Communications

Jazz Protest Commended

To the Editor:
Medford musicians are rejoicing particularly over one resolution passed by the National Federation of Music clubs, during the recent national convention at San Francisco, a resolution asking broadcasting companies to refrain from sending out syncopated versions of classical compositions. The National Federation does not hold that transcribing the works of the old masters into the idiom of jazz is any aid whatever to the appreciation of good music, an opinion which is shared with earnest enthusiasm by local music lovers.
We may have shuddered only slightly at Lemare's "Andantino" as it became "Moonlight and Roses"; we may have been able to enjoy waltzing to Carrie Jacobs Bond's lovely songs, when transplanted to the ballroom; but when Saint Saens was treated likewise (Delilah's haunting aria with its wind over the wheatfields accompaniment) turned into dance music, it approached sacrilege. And when it was discovered that not even Schubert's immortal serenade and other works of similar standard, were left unmolested—the flagrant examples of desecration outraged serious musicians all over the land.
Among other business transacted during the last days of the convention, was the agreement to push plans in support of American composers and artists, and the resolve to continue to labor for wider introduction of music education in universities and colleges.

HEAT MAY BRING BUTTER ADVANCE 'ERE WEEK ENDS

PORTLAND, July 7.—(AP)—The butter market looked firmer today. Prospects of reduced production followed the thermometer as the heat wave intensified. Whether or not an advance will be forced depends largely upon the extent of the hotter weather. According to talk in the trade, an advance may be expected before the end of the week, especially in the higher grades—the one first effected by hot weather.
Producers of butterfat may help themselves liberally by taking good care of their product. One of the cardinal principals in the production of high grade cream in hot weather is "keep it cool."
If producers will go to a little extra bother handing cream and speed up shipments as much as possible, the increased size of the cream check, due to higher quality cream will well repay them for the trouble.
The egg market was considered barely steady. The demand Monday was fairly good, but dealers say they are watching developments closely and would not be surprised to see the consumer demand slacked slightly.
There was little trading in poultry in the first two days of this week. Higher temperatures reduced consumer demand. Prices were not changed, however.
Another rise in watermelon prices was forced in the whole trade by a continuation of the hot weather. The new price is 2½ cents a pound to the trade and no recessions from that price reported. Another advance is predicted in the trade before the end of this week, and some say more than one.
Cantaloupe prices followed quotations of watermelons to higher levels. Both Imperial valley and Delano offerings were up 25 cents.
Country killed veal was advanced ½ cent a pound. Demand for quality stuff is good with a fair movement in less desirable offerings.
Dressed spring lambs were quoted at an 11-cent top. This is ½ cent under earlier quotations.
Offerings of apricots from The Dalles increased. Good quality offerings were moving to the trade at 75-80 cents. California offerings were 80 cents.
Corn prices were about a dime lower in wholesale circles here Tuesday. The new market is 40 cents.
Cucumbers were easier generally in the wholesale trade. The general market was quoted at 85 cents a box for field grown stuff.
A car oad of California Elberta peaches was received by brokers here Tuesday. They are passing to the trade at $1.35.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP) A heavy volume of profit taking and short selling broke the stock market sharply today, bringing net losses of $2 to nearly $10 a share. The most active trading came in the last hour, although the market was headed downward through the busy session after a rise of $1 to $3 at the opening.
Professional traders apparently thought that the market's strong rise beginning June 20, when President Hoover's debt moratorium plan became public, had discounted news of the actual settlement at Paris, and proceeded to take profits. Bears based their activity, in part, on rumors that some of the private German banks were in unliquid condition.
The Berlin Boerse closed several points higher, and Paris and London markets displayed a strong tone.

It isn't that they want more, but they want recognition of their skill. Wise Stalin arranges things accordingly.

He announces that "more individuality is needed in industry," which is another way of saying that the person that develops individuality in the way of ability will get extra pay.

Blind hatred of Russia, shown by some of our respectable citizens, public officials, and industrialists, is an interesting development of near-sighted foolishness.
