

COLEMAN WILL REFEREE TILTS WITH ASHLAND

'Slats' Gill to Handle Watch in Crucial Cage Series—Klamath Game Next for Locals.

Ralph Coleman of the Oregon State college will referee the annual basketball games between the Medford and Ashland high schools, and "Slats" Gill, Oregon State coach, will be the timekeeper handling the pistol and the watch.

Coleman, one of the leading referees of the northwest, who officiates at college conference games and the state tournament at Salem each year, has accepted an invitation for the job. He refereed the last Ashland-Medford football game. This precludes the possibility of either school being "rieharted" with its attendant discord. The Medford squad with all the overconfidence knocked out of it by the 40 to 29 defeat at the hands of Chemawa Saturday night, starts practice this evening for the game with Klamath Falls at Klamath Falls next Friday night. This is one of the important games of the year. A victory means Medford will have to win but one of the Ashland games to clinch the district conference. If they lose they will have to win both of them.

Rogue Boy Effective

Klamath Falls defeated Ashland 32 to 30 last Friday night. Wake-man, forward for the Pelicans, and former Rogue River boy, scored 21 points for his team and kept them in the running.

It is expected that Chuck Clay, forward of the Burgherles, who pulled a tendon in the Friday night game, will be back in the same.

Next Saturday night Medford played Chiloquin at Chiloquin. This is not a conference game but winning it will keep the reservation quiet from issuing a challenge just before the state tournament to the team that wins the district title.

The Medford junior high team returned chastened yesterday from an invasion of the Willamette. They were beaten twice by Parrish junior high of Salem and once by the Roosevelt junior high of Eugene. Parrish won both games by the same score, 32 to 19.

The Medford juniors led in both games except at the finish and in the Saturday night game were crippled by the removal of Turpin, center, on fouls.

HOCKEY REFEREE ROUSES FANS' IRE

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The day of crying "kill the umpire" isn't past. Only in this case it was hockey, not baseball.

After last night's National league hockey match between the New York Rangers and the Chicago Blackhawks, a delegation of the citizenry waited on referee Mickey Ion, in front of the stadium. Their intentions were not for Ion's best interests. For he had declared illegal a goal in the final 20 seconds by Tommy Cook, which would have given the Hawks a 2-2 tie, instead of a 2 to 1 defeat. Ion, however, made his departure from a side door.

SOVIET'S DOG DERBY COVERS 7200 MILES

MOSCOW.—(AP) The grueling 200 mile "dog derby" at The Pas, Man. Canada, wouldn't make a suitable curtain raiser for a dog test being organized here.

Simmons Greatest Player In Majors Says Kid Pal

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Al Simmons is the greatest ball player in the major leagues, even though his golf is a bit off at times. This is straight from 12-year-old H. King Wade, Jr., known in the baseball colony here as "Al's Pal."

The lad spends every hour he can with the Philadelphia fence buster and Sunday they tour the links of the country club. It happens not infrequently that King's score is lower than Al's — but what's a golf score between pals? King's father, Dr. H. King Wade, Sr., a prominent physician here, took his son to St. Louis to see the A's play. Wrist watches were being given for home runs. Just before Al went to bat, King said: "Al, you're going to get a homer."

"Homey" was the answer. "But Simmons rapped out his 21st home run of the season and for the favorable prediction gave a watch to King with this inscription on the back: "From Al Simmons to H. King Wade, Jr., 21st home run 7-12-29."

They met two years ago when Simmons came here for his annual pre-season conditioning.

KEY TO SPECIES IN CHEMICAL PARTICLES

PASADENA, Cal.—(AP)—"Genes" says Dr. Calvin B. Bridges, geneticist at the California Institute of Technology, "are numerous tiny bits of special chemicals existing in the nucleus of each cell."

"They are so minute that it is doubtful whether they can be seen with the best microscope, yet so powerful that they are the agents that determine whether a given cell will develop into a flea, an elephant or a man."

STILL SUSPECTS FILE DEMURRER ON GRAND JURY

A demurrer has been filed by Charles Reames, defense attorney. In the moonshine still possession charges upon which Raleigh Matthews, Albert Goetjen and Ted Smith were indicted by a grand jury several weeks ago and is expected to result in some delay in the trial of the cases.

The demurrer, on file today at the county clerk's office, sets forth that the grand jury acted without authority in returning the indictments on grounds the charges were not tryable in Jackson county. It is further set out that there is more than one crime charged, that the facts do not constitute a crime, and the indictments contain matters and allegations, if true, that would justify the crime charged.

The men were arrested in the Reese Creek section last November by county and state officers.
