

OUTSIDE LABOR NOT NEEDED TO HARVEST CROPS

U. S. Employment Agent Gottlieb Warns Against Worker Influx — Many Being Turned Away Daily

"The local supply of help is ample to handle all work during the season," is the general report from districts and localities throughout the state concerning employment and, according to Chris Gottlieb, manager of the local United States employment bureau, the same statement also holds true in Medford.

"There are between fifty and seventy-five people come to my office every day in search of work, and I have to turn them away," he said this morning. There are 350 unemployed registered with the Medford branch, and hundreds make their appearance without filling out the registration cards.

Approximate estimations made by Mr. Gottlieb show that during the fruit season when the work is well under way, close to 2500 people are employed in the valley. This number, however, can easily be found in the locality.

Mr. Gottlieb stressed the fact that the unemployed in the valley will be sufficient to care for the needs, and that only local people will be employed when the work starts.

The table made out by the local office for the number of fruit workers includes 750 pickers, 400 packers, 1000 sorters and wipers, 300 as truckster, labelers, receivers, checkers, roustabouts, stampers, car loaders and pressmen, 130 box makers, 75 truck drivers and swappers, and 100 for miscellaneous jobs.

Seasonal reports issued from Portland shows in that city that 17,655 unemployed are registered, and there is now more than sufficient help for the work. The small town of Newberg, located near Portland, has 750 listed. About 500 are without work in The Dalles, where wheat, alfalfa and hay are being harvested, and cherries are being picked. Similar reports have been filed from practically every employment office in the state, according to the statement issued.

HOOVER DISCUSSES GERMANY'S PLIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—President Hoover today said he had conferred with leaders of political parties with a view to strengthening the situation in Germany.

"Since my return from the central west yesterday, I have conferred with those leaders of both political parties who are present in Washington with respect to certain steps which we might take to assist in economic recovery, both here and abroad. These conversations have been particularly directed to strengthening the situation in Germany. No definite plans or conclusions have yet been arrived at."

The city playground, being conducted at Boy Scout headquarters at the foot of the Bear creek bridge under the directorship of Miss Vivian Coe, is proving highly successful. The smaller children spend their time on slides and teeters and in the swings, enjoying themselves immensely. They are anxiously awaiting the reconstruction of the wading pool, which is to be filled with new clean sand.

Horse shoes, baseball, volleyball and other games are very popular. All equipment is new, including horse shoes, volley ball and net, base balls and bats. The equipment, supplied by the city, is greatly appreciated and used to a great extent. During the rainy days, the large recreation room in the headquarters building was used for games. "Steal the bacon" seemed the most popular, with many as twenty-two playing at one time.

The horseshoe tournament is to open next week, both singles and doubles being played. There will be an elimination tournament accompanied by a consolation tournament. Those who have signed up for the tournament so far are: Bobby Robinson, Ted O'Neill, Reese O'Neill, Earl Coe, Bill

Walker, Sammy Richardson, Orr Balford, Bert Luman, Bill Luman, Gerald Gordon, John McKee, Joe McKee, Warren Pichtner, and Russell Jordan.

The playground has been open from 8:00 to 4:00, but beginning next week it will be open from 8:30 to 5:00. Parents are invited to visit the playground, watching good, clean sport.

FORMER MEDFORDITE KILLED IN SERVICE

Word has been received here that Elmo Reagan, marine gunner at Pensacola, Fla., was killed when his plane crashed at the naval air station there. Reagan formerly resided in Medford, and later made his home in Portland.

Mrs. Reagan, who survives him, was formerly Miss Nellie Cox, an instructor in Medford high school. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reagan were well known here.
