"It" Girl Coming

Clara Bow, starring in "No Limit," a Paramount Production.

Clara Bow steps from the front page to the screen at the Fox Craterian theater tomorrow, in her latest Paramount picture, "No Limit."

"Clara Bow's 'No Limit' offers a new angle in the life of a modern maid who starts life as an usherette and strives for the heights in the social world. The picture gives the 'It' girl another opportunity to portray a role of vivacious youth fighting against fate for a place that she wants in life.

"The Gorilla," the current attraction at the Holly theatre, rocked Broadway as a stage play and sent a thrill and a laugh over the world as a silent picture.

But Ralph Spence, author of the original play, himself adapted the plot to the screen for its doubly exciting Vitaphone version, and in doing so added a great number of new surprises and mystery tangles for the benefit of the new production.

Walter Pidgeon and Lila Lee are the romantic leads and Joe Frisco, vaude headliner, and Harry Gibbon, of the stage and movie comedy fame, depict the dumb detective roles of Mulligan and Garity. This mystery thriller closes at the Holly tonight.
