LOVELY LANE—From college to the Ziegfeld Follies and then into the talkies has been the career thus far of pretty Lola Lane, above. In her spare time she sings over the radio.

SHE'S MODERN—Here is Miss Michel Pym, noted woman author, shown as she arrived in New York from London, where she attended the Round Table Conference.

THERE'S LOTS OF ZIP AND ZEST IN SKATING and sooner or later you're going to fall for it. With a little practice you might emulate Phil Taylor, shown at the left, skating on stilts. Or you might try leaping over nine barrels as he is shown doing below as warming up exercise before a Switzerland carnival. For grace and poise on ice you have to hand it to Vivianne Holten, upper right, skating champion, who trains in this manner each year at St. Moritz, Switzerland. An idea of what to wear while skating is illustrated by pretty Elizabeth Rudel, above, of Montreal, Canada. This is how she looked at the carnival at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., where she is a student.

CRASH! AND A PILLAR OF JUSTICE BITES THE DUST—This remarkable action photo was taken in Seattle, Wash., as a truck pulled down one of the great columns of the old King County courthouse.

OHIO! HAS HE HAD HIS PADDLING? It's plain to see, at any rate, that a storm has hit the good ship Wash Tubbs. The skipper, "Polly" Oliver, Jr., 17 months old, of Miami, Fla., is, from all appearances, a little worried about getting to shore. But he has his trusty paddle.

LOOKS LIKE HER famous dad, does pretty Gwendolyn McCormack, above, daughter of John McCormack, great tenor. She is shown as she arrived in New York with her father, who begins a concert tour there.

THEY'RE THE REAL THING, THESE ALLIGATORS on Carl Link's 'gator farm in Los Angeles, Calif., but their keepers say they won't harm you. Crocodiles, not alligators, are dangerous to man, they add. So step right up, folks, and pick yourself out a nice pet!

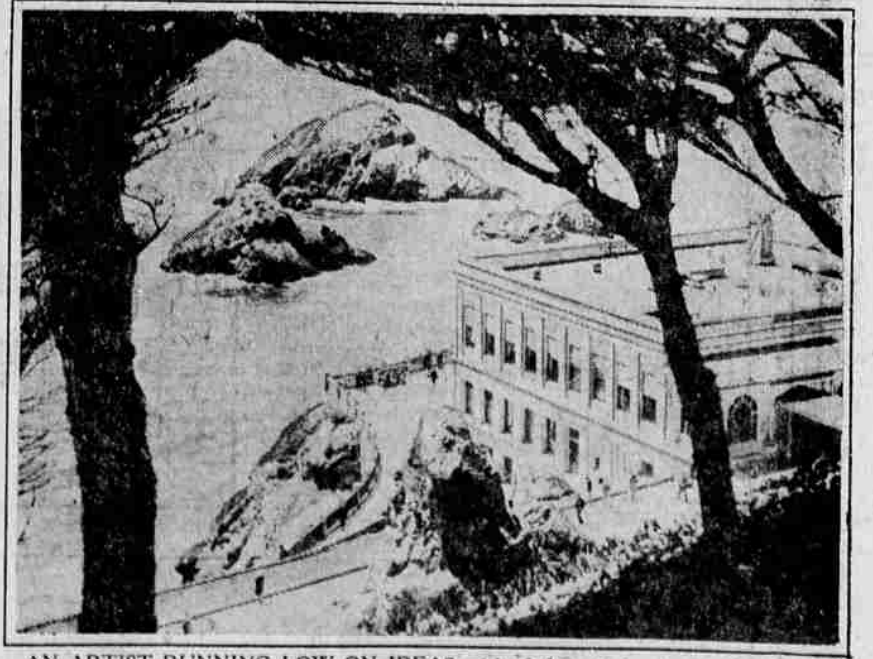

IT'S NO CINCH TO ROLL THESE BONES!—Here are the remains of an enormous mastodon recently unearthed by scientists on the farm of Charles Feldheiser, near Cromwell, Ind. The tusks are over 12 feet long and a leg bone is almost as large around as a man's torso.

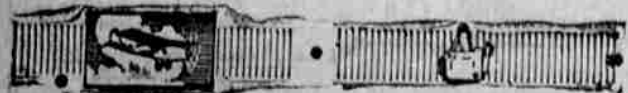

NOW YOU KNOW where Martha Norelius, Olympic swimming champ, got her talent. Here is her father, Charles Norelius, doing a hand spring at Miami Beach, Fla., where he is a swimming instructor.

AN ARTIST RUNNING LOW ON IDEAS might find inspiration in this idyllic scene on San Francisco's Ocean Beach. What with the entwining trees framing the setting as the last rays of sun glint the placid waters, even a poet could do something here. Those are the Seal Rocks in the background and the famous Cliff house is on the right.
