list has started and there have been less than a dozen unworthy cases found.

One worker showed up the day after Christmas in an intoxicated condition. Another was found to have an income, "and not in a serious financial condition as his statements would indicate," another claimed dependents, when he had none, one was indolent, and two or three were agitators.

Some Unable Work
Two or three were found physically unable to work, but with a great willingness to that end. They were Red Cross charges.

Several who sought emergency work, to "fill time," have been denied registration. Investigation showed they were not in distressed circumstances.

Several workers reported at the registration office last week and today from the outlying districts, under the impression that the emergency was general throughout the county.

"The county is employing about 80 men in the Prospect and Butte Falls districts clearing right of way, widening grades, and doing other work that can be done this winter, out of funds of the district, in order to furnish employment. This work will be continued as long as the funds last."

CONGRESS VOTES DROUGHT RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Congress voted appropriations for drought relief today but senate and house differences must be adjusted before the lending to sufferers can begin.

The house approved the $45,000,000 figure for seed, feed and fertilizer loans requested by the administration. The senate not only did that but—on motion of Senator Caraway, democrat, of Arkansas—added $15,000,000 more to be advanced for food purchases by farmers whose crops were hit. No record votes were taken.

QUAKES SQUEEZE WATER FROM SOIL

The quake waves cause water to collect on top of the sand on the shaking-table. The effect is somewhat like squeezing slightly a sponge that is dripping with water. The vibration, Dr. Jacobson says, shakes the grains of sand closer together, forcing out some of the water.
