

DAY DELAY IS GRANTED KINGSLEY

Slayer Of Prescott Will Make Plea Tomorrow To First Degree Murder Indictment — Kelly And Enright Join Defense.

James E. Kingsley, alias J. C. Adams, indicted yesterday by the grand jury, on a first degree murder charge for the alleged slaying of Sam Prescott, Ashland policeman, Saturday, January 24, was given a day's delay when brought into court this morning to plead.

The request was granted by the court upon application of Attorney Herbert K. Hanna, named yesterday by the court.

The prisoner, neatly dressed and pale from confinement and worry, was heavily manacled and guarded during the proceedings.

It was announced this morning that Attorney T. J. Enright and Col. E. E. Kelly, would be associated with Attorney Hanna, volunteering their services to the defense. Kingsley is without funds or friends. No defense has been decided upon by counsel, appointed and voluntary.

May File Demurrer

It is probably that the first legal move, after a plea is entered, will be to file a demurrer against the indictment on the grounds that the grand jury that returned it was appointed for another purpose—the investigation of the slaying of Everett Duhaek, Eagle Point, last December, during a raid on a Tasse creek still—and is therefore legally disqualified to act upon any other matter.

It is also probable that a general demurrer after this will be filed against the indictment.

Kingsley's counsel say they intend to give him every constitutional right to which he is entitled, and which is warranted by the seriousness of the charge against him.

Technical matters will delay the trial of Kingsley a week or ten days at the least.

Jury Trial Necessary

Whatever his plea may be, a jury trial will follow as required by the Oregon law. A verdict of guilty, with recommendations for life imprisonment, gives the court no alternative but to impose this penalty. If the jury returns a verdict of guilty without recommendations, by the same token the court has no alternative except to impose the death penalty.

It is thought, from statements made by Kingsley in his cell, he will endeavor to secure life imprisonment.

Data Quiz Status

The grand jury investigation into the slaying of Everett Duhaek, Eagle Point, during a still raid last December, is "marking time," and any further action, according to county officials, rests with the state attorney general's office. The investigation ended January 10, when Assistant Attorney General Willis W. Moore was stricken by illness and forced to a hospital, and later to Portland for special treatment.

It is unofficially rumored that the attorney-general's office, is waiting for the recovery of Moore before resuming the quiz, or until another assistant attorney general is available, all now being engaged on other cases.

The grand jury has been instructed to hold itself ready for call.

deed in the senate and house today. The upper chamber passed two minor house bills during its short morning session while the house disposed of five measures before considering the Rogue river closing bill. Argument on this measure was set over until 2 p. m. to be made a special order of business.

Three other important bills introduced in the senate were Senator Jay H. Upton's bill to repeal the Oregon prohibition law, and a bill by Senator James W. Crawford providing for a non-partisan judiciary and another by Senator Ed W. Miller providing for appointment of supreme, circuit and district judges by the governor.

Would Conform Acts

The Upton prohibition bill, he explained, would conform the state prohibition act with the Volstead act, thereby making the state and the national acts uniform.

"The Oregon law," said Upton, "makes possession alone unlawful, while under the Volstead act possession is not unlawful unless for sale. Under the Volstead act citizens may have home brew and home-made wine if made for the use of the family and not for sale. A man may also serve his home table with liquor as long as it is not sold. Physicians may also prescribe alcohol for medical purposes. This can not be done under the Oregon law."

The Upton bill has a provision referring it to the people for their approval or rejection.

The Crawford non-partisan judiciary bill applies to supreme, circuit, district, domestic relations and county judges. Neither the nominating petitions nor the ballot would make any reference to party affiliation with respect to the candidates.

Limit Train Length

trains in Oregon to 70 cars, exclusive of the caboose, and passenger trains to 44 cars.

Abolition of the office of county judge and the substitution of a county commissioner, provision for the election of county commissioners by county commissioner districts and transferring all judicial powers of county court to circuit court are proposed in a series of bills dropped in the house hopper by Representative Gordon J. Taylor, of Clackamas county.

Each county would be divided into three districts, with a commissioner to be elected from each.

Representative A. V. Swift's joint memorial to congress asking that the deferment plan of farm relief be enacted into law found opposition in the senate when Senator H. W. Eddy of Douglas county spoke against the measure. Nevertheless it carried by a vote of 22 to 8.

