Hard Hearted Road Boss Finds Itinerant Preacher More Interested In Souls

(By Ernest Rostel)
The merits of saving souls and doing emergency relief road work were basis of a recent heart to heart debate between a road construction foreman and an itinerant preacher who had been fortunate in obtaining a week's employment under the emergency measure.

On the first day out, the preacher, who had made his home in Ashland, set lustily to work with his pick and shovel and was so engaged when the foreman left him. An hour or so later, he returned to the scene, after having traversed the length of the construction work, near Medford.

The person had six or seven laborers about him, listening to an earnest talk—it seemed to be about religion.

"What's coming off here?" inquired the foreman.

"I'm Jesus Christ," replied the inspired one, with one hand waving in the air.

"Yes, yes, I know," wonderingly replied the construction head, "but why aren't you working?"

"Ah, 'tis far more important that I save these men's souls than do my menial task," returned the parson blankly, and continued his preaching.

"You should do this on Sundays on the day set apart for such work," were words the preacher heard in reply.

"But you don't understand. I may never see these men again and now is the time to do good deeds. Road work matters but little in comparison to my life's work," the parson tried to explain.

The foreman told the religious worker the state was paying him to do road work and was not inclined to finance soul saving operations.

He was advised to hire a hall or join some religious group, and not to mix religion with the pick and shovel. It took considerable argument before the preacher, who was in dire need of the work, could be persuaded to pay attention to his labors without resorting to sermons.

APPLIGATE HEARS DEBATE ON CHAINS AT GRANGE MEET

(By Mrs. Nella Ridings)

An added attraction was featured at Applegate Grange February 15, by Professor Ralph Bailey, presenting the debate team of the Medford high school, which took both the affirmative and negative to the question: "Resolved that chain stores are detrimental to the best interest of the American republic."

A splendid presentation of "The Little Rebel" by Miss Maxine Bohner, interpretative reader, was followed by a reading in dialect which delighted the audience.

The lecturer then presented the debating teams, Helen Wilson and Maxine Hagen for the affirmative, Donald Darnelle and Max Carter for negative.

Many startling statistical facts were brought out by each side, showing the thoroughness with which the young debaters had studied their subject.

The judges decided in favor of the negative while the grange decided in favor of the affirmative by a rising vote.

Realizing the value of these debates to the students and as this was their ninth and last debate of the series, we extend them our heartfelt wishes for their success when they compete for the state championship in May.

After the debate the grange proceeded with the usual order of business.

Eight names were presented, which shows the contest for membership is progressing, with more to follow at our next meeting.

Frank Knutzen, chairman of the entertainment committee reported that the play is progressing.

The request that Applegate Grange is to take the next half-hour period to broadcast a program over KMED was taken under consideration.

The sick committee reported Mrs. Dave Courtney and George Martin recovering.

As this is the next youngest grange in Jackson county, a committee was appointed to draw up a set of by-laws, including Herbert Miller, Herbert Elmore and Bennie Ellis.

A committee was appointed to take up the matter of having the advertisements rewritten on the curtain to the stage. Reports to follow at the next regular meeting.

The first of a series of old-time dances was given February 14 by the Applegate Grange.

Grangers and their friends were invited. A good attendance was the result and the crowd was very enthusiastic in their praise.

Refreshment of cake and coffee were served by the N. E. C. committee.

Date for the next dance will be announced later.

TAKE IT EASY

DON'T let hard-water washing bother you. For it takes a lot more than hard water to stop White King. This pure granulated soap will lather—and lather freely—in any sort of water. So long as the water's wet, White King will do the job.

That's because White King is absolutely pure—made from vegetable and nut oils good enough to eat. It won't hurt anything water won't hurt. You can use it for anything—fine lingerie, woollens, cotton prints, glass, silver, even shampooing. It cleanses thoroughly even in lukewarm water.

White King Granulated Soap is economical too. A teaspoonful in a basin of water; a cupful in the washing machine. A little goes a long, long way! All grocers have it. Try it today.

GROVER GOING TO GRANTS PASS AS DAIRY MANAGER

(By Mrs. Nella Ridings)

Announcement was made Tuesday of the change of management of the Snider Dairy & Produce company of this city. G. H. Grover of Medford, who was junior partner with the late J. W. Snider for 10 years has been transferred to Grants Pass, D. O. Fredrick, who for six years has been manager of the local plant, will return to Medford where he will be associated with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Snider, in conducting the plant in that city.

Mr. Grover has spent 15 years in the dairy business and before that period he taught school. He has three children, one in junior high school, one in the fourth grade, and one three weeks of age. Mr. and Mrs. Grover and their family will move here for residence within a short time. Mr. Grover states that the policies of the local plant are in no manner changed and that the change in management is being made as a readjustment of the affairs of the company. J. W. Snider died several months ago. Through the efforts of Mr. Grover the local plant was started.

Mr. Fredrick has made many friends here, and is loath to leave on that account. He and Mrs. Fredrick will keep their beautiful home "Tahonia Lodge" on the banks of the Rogue river. Mr. Fredrick has made an exceedingly good record here in advancing the local plant to a place among the foremost in the county. He has been an active member of the local Lions club. He and Mr. Grover were schoolmates in Ohio.
