Hank Swanson, University of Washington center, made the outstanding move in the standings of the week, climbing from fifth place to the runner up position with 97 markers.

Merrill "Bad Boy" Merrill of Oregon State and Fuller have chalked up the most personal to date, with 26 each. Claude Holsten, Cougar forward, and Stevens of Oregon follow them with 23 apiece.

Two of a Kind

—By Pap

With Rod and Gun

By Ernest Rostal and Dick Green

A letter today from H. L. Noblit, who has been vacationing in southern California and Arizona for the past two months, reveals he is now in Thermal, Calif., still nursing his desire to return to Medford in time for the spring fishing.

"We are now stopping in the Conchella valley in southern California," reads the letter, "and the most interesting point in this vicinity from the sportsman's view is the Salton sea, as it provides duck shooting, boating, swimming and fishing of a kind. The sea is of comparatively recent origin, being formed in 1902 by flood waters of the Colorado river, which had broken through a poorly constructed irrigation intake.

"The area is approximately 40 miles long by 20 miles wide and the water is quite salty, according to report it has twice the salinity of the ocean. Bathing greatly appreciates the added buoyancy afforded by the salt water and no doubt it is an advantage for one swimming calmly told me that he frequently fell asleep in the water. You can use your own judgment about that one.

"Ducks are numerous," the letter continues, "and many duck clubs have been established, some for one day, but the majority are operated for profit. No feed grows in or around the sea and it is customary for clubs to pump fresh well water into ponds fed with grain regularly to attract the birds. The charges range from $5 to $25 per day for each club, and include the use of a blind and decoys. The highest rate seems to be a special price for motion picture actors who demand hot meals served in the blinds.

"Hunters with whom I have talked, report a fairly successful season and at the present time, there are thousands of ducks to be seen. Sprigs appear the principal variety with a sprinkling of canvasbacks, widgeon and blue-winged teal, but the latter are in evidence only a few at a time. Motor boat racing is popular and some excellent time has been made. Again the claim is set forth that the unusual buoyancy of the water is a great help in attaining high speeds with the modern motor boats.

"The sea contains quantities of mullet," Mr. Noblit writes in conclusion. "They do not amount to much as a game fish, but recently an attempt was made to plant striped bass. This is a well-known salt water game fish of the California coast and hopes are entertained that it will do well in this inland sea."

Reports from the state game commission show that antelope have increased steadily in Lake Harney counties and it is now conservatively estimated that there are between 20,000 and 25,000 of this little game creature in Oregon. It is altogether likely that within the next few years the increase will justify a short open season, to be provided, soon as the increase will permit.

Big Ten Net Mark Totters From Shots of Soph Star

Joe Reiff, Northwestern university sophomore, already this season has showed himself as one of the flashiest forwards in the Big Ten.

EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—A new "wonder" who threatens to surpass the record-breaking scoring feat of Purdue's famous "Stretch" Murphy has appeared on the Western conference basketball horizon.

He is Joe Reiff, a six-foot-two Northwestern university sophomore who in his first two games, dazzled both opponents and his coach, "Dutch" Lonberg with his William Tell marksmanship. Reiff tossed in five field goals in his first game against Bradley college. He added two free throws. In the second game, against Notre Dame, he bagged 10 field goals and six fouls to come within two points of Murphy's mark of 28 in either game. Reiff earned almost a point a minute. The newcomer has been sinking baskets in this fashion for three years around Chicago. In 1928 and '29 he led Crane Tech of the city to city championships.

Not only is he a good shot from all angles, Reiff also is a fine floor player, defensively and offensively. He started at center but Lonberg later shifted him to forward. Reiff weighs 165 pounds.

If the high-scoring spears in National League hockey arenas continue, the boys may be accused of using a "lively puck," since the material used comes from the same firm as the "lively baseball."

Speaking of outfields, Bucky Harris, boss of the Tigers, has disposed of all of the famous Tiger sluggers who made a habit of bringing American League batting championships to Detroit.

Harris succeeded the greatest of them all as manager, Ty Cobb. He sold Harry Heilmann, four-time champion, to the Cincinnati Reds. Harry Manush, who led the league in 1926, went to St. Louis and later to Washington. Bob Fothergill, the roly-poly slugger, was sent to the White Sox last season. Harry Rice, who went to Detroit in the Manush deal, was traded to New York.

The heaviest hitting Tigers of 1930 were infielders, Gehring, Alexander and McManus. Stone was the only outfielder above the .300 mark while Funk and Johnson barely reached .275.

DELEGATION TO GREET INDIANS UPON ARRIVAL

Basketball Team From Chemawa Here Tomorrow for Two-Game Series—Juniors to Salem.

The Big Chiefs of Chemawa come to town tomorrow afternoon for a two-game basketball series with Medford high school, at the Armory Friday and Saturday evenings. The game tomorrow night will start at 8 o'clock with a preliminary struggle. The Saturday night main event will start at 9 o'clock to give business people a chance to attend.

