SHE'S NICEST IN NICE—Of all the fair visitors at Nice, France's famed southern beach resort, angelic Signorina Laura Salermi, above, was selected as the most beautiful.

MEANS BUSINESS—Pretty Jessie Breiland, above, freshman at University of Washington, isn't just posing as a cadet. Said to be the only girl enrolled in R. O. T. C. in the country, she'll take her place with men students in military instruction next fall.

HERE'S AMOS FOLKS, but this time it's without the black-face makeup. Freeman Gosden, above, famous radio entertainer, is wondering what he'll tell Andy about this little fellow he caught at Camp Catoclin, Md.

ON ONE LEG, AT THAT!—This steed isn't balky, as you might guess from this spectacular action photo, but he's showing how to execute the difficult one-foot spin. The man in the saddle is Reginald "Snowy" Baker, famed sportsman, and now training members in Southern California athletic clubs for the Olympic Games next year.

HOLLYWOOD'S NEWEST FILM STAR doesn't come from Broadway this time, but from an Indian reservation. He is little "Big Eagle," cute papoose, who is shown here with lovely Anita Louise, with whom he will play in a forthcoming comedy. The woman on the right is Big Eagle's mama.

HELLO, BEAUTIFUL!—Girls entering the International Beauty Pageant at Galveston, Texas, this summer will have to go some to beat out lovely Millette Simon, above, for the title "Miss Universe." Millette is Belgian's entry.

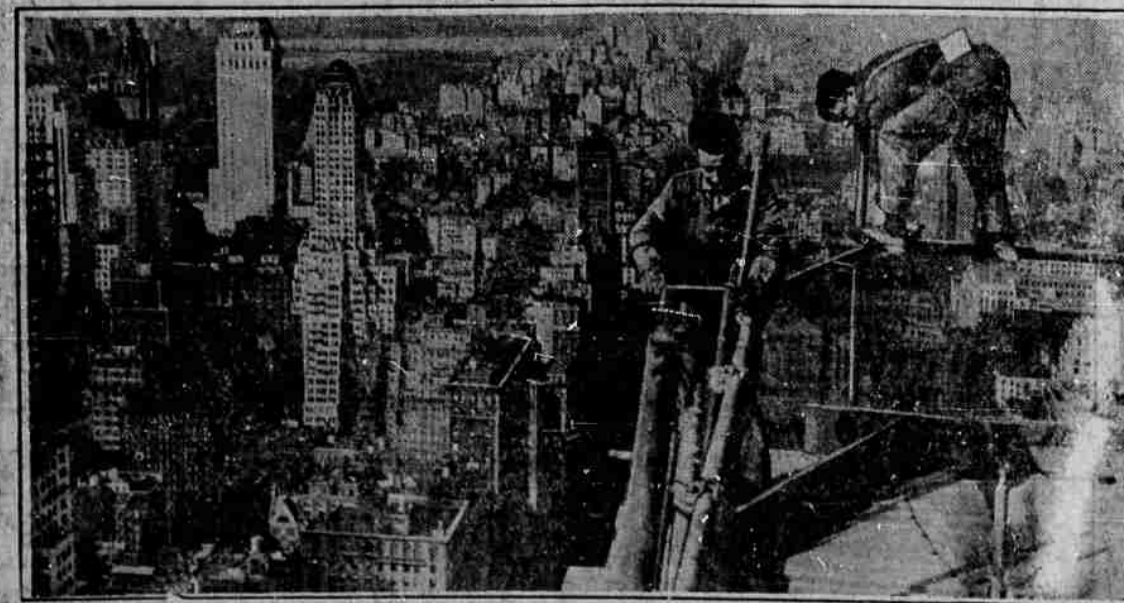

JUST AN OLD SPANISH CARTWHEEL is what these vivacious dancers are making such a ceremony over. Daughters of Spanish pioneers in California, these buxom castnet clickers are shown participating in the celebration rededicating Chavez road, one of Los Angeles' original highway entrances. Senorita Trinidad Goni, famed dancer, is driving the wooden vehicle, older than the city itself, with reins of silk.

LEAVE IT TO THIS PROPELLER to make things hum when it is attached to the Canadian freighter Cornwallia. Weighing seven tons, the huge propeller is shown being lifted from the hold of the liner Alaunia after its voyage from England to Montreal. The holes in the blades are to lessen noise and vibration and increase speed.

IF SHE FALLS from her aquaplane, which she is shown riding at Long Beach, Calif., it will be small worry to six-year-old Joy Crew, above. She is one of our champion juvenile swimmers.

RIISING TO THE TOP OF THEIR PROFESSIONS—With New York at their feet, these nifty ironworkers calmly erect a scaffolding for two big beacons atop the new Waldorf-Astoria hotel. Fashionable Park avenue appears just below.
