State Executive Board Meets
Mrs. Newton C. Chaney, Post State Department President and present National Committee woman left Wednesday to attend the meeting of the state executive board to be held in Portland the last of the week.

Monday's Meeting
As January on the national calendar is labeled for law study, this local unit observed this last Monday as its legislative meeting. Mrs. Bricker explained something of the workings of the national committee on getting certain Legion bills presented to congress. Amendments to the World War Veterans act being introduced in the present congress were explained.

The Boston convention laid out a certain policy concerning the passing of state laws providing money for the education of the orphans of World War veterans.

This national legislation with provisions which make the pay in disability allowances for veterans and their dependents similar to that for veterans of other wars, compensation for the families of hospitalized veterans under section 202-10 where necessary; the inclusion of chronic constitutional and analogous diseases in the presumptive service connection provision of 202 as tuberculosis now is, lengthening till July 2, 1941, the marriage date of an ex-serviceman and his widow still be eligible for compensation if otherwise entitled also as the veterans of other wars; Government life insurance be permitted ex-servicemen suffering from service connection disabilities not permanent and total at the time of application; to make mandatory the hospitalization of all veterans irrespective of the cause of their disability and the adding of 15,000 beds so that adequate hospitalization be ready for the large and increasing waiting list; a veterans' committee of the senate like that now in the house.

Space does not permit the elaboration of these here, but careful reading will show the justice in and need for each one.