The Indians will be greeted by a delegation of high school students, and there will be a rally. It will be the first meeting for the two schools on the basketball floor, though they have tangled four times on the gridiron. Chemawa's football squad used to make an annual visit when all the other schools were shy about playing Callison's team. They always wore a colorful outfit and always gave a good account of themselves.

Have Southpaw. Chemawa has a left-handed player who, if able to get into the game, will probably be a thorn in the side of the Burgherites. The locals have never gone up against a southpaw. A southpaw has a puzzling style. The Redekins are good passers and tireless runners. They never stop trying. Two years ago, at the state tournament, they failed to win a game, but were popular with the crowds and also produced a battle.

The Medford team is in the best physical condition of the year and the kids have regained their shooting, getting so they can plunk in fouls and baskets from around the foul line.

Coach Ray Henderson of the Junior high school will take the Junior high basketballers under his wing and depart for Salem tonight, where they will play the Parrish Junior high two games, starting Friday night. The winner will probably be acclaimed as state junior champions.

ROGUE RIVER TEAMS SCORE OVER TALENT

TALENT, Ore., Feb. 12.—(Sp.)—Talent and Rogue River staged a game of basketball at the Talent gym Tuesday. Rogue River girls defeated the Talent girls, 22 to 15 and the boys' score was 14 to 13 in favor of Rogue River.

Pile Suffers

End Your Misery Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles an internal medicine must be used to be able to strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, a specialist, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients, with the marvelous record of success in 940 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own drugist.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation until you have tried HEM-ROID. Jarmin & Woods will supply you and guarantee money back if it does not end all Pile misery.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a bad head and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute.

REIGH COUNT'S SON IS GROOMED AS CHAMPION

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—(AP)—A potential racing champion is being nursed at John D. Hertz's Leona Farm near Gary, Ill. He is a sorrel son of Reigh Count-Anita Peabody, and almost the image of his famous sire which won the 1928 Kentucky derby. Anita Peabody, who broke down in winning the 1927 Futurity at Belmont, was rated as one of the most brilliant fillies of turf history.

THYE WRISTLOCKS SWEDISH MATMAN INTO SUBMISSION

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 12.—(AP) Ted Thye, Portland heavyweight wrestling contender and wristlock specialist, got his revenge against Charley Hansen, Seattle, here last night. With two previous defeats over Thye, the Swedish matman started out as if to add another to his string, taking the first fall to his own pet hold, the backward body slam, in 10 minutes, 45 seconds.

Coming back for the second fall, Hansen attempted to headlock his opponent. Thye feigned grogginess. In trying for another headlock, Hansen left himself wide open for a wristlock and "Terrible Teddy" let him have it. It was over in three minutes, 45 seconds.

Thye got his wristlock working when he resumed, dumping him six times with the hold and adding a few shoulder butts for good measure. Hansen was bled up in one corner of the ring and showed no inclination to continue when the referee awarded the fall to Thye. Time, three minutes. Hansen protested the decision.

Freddie (Doc) Meyers, newcomer from Chicago, wrestled five minutes to a draw with Stanley Pinto and gave a good account of himself.

Sailor Pete and Pete Axtman went three rounds to a draw in the curtain raiser.

NEW RULE MAKES "DIVING" HARD IN ILLINOIS ARENAS

CHICAGO—(AP)—There is a strain of humor in the decree of the Illinois state athletic commission that press tables shall be moved back four feet from the ringside.

The move was made so that fighters who dive through the ropes may have an uninterrupted fall to the concrete floor instead of to a soft spot in reporters' laps.

The edict followed a "swan dive" of K. O. Christner, the Akron rubber peddler who parted the ropes during his fight with Mickey Walker here and landed on three reporters.

The new plan was tried out at White City recently. Newspapersmen found the move profitable. The trial was made at a wrestling match and one wrestler fell to the floor but, being a wrestler, was unharmed and climbed back into the ring.

MAILS PLAYS CATCH WITH DOOMED MEN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Walter Mails, who twirled and clowned his way through the big leagues, has one of the most curious diversions of any ball player on the Pacific coast.

Mails, now on the roster of the Portland club, and the newly appointed baseball coach at Santa Clara university, during the winter plays catch with condemned men in the corridors of "death row" at San Quentin prison. Mails lives just outside the gates of San Quentin and is one of the outsiders allowed the freedom of the walled city. He refuses to divulge any of the remarks passed with the prisoners.

BOWLING COLUMN

Spurred by defeat in the opening game, the Nats rallied in their city Bowling league match last night with the Mail Tribune Typos, to take the succeeding games by wide margins. Tom Noud, lead-off man for the Nats, rolled a consistent 540 for the evening, tumbling 221 pins in the nightcap.

SCOTCH FIGHTER BARS NO FOEMAN

LONDON—(AP) Benny McGehee walked nearly 400 miles to get a foothold toward fame and fortune, particularly fortune.

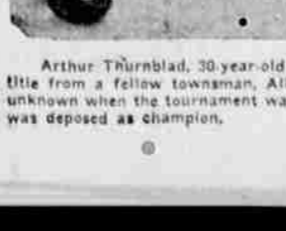

Benny is 21 and sturdy and in 1928 was the amateur bantam champion in all Scotland.

