"Viennese Nights" at Holly Sunday

Scene from "Viennese Nights" - A Warner Bros. production

"Viennese Nights," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone romance which comes to the Holly theatre tomorrow, proves that Keats was right and that a thing of beauty is a joy forever. In "Viennese Nights" it takes three generations to complete a symphony and to unite in marriage the grandchildren of the boy and girl whose romance shared the fate of the music. This is a theme that Stumund Romberg and Oscar Hammerstein had long contemplated before Warner Bros. asked them to write the original story directly for the talking screen. The production, which is one of the most elaborate ever attempted on the screen is photographed in full natural color. Alan Crosland directed. This picture will be the attraction at the Holly for two days, tomorrow and Monday.

"Gang Buster" Will Be Rialto Picture

Up-to-the-minute fun-face, with Jack Oakie's wisecracks permeating the action, will entertain patrons of the Fox Rialto theatre for three days starting to night. "The Gang Buster" is the smart crack at American gangdom in which the contagious comic of "Frog from Seaside" and "The Social Lion" lets loose with laughs. "The Gang Buster" is a fun city racket, turning into a joyous kaleidoscope of laugh moments and swirls. The big fun of the underworld around a pretty little comber that manages to fight his way out of a series of breath-taking action scenes. Jean Arthur takes her place as the sweetheart of "America's Joe-Boy" in "The Gang Buster" and William Boyd, recently seen with Gary Cooper in "The Signers" and George Raft in "Derelict," has the chief menace role. Francis McDonald, the suave, likable villain of many successful hits, is seen in another menace part.

APPLIGATE

APPLIGATE, Ore., Jan. 17.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Dick Reeves left Tuesday for Seattle to make an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Norma Larkin. Mr. and Mrs. John Burns of Medford spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Jack O'Brien. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fry at Medford. Floyd Steel, who is interested in the Little Applegate Mining company, left this week on a business trip to Seattle. Mrs. Mable Mack, home demonstration agent, met with the Applegate women Tuesday afternoon to organize the first home extension unit in the county. The Applegate women will have regular meetings the first and third Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Mack explained the details of the home extension unit to the women, which is to be held in Medford February 6 and 7, and urged all club members to attend. There are to be four general topics discussed: Food and nutrition, housing and home management, textiles and clothing and cost of living, of which a club member was appointed to represent the Applegate women in each division. Mrs. Mack also gave out questionnaires to the club members, which are to be filled out and sent to her before February 6 so they might be discussed at the conference. Mrs. Jay Arant, has been at Ashland for the past two weeks caring for Mr. Arant's mother, Mrs. Emma Arant, who has been suffering from rheumatism. After spending the Christmas holidays at his home in Olympia, Lewis Elch returned last week to perform his duties for the Little Applegate Mining company. Mrs. Elch accompanied her husband to southern Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilcox left Thursday for Olympia, where they expect to make their home. Mr. Wilcox has been employed by the Little Applegate Mining company and Mrs. Wilcox has been cook at Blanton for the mining company. Mrs. Coe Crump has been confined to her bed for the past several days due to a lame back. Ralph R. Osborn of the S. O. S. Implement company, was a visitor last week at the Lone Star mine. Mrs. Charles Hamilton, who was taken to the Sacred Heart hospital shortly after Christmas, has been removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Al Piche, in Medford. John Matney, who underwent a minor operation some time ago, is still at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Marie Wimer, at Jacksonville. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phinney of Ashland were week-end guests of the former's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phinney and family. Mrs. Jack O'Brien has been quite ill for the past few days with a cold. The Applegate Sunday school elected new officers Sunday for the coming year. They were: Miss Maude Pool, superintendent; Jim McWhinnam, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Edwin Lewis, treasurer, and Lee Post, Jr., secretary. Mrs. Burt Hartz was appointed teacher of the Bible class. Mrs. Lee Post, teacher of the Junior class, and Mrs. Jim McWhinnam, teacher of the primary class. Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Tahman moved this week from the home of their son Roy on the Applegate to the home of their son Alvin on Little creek, where they will remain for a few days before moving to Medford.
