Economy Groceteria

The Home of Bread Like Mother Made

Keep Cool With Fruits and Vegetables

Fruits and vegetables are the natural hot weather foods. A nice salad—a melon or fruit with cream—is the greatest contributor to hot-weather comfort. Eat fresh vegetables—tomatoes are fine now and the cost is low.

Fruit or tomato juice will quench that hot weather thirst that hangs on regardless of how much water you drink and there never was anything quite so good as peaches or berries with cream.

What you eat has more to do with your comfort than what the thermometer tells you.

For your health's sake—include lots of fruits and vegetables in your diet. Come to the Groceteria where both are abundant and best—where prices are lowest and the privilege of self-selection insures satisfaction always.