Now he's ready to meet all comers in the welterweight class, and walked here from Glasgow to do so.

Benny's family—his father, mother and six children—live on about $10 a week, he said, because of the depression in the Clydebank shipyards.

That's why Benny wants fortune before fame.

NEW 3-CUSHION BILLIARD KING

Arthur Thurnblad, 30-year-old billiard player, won the three-cushion title from a fellow townman, Allen Hall. Thurnblad virtually was unknown when the tournament was begun. Johnny Dayton, Sedalia, Mo., was deposed as champion.

LIGHTWEIGHTS ON GRAPPLING MENU HERE WEDNESDAY

Medford's next wrestling card, set for Wednesday night at the Armory, will present some of the lightweight wrestlers and will mark the return of Henry Jones, Provo, Utah, to the local ring. He will grapple with Ray Lyness, Seattle.

In the feature bout and fans are promised some fast action mixed with science.

Jones appeared in Medford the last time when he lost his junior welterweight championship of the world to Yaqul Joe, sensational Indian wrestler, who lost it later to Wildcat Pete of Eugene.

The special event will present Hamy Elliott, former University of Oregon wrestling coach, against Roy Breeze, up-state wrestler. Elliott is well known locally for his ability and is matched against one of the toughest men in the game.

A number of good matches are planned after this card if support of fans warrants their presentation.

STEVE ANDERSON SHOE SOLD IN FINLAND CITY

SEATTLE—(AP) A shoe manufacturer in Helsinki, Finland, has named a track shoe after Steve Anderson, former University of Washington hurdler who tied the high stick record of 14.4 seconds eight times.

Anderson bought a pair of shoes in the Finnish city last summer and stepped out and tied the world's record the first time he wore them.

Upon leaving Helsinki the manufacturer asked Anderson permission to name the type of shoe the "Steve Anderson."

SKI STAR TRAINS FOR CRATER TRIP

FORT KLAMATH, Ore., Feb. 12.—(Special)—Chosen for the Olympic elimination contest to be held at Lake Tahoe, California and the great 42-mile Crater Lake ski race, both scheduled for February 22, Manfred Jacobson has arrived at Fort Klamath to complete his active training over the long course.

The Fort Klamath Crater Lake Lodge and return ski race still holds the attention of champion ski racers in the west as evidenced by the increasing number of entrants for this year.

My erstwhile colleague, Mr. Brian Bell, has always contended that the story of Mr. McMillin's first game against Harvard was one of the classics of football. Harvard won the game, but McMillin was the individual star of the fray, giving the Crimson plenty to worry about. As the game ended, "Tiny" Maxwell, the referee, dived into the last pile-up of players, extracted the ball, turned to McMillin and said:

SPORT SLANT'S Alan J. Gould

Bobby Jones and Big Bill Tilden, both bowing themselves out of the competitive sports picture into the motion pictures for 1931, leave a record of strange contrast though each rose to the very pinnacle of achievement and fame in the performance of their specialties.

Tilden was a world's champion tennis player before Jones captured his first national golf title. Big Bill is nine years older than Bobby, but their chief accomplishments were spread through the same decade, the period of 1920-30 that has been the glamorous and clamorous era of American sport.

Jones was a golf prodigy from the outset, gifted with doing the right thing naturally, but with a temperament that needed to be readjusted. Tilden just fair as a schoolboy performer, but was blessed with an unquenchable "will to win" from boyhood and sufficient persistence to master the stroking technique of tennis by prolonged practice. Tilden, as a result, was 27 when he won the national singles for the first time, Jones just 21 when he captured his first national open.

Jones has quit competition at the very zenith of his powers, with all the world's major titles in his possession. Tilden has finally stepped out after many a stormy episode and after having passed the peak of his ability by a margin of at least three or four years.

It would have been bigger "news" if Tilden had quit amateur tennis when he made his last great stand in defense of the Davis Cup in 1927. As a matter of fact, it is believed Big Bill was persuaded not solely through personal desire to help bring the famous tennis trophy back from France. Tilden loved a good tennis fight, and the French were able to accommodate him.

In the last few years Tilden has been able to master only flashes of the form that made him a world's champion from 1920 thru 1925. He admitted once himself that the old "will to win" was slipping a trifle.

Bo McMillin's hair is graying, but the one-time All-American quarterback and field leader of the famous Praying Colonels of Centre College still can weave a mean hip or pluck a pass out of the air on the run. Under restricted conditions he gave a demonstration for the benefit of football coaches at their annual clinic in New York as part of a discussion of backfield technique.

"If there was any secret to whatever success I may have had, as a player," remarked Bo, "it was in planting my feet properly for the purpose of balance, plus position for going some place quickly."

My erstwhile colleague, Mr. Brian Bell, has always contended that the story of Mr. McMillin's first game against Harvard was one of the classics of football. Harvard won the game, but McMillin was the individual star of the fray, giving the Crimson plenty to worry about.