Population Increase For Medford Territory Shown

Between the years 1920 and 1930 the population of the Mid-Pacific Empire increased 58.4 per cent, according to officials of the Northern California-Southern Oregon Development association, 52,919 persons having moved to northern California and southern Oregon during the ten year period.

With the establishment of a harbor at Crescent City and more transportation facilities available in the Mid-Pacific Empire, this population increase will be more pronounced, association officials point out.

The following table shows the increase of population of each county in southern Oregon and northern California during the ten year period.

	1920	1930	Pct. of In.
Jackson	20,405	32,948	61.3
Josephine	7,655	11,498	50.2
Klamath	11,413	32,497	182.9
Lake	3,991	4,833	21.1
Malheur	10,907	11,269	3.3
Harney	3,992	5,929	48.3
Del Norte	2,759	4,759	71.8
Siskiyou	18,545	25,489	37.4
Modoc	5,425	8,088	48.2

Although the Mid-Pacific Empire has shown a good population increase during the past ten years, it is still under-populated.

According to a recent population bulletin, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, there are less than five persons per square mile in southern Oregon, and only 3.6 persons per square mile in northern California.

Figures showing area and persons per square mile follow:

County	Sq. Mile	Per's. Sq. Mile
Jackson	2794	11.8
Josephine	1637	7.0
Klamath	5999	5.4
Lake	7929	0.6
Malheur	9831	1.1
Harney	9931	0.6
Del Norte	1024	4.6
Siskiyou	6256	2.1
Modoc	3823	4.1

The program to provide this section with greater transportation facilities, particularly a water outlet in Crescent City and to bring about a development of its natural resources is expected to aid in

CATTLE ABORTION FOR OREGON SET NATIONAL MARK

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 2.—(AP) Tests of cattle for infectious abortion in Oregon during the past year exceeded that of any other state in the union with the possible exception of Wisconsin, Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, announced today. The disease was found noticeably lessened in many counties, despite the fact that twice as many cattle were tested, he said. The total for the year was 71,494 tests.

The percentage average of reactors showed a slight increase, due to increased tests, Lytle stated. His report shows 10.8 per cent reactionary as compared with 10.5 the year before. New milk ordinances in Portland, Medford, Eugene, Klamath Falls and Pendleton have stimulated the test work. Comparative figures showed that while everybody drinks milk, only one death from Malta fever, to every 200 fatal automobile accidents, occur in the state.

In the 6053 herds tested there were 1719 reactors, 3876 were free and 467 were suspects. No counties have been tested entirely during the year. There are ten abortion free areas and thirty accredited herds in the state.

Washington county tested the largest number, with 11 percent reactors. Coos county showed seven percent reactors, Clatsop ten, Marion nine, Lane, seven and Multnomah 19 percent. Other counties were reported as follows: Linn six per cent, Benton 4, Yamhill 8, Baker 26, Columbia 14, Douglas 4, Jackson 8, Polk 11, Klamath 12, Curry 5, Tillamook 29, Malheur 8, Deschutes 13, Crook 12, Wasco 15, Josephine 1, Hood River 12, Lincoln 2, Grant 11, Lake 16, Morrow 29 and Wallowa 12. Three other counties had single herds with percentages not given.

How a second meeting ruined their romance

'B.O.' lost her many an admirer until—

"I—I hope you'll come again," she said. But she knew he wouldn't. She could feel he had lost interest in her, just as other men had.

Yet last night, when they met for the first time, he had seemed instantly attracted—eager to call. Why had this evening been a failure? Why had he turned so cool and distant?

Now she knows the reason. Knows why she couldn't hold admirers—had no intimate girl friends. Let her tell you how she ended her fault—won popularity.

"It was a terrible shock to learn that I was guilty of 'B.O.'—body odor. But it's so easy to offend—and not know it! Pores are continually giving off odor-causing waste—as much as a quart daily.

Our senses become deadened to an ever-present odor. We don't notice 'B.O.' in ourselves—only in others.

"Yet no one need ever offend. Just wash and bathe with Lifebuoy. You'll feel so gloriously clean—so fresh—so safe. For Lifebuoy deep-cleanses pores—ends all trace of 'B.O.'"
