

DEATH WITNESS FEARS ATTACKS KINGSLEY PALS

Aide to Law in Capture of Prescott's Slayer Released From Jail, Leaves Town Hurriedly.

Glad he is out of jail but apprehensive for his own safety, Earl Remington, 19-year-old black hiker, a star witness in the James E. Kingsley murder trial, was released from the county jail yesterday, after having been held there for two weeks as a material witness under bonds of $10,000.

Kingsley was sentenced to death on the gallows in circuit court this forenoon and left shortly after in the custody of officers for the state penitentiary in Salem.

Remington is believed to have left Medford yesterday to be out of town before sentence was passed.

The youth believes Kingsley has outside connections and fears that his friends or the murderer may take it on themselves to "put him on the spot" for his part in bringing about Kingsley's capture in the Siskiyou mountains within an hour after the murder of Sam Prescott, Ashland officer, last month. Remington was indirectly responsible for the killing's early apprehension by State Traffic officer Herb Moore. The youth had been picked up by Kingsley near Cottage Grove and given a ride. He was with the killer when he shot down Prescott in Ashland when the latter inquired for ownership papers for the car Kingsley was driving.

Called at Farmhouse.

Remington stayed with Kingsley until the latter drove off the highway onto a lane into the woods near Barron. At this point Remington fled from the car and called for aid at a farmhouse. He took Kingsley's gun with him—the weapon used to slay the officer.

If Kingsley had made good his escape, Remington would have found himself in a difficult position. He was in possession of the gun which did the killing and would have been hard pressed for an explanation.

What tends to make officers believe Kingsley has friends interested in his case or what might be the result of a crank war at the county jail this morning, addressed to Kingsley, Sheriff Jennings said a portion of the mislaid was written in alleged code.

Letter Undelivered.

Its contents were not learned. Officers are not taking the letter too seriously, but at the same time are taking the chances with the prisoner, in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Paul Jennings and Oscar Dunford, jailer, until Salem is reached tonight. The letter did not reach Kingsley.

Remington was paid $1.50 per day for the time he was held and was given $25 when released from jail. This enabled him to purchase transportation out of the city. He is a fighter by vocation but said he was afraid to go to any of the large cities on the coast on account of the possibility of being recognized. He figured it would do him no good to change his name because of a face twitching with which he has been afflicted since childhood and which would set him apart from others in any strange place.

DEER HUNTING CURTAILMENT IS PROTESTED

Jackson County Game Association, Josephine County Izaak Walton's Wire Game Commission.

A telegram protesting the shortening of the deer season, as proposed in Senate Bill 17 now being considered by the legislature, was sent to the Oregon State Game commission yesterday by the Jackson County Game Protective Association and the Josephine Chapter, Izaak Walton League.

The telegram reads: "These associations protest change to shorten deer season proposed in senate bill seventeen. Compromise was made with forestry interest two years ago shortening season on promise no further curtailment by enactment of gubernatorial order which was violated same year by unconstitutional hunting ban. We emphasize hunters are forest protection, and not a menace. Grouse season must conform to deer season. We will support eastern Oregon conservationists on mule deer limit recommendations on condition two black tail deer allowed. On these conditions only can we support the bill."

Senate bill 17 proposes shortening the season from September 15 to October 20 as it now stands to September 20 to October 20.

Two years ago the season was open from September 10 to October 20. A compromise was effected with the sportsmen shortening the season to September 15 to October 20, with the understanding that no ban would be placed on hunters going into the hills. The very next September, local sportsmen stated this morning, the agreement was violated by the governor issuing a proclamation keeping the hunters out of the hills for two weeks.

DAISY ESCAPES TERM IN PRISON BY PROBATION

Court Orders 18 Months in County Jail and Remainder to Five-Year Term Under Supervision.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Daisy DeBoe, former secretary of Clara Bow, film actress, was granted probation by Judge William Doran today with the provision that she spend 18 months in the county jail and the remainder of a five-year period in liberty under supervision of the county probation officer.

The court's decision was procured by a request from Miss DeBoe's counsel that she be permitted to withdraw her application for probation made on February 7, following her conviction nearly three weeks ago on charges of stealing $225 from Miss Bow. The motion was denied.

Girl Is Calm.

Miss DeBoe stood firmly and looked intently at the court as Judge Doran quietly announced his decision not to send the 26-year-old woman to the penitentiary.

After the court had told her that she would not have to serve a possible prison term of one to ten years, she looked at her attorney, William Beane for an instant and then apparently resigning herself to the court's judgment she walked from the courtroom to begin her term in the county jail. No attempt to appeal the motion for a new trial, denied a week ago, was made.

YOUR TASTE tells the Truth!

Many colleges are trying to keep enrollments in their aviation courses to a minimum. It has been found to avoid turning out large numbers of students who will be unable to find jobs after graduation.

And the number of aviation instructors in the colleges is growing with the number of students. The survey shows there are 278 teachers of aviation subjects on college faculties of whom 63 are on full time. A year ago there were 190, with 49 on full time.

Ground Schools, Too

Along with technical training in aviation, more than a dozen colleges have ground schools to prepare students to learn to handle planes at commercial flying schools.

Several have arrangements with nearby flying schools to teach students to fly. There are more than a score of college flying and glider clubs.

Many private commercial schools that taught aviation mechanics, the survey revealed, have ceased to operate because public schools offer the same training. There are 600 elementary, secondary, trade and continuation schools providing aeronautical work of some kind.

Oklahoma game refuges are to be stocked with 20,000 Mexican quail, at an estimated cost of $2 per bird.
