ROTARIANS ENJOY MOTION PICTURES CANADIAN SCENES
Members of the Medford Rotary club enjoyed a most interesting session this noon when Grover Young assisted by Horace Bromley put on a 30-minute program of scenic motion pictures. The films which were taken by Mr. Young in British Columbia portrayed the scenic grandeur of this "sportsman's paradise" and proved a revelation to those who viewed them for the first time.

Some splendid footage of the hunting and fishing adventures was shown including many shots of moose, bear, caribou, mountain goats and smaller game with which this favored region abounds. Fishing scenes showing salmon runs, trout streams and other points of interest kept the Rotary fishermen on the edge of their seats as they viewed these unique films. In connection with the picture presentation, Mr. Young gave an interesting talk.

Henry Manny of Seattle, former northwest district governor of Rotary, gave a short talk on Rotary in foreign countries and announced that plans were being perfected to hold the 1932 convention of Rotary International in Seattle.

Carl Grant, district manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., was introduced as a new member of the local Rotary club during the meeting which was attended by a large number of local and visiting Rotarians.

Among the Rotary representatives from out of town were Henry Manny of Seattle, Hal McNair and D. B. Lay of Ashland. Bert Larson was chairman of the day's program.

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—The first large scale planting of Asiatic chestnut trees in the United States has been attempted in the forest of Duke university. Under the supervision of the United States department of agriculture about 1200 trees have been imported and placed in the forest here in an effort to find a tree that will take the place of the rapidly disappearing native chestnut.

One tobacco farmer in the Stoney creek section of Caswell county has planted 70 acres of wheat this winter to begin a live-at-home program.

A permanent organization of former Montana residents, residing in southern Oregon, is expected to be made at the meeting tomorrow night of the Montana club in Central Point at the Walker hall. A social, dancing and basket lunch will be on the evening's program and all former Montana folks are requested to attend. There will be no admission charge.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Law Fonseca, leading hitter of the American league in 1929, may get back his regular job as first baseman for the Cleveland Indians this season if Eddie Moran makes good his threat to forsake the national pastime for a business career.

LEGION PLANNING BIG SMOKER FOR FEBRUARY MEET
A live meeting of Medford post No. 15 was held at the armory last night with a good attendance of local and visiting Legionnaires present. A report of the recent "Admiral Byrd show" was made by Ted Baker and developed that this nation-wide attraction not only proved self-sustaining but resulted in a small profit for the post. Plans for a big "smoker" were announced for Monday, February 9, by Dan Howard, chairman, and all World War veterans are urged to plan now to attend. A special invitation is also extended to all G. A. R. Spanish-American war veterans and other ex-service men.

A most entertaining feature of the evening's program was a recital of "Big Moments" in the World War by a number of local veterans. Each man called upon gave his "big moment" and some interesting narratives developed, some being humorous and others being full of thrill. This feature which was introduced by Don Collier will be repeated at an early date. Plans for the Washington's birthday dance and annual speed boat regatta were also announced during the evening.

A fine feed of "raviolis" and other good things was provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary after the meeting.

CHESTNUT TREES FROM ASIA PLANTED IN U. S.

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—The first large scale planting of Asiatic chestnut trees in the United States has been attempted in the forest of Duke university. Under the supervision of the United States department of agriculture about 1200 trees have been imported and placed in the forest here in an effort to find a tree that will take the place of the rapidly disappearing native chestnut.

Some of the trees were planted in the forest proper, while others were set in orchard formation.

CHICKEN THEIEVRY LESSENY BY LAW
MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—Chicken thievery shows a decline in Wisconsin, but whether it is because of a new law or the economic depression is uncertain. Stealing of poultry had become so serious a matter in Wisconsin that a law was passed making the crime a felony. In the meantime the number of persons convicted of stealing chickens has decreased 48 per cent, but the price of poultry has dropped 12 per cent, too, making the business less profitable.
