

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

Daily and Sunday... MEDFORD PRINTING CO. 25-27-29 N. Fir St. Phone 72

Subscription rates... Entered as second class matter at Medford, Oregon, under Act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS... MEMBER OF ADULT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Advertising Representatives... MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE ASSOCIATION

Ye Smudge Pot (By Arthur Perry)

A Pal Pal Pal Delta Pal girl from the university, spent Sunday at home, and called a recent baby a smudge—whatever that is.

It looks like the crop of 1/2-truths in this vicinity this spring, will all be 1/2-truths.

The legislature, which in its idiotic dawdling has introduced 961 new bills at the present session, desires to extend the March 1st deadline.

R. Bardwell has returned from a jump into California, with the late fungus growth on his upper lip conspicuous by its absence.

A mechanical mess catapulted into a phone pole late yesterday, but even a phone pole could make it no more of a mess.

A. O. Lundquist, who was married three weeks ago, is able to be out again and will likely be able to assume his duties as carpenter and contractor.

Alexander Legge, who made a fizzle of convincing the farmers they could think faster than a horde of Chicago wheat gamblers, has resigned.

Flowers—slightly faded (Morris, Colo., Times)—An honest comment on his life in a newspaper is hard to make.

The bowler triangle murder trial will flow two weeks, and there is not a kitchen sink in Portland, or the Willamette valley, that will hold that many dirty dishes.

Jacksonville roosters are getting into roost yards and feasting on new born hyacinths and periwinkles.

A horse whinnied on Central avenue Mon. pm, and was mistaken for a 1925 auto horn, expense prepaid all points west of Chicago.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, slightly premature, has started running for president next year on the democratic ticket.

Editorial Correspondence

EN ROUTE PHOENIX TO LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—This is written on board the transcontinental train "Apache," which sounds like a full-blooded Indian but isn't.

You can say all you like about Friday the 13th not being a jinx, but we have evidence to the contrary.

Someone in the aisle volunteered the information that we had really traveled 65 miles west of Phoenix in the direction of Yuma when a dyke broke and washed out about five miles of S. P. track just ahead of the train.

Someone in the aisle volunteered the information that we had really traveled 65 miles west of Phoenix in the direction of Yuma when a dyke broke and washed out about five miles of S. P. track just ahead of the train.

Ye editor was very weary, for his rest had not only been disturbed by the backing and bumping and filling, but by a husky British traveler with a kitbag as large as a Chattanooga and a nose in proportion.

Unfortunately the hero of the Marne occupied the lower directly opposite area and had to be awakened when the conductor collected the tickets.

Snoring in a Pullman is bad enough at any time, but when it is across the aisle and the train is reposing quietly on a siding the situation is considerably worse than General Sherman's definition of war.

Struck the nasal rock crusher, and around a sudden sense of peace and spiritual release, akin to that previously described, acent the Arizona desert in moonlight.

Finally called the porter and told him to stop the disturbance, but he only grinned and shook his head.

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 16.—(AP)—After serving as postmistress under six presidents, Mrs. Kate Hudson has retired at 76, and an 18-year-old girl has succeeded her.

Hazel Underhill is declared to be the youngest postmistress in the west, while Mrs. Hudson was one of the oldest in the Pacific coast region.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, slightly premature, has started running for president next year on the democratic ticket.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, slightly premature, has started running for president next year on the democratic ticket.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, slightly premature, has started running for president next year on the democratic ticket.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, slightly premature, has started running for president next year on the democratic ticket.

MAIL TRIBUNE DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

MAIL TRIBUNE DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE. Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle. ACROSS: 1. Explosive device, 2. Log boat, 3. Lull, 4. Always, 5. Biblical lover, 6. Roman garment, 7. Negativ, 8. Fresh month, 9. Fresh coat with the elbow, 10. Unrefined, 11. Soft, 12. Northwestern state abbr., 13. Pays out, 14. Game, 15. Constellation, 16. Reverses, 17. Steamship, 18. Perceive, 19. Believer in, 20. Believer in, 21. Verdant, 22. Story, 23. Cover, 24. At a distance, 25. Head.

