

ALTERED ANGEL SQUAD TO PLAY COMING SEASON

Many Changes in Wrigley Lineup Expected to Put Club in Front Rank of Pennant Race.

By Russell J. Newland (Associated Press Sports Writer) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—(AP) Los Angeles always has been a tough-to-beat club and judging from the extensive, if somewhat conservative, information sent by Oscar Reichow, the hand-some business manager of the Angels, Manager Jack Lelivelt's changes should deal out plenty of trouble for opposing teams this season.

RUSSELL J. NEWLAND

Reichow says: "Winning the first half of the season last year did not convince Manager Lelivelt he had the necessary club to repeat this year. (Los Angeles lost to Hollywood in the championship playoff last year.) As a consequence, he determined to revise his club and has made more changes than any other club in the league with the hope he will be able to win the championship, which will not be in the coming campaign.

Manager Lelivelt did not stop at any one department in making his alterations for 1931. He started in with the pitching staff and went clear into the outfield in cutting off players who have been replaced with new ones. While he was fairly well satisfied with his last year's aggregation he was not content that it was his style of club to bring Owner William Wrigley, Jr., another winner.

The Angels lost quite a pitcher when the Cubs took Ed Baech, big right-hander who won 26 games, and a good infielder when Frank Sigafos, second sacker, was drafted by Cincinnati.

Schulte to Catch Al Shealey, right hander, and Chrysler Moss, a southpaw, both of American Association experience, already have been turned over in the deal. So has John Schulte, catcher, and Eddie Farrell, second baseman. Schulte will do the bulk of the receiving to the contentment of old truck Hannah, Coast league workhorse these many years. Hannah will coach and help the young pitchers. Farrell will contest for the second base position with Louis Baker, secured from the San Francisco Seals in a trade for Pitcher Art Delaney.

In addition to Schulte, either Grace or Campbell, a couple of other catchers owned by the Cubs, will become Angel property while two more pitchers and the outfield are yet to be named in the Raech transaction.

Seven Good Pitchers Manager Lelivelt will open the season with seven starting pitchers: Win Ballou and Carroll Yerkes are holdover regulars. Bill Peters, left hander, and Charles Moncrief, young right hander from Fresno, are counted on for relief work.

With the only infield change at second base, Ray Jacobs will be back at first, Carl Dittmar at short and Fred Haney at third. Arnold Stutz will be the only regular outfielder back this season. Wes Schulmerich, center fielder, was sold to the Boston Braves for cash and Outfielder Jimmy Welsh, formerly with Seattle, Manager Lelivelt figures on Welsh as a regular and expects the Cubs to give him a slugger to fill the other position.

Drugged bullets, producing sleep instead of death, may solve the problem of how to capture deer in overcrowded sections of the country for shipment to other sections and states where deer are scarce.

Major Earnest Harris, African big game hunter and inventor of the drugged or hypodermic bullet, has established headquarters at Alpena, Michigan, waiting for the first heavy snows to drive the deer into their yarding grounds so that he can test the bullet's effect on these animals, according to reports to the American Game association.

His experiments will be carried on under the direction of the Michigan conservation department. Major Harris has already tried his invention successfully on big game in Africa. His tests in the Michigan area of heavy deer concentration will be directed toward ascertaining the type and amount of drug necessary to bring temporary insensibility without serious injury to the deer. The bullet does not penetrate, but injects the drug on the hypodermic principle.

Conservation and park authorities of the country are watching the experiment in the hope that it may furnish a solution to an increasingly trying problem now facing game restoration projects in several parts of the country. While most of the country is confronted with shortage or actual extinction of big game, other sections, notably Pennsylvania, portions of Michigan, the Kliahah national park in Arizona and the floor of Yosemite national park are losing thousands of deer yearly from overcrowding and starvation.

Heretofore shipping deer from one region to another for a more even distribution has been found impracticable because of the expense of trapping them and the fatalities resulting. The drugged bullet, if it will enable hunters to fire at a deer and put it quietly to sleep, may supply an effective remedy and aid in a rapid nationwide restoration of big game.

Baths for little fishes have come into vogue in state fish hatcheries as the result of a discovery by the Maine department of inland fisheries and game. For years the worst cause of loss at the hatcheries where many millions of fish are raised annually to restock state waters has been a fungus growth which killed the young fish.

Through his experiments the Maine department has found that this growth can be destroyed if the fish are given acetic acid baths. Commissioner George J. Stobie has informed the American Game association. So now each hatchery's troublesome family of millions of fish youngsters have to wash their "necks and ears" regularly with acetic acid for soap.

RICH PRIZE TO CRAIG WOOD IN BIRDIE FINISH

New Jersey Golfer Takes Four on Final Hole to Lead Horton Smith by Stroke in Texas.

HARLINGEN, Texas, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Needing a birdie on the final hole to win, Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., clicked it off yesterday and finished a 36-hole tour in 75, taking $1,000 first money in Horton Smith's $1,500 open golf tournament. His par 71 on the last 18 holes was added to a 65 in the first round Saturday.

Horton Smith of New York, whose 137 Wood had to beat as he drove from the eighteenth tee, took second money of $600. Al Espinosa's 144 gave him third money of $400.

Wood's finish brought cheers from a large gallery. He led Smith by four strokes when Saturday's round was over. Smith was three under par yesterday. A long drive from the eighteenth tee, a spoon shot which reached the edge of the green and a putt which almost dropped for an eagle, gave Wood a birdie four and first prize.

Onney Patton again capped the Sunday roll-of-prize posted by the Natatorium bowling alley with a sensational three-game score of 658. Had his third game been up to the form displayed in the first two when he rolled 267, a new seasonal record for single game, and 232, he would have set a new all time record for local bowlers.

By the Associated Press) By taking two games from Oregon State college at Seattle last week, the University of Washington piled up a commanding lead in the northern division of the Pacific coast conference and forced the Beavers down to third place. Washington State now holds second position. Washington took the two games from Oregon State by scores of 39 to 30 and 28 to 26. Washington and Washington State will battle at Seattle Friday and Saturday. Things looked up for the University of Oregon for the first time this season last week when it defeated Idaho, 33 to 20 and 41 to 34 at Moscow. They were Oregon's first victories and lifted the lemon-yellow out of the collar. Monday and Tuesday Oregon meets Washington State at Pullman. Oregon will play a side game with Gonzaga Wednesday at Spokane. Oregon State's games during the week will be with Idaho at Corvallis Friday and Saturday.