MAIL TRIBUNE DAILY CROSS-WORD PUZZLE. Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle. DOWN: 1. Garden plot, 2. Eggs, 3. Company, 4. Lull to excess, 5. Give a name to, 6. One who employs, 7. Latin closely, 8. Russian masculine name, 9. The farne, 10. Burned, 11. Plural ending, 12. Russian, 13. Old word for deer fat, 14. Domesticated, 15. Distance south of the equator abbr., 16. Commences, 17. Instant comb. form, 18. Drive off, 19. Maturate, 20. Paralyze, 21. The organ of motion, 22. Philippine, 23. Measure of weight, 24. Fruit.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11
12 13 14
15 16 17
18 19 20 21
22 23 24 25
26 27 28 29 30 31
32 33 34
35 36 37 38
39 40 41
42 43 44 45
46 47 48 49 50 51 52
53 54 55
56 57 58

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Quill Points

A friend is one who pays the price of enduring your bad qualities for the sake of enjoying your good ones.

The over-emphasis on sport seems especially reprehensible after three consecutive licks.

It can't take many more years to settle the Indian question, Gandhi is an old man.

These month stars who long for obscurity might try being the other senator from Idaho.

Maybe it is the shortage of truth that makes some people think they should use it sparingly.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Talks To Parents

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Do You Remember?

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY (From files of the Mail Tribune) February 17, 1921

The rain so confidently predicted by the weatherman for today, failed to show up.

Medford quit wins by one point from Roseburg in thrilling game.

O. A. C. export to outline plans for fair grounds.

"On Time Week" to start Sunday.

Ending of the fight over Rogue River fish is photographed in legislature.

Twenty Years Ago Today (From files of the Mail Tribune) February 17, 1911

Jonquin Miller, poet of the Sierras seriously ill.

200 former residents of North Dakota hold a "jolly up." Misses Gertrude Treleher and Bertha English play a piano duet.

Crater Lake social club to renovate their quarters and broaden activities.

Edward M. White makes final proof on a homestead east of Roxy Ann.

Army of hoboes headed for city and valley, Portland police warn.

Sons of Illinois to hold banquet and dance.

THE SUPPER PARTY By Mary Graham Bonner

The Little Black Clock and John and Peggy were back when the Days and Years and Months were spending their time when they were not on duty.

John and Peggy had been about to leave with the Clock when the Month said: "Can't you stay for supper?"

And another Month added: "Yes, we asked the Years and they said it would be all right, quite all right."

It reminded John and Peggy of the times when they had asked their mother if they could have friends stay for supper.

John and Peggy were eager to stay and the Little Black Clock thought it would be fun, too.

They wondered what they would have for supper. It turned out to be a delicious supper—not unlike the kind of meals they had back in the world.

When John and Peggy were eating the ice cream for dessert one of the Months said: "We have food such as you have in your part of the world, and sometimes such as people have in other parts of the world, but our food is always like the food of world people.

"That is because we are around in the world so much that we get into world habits and eat world food.

"But now we must have a concert for you. We all want to perform a little."

John looked at the Little Black Clock and so did Peggy, and the Clock smiled and said: "We'd be delighted to stay."

He knew from the look that John and Peggy had given him that they wanted to stay.

So the Years and the Months and the Days said they would start the performance right away. The Drury Day was back with them again, but he was feeling quite cheerful once more.

Tomorrow—"The Program."

TRANS-ATLANTIC PLANE IS READY

PARIS—(AP)—A new all-metal monoplane with a range of nearly 2,800 miles, fully loaded, has been completed for transatlantic air mail service.

The ship, which will carry a payload of 11,000 pounds, was built for the French transport company, Compagnie Generale Aeropostale, which contemplates crossing the south Atlantic between Africa and Brazil.

It has a wing span of nearly 162 feet and is powered with two motors, mounted in tandem style. The hull, entirely of metal, is nearly 50 feet long and is divided into five compartments for baggage, mechanics, and control rooms.

JUGOSLAVIAN QUEEN SUFFERING MEASLES

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 16. (AP)—Queen Marie of Yugoslavia, sister of King Carol and second daughter of Dowager Queen Marie, has the measles.

Ill for several days, the Yugoslavian queen Saturday was put to bed after developing an inflammation of the trachea. Physicians who called and found bronchitis and a rose rash with temperature which they later diagnosed as the measles.

WHITE LIES By Alice Judson Peale. Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Parents often make the moral training of their children unnecessarily difficult by emphasizing issues of abstract right and wrong.

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M. D. Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address: Dr. William Brady in care of The Mail Tribune.

WHAT WE HAVE NO ADENOIDIS? Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

Parents are best on the one hand by the tin doctors—school nurse, over-officious teachers, medical service agents—who decide from the child's dull book listlessness or mouth breathing that the child's adenoids should be removed.

MUTT AND JEFF—Mutt Maintains An Indiscreet Silence

2-17

CONTINUED