

HUNGARIANS MAKE BUDAPEST HOP

GAS TANKS BONE DRY ON ARRIVAL

Captains Magy and Endres Forced to Land in Field Near City As Fuel Falls After 3239-Mile Hop From Harbor Grace, N. F.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 16.—(AP)—Captain Alexander Magy and Captain George Endres brought the trans-Atlantic monoplane "Justice for Hungary" down to a forced landing 20 miles outside of Budapest tonight.

They came down as the last drop of gasoline was exhausted. Neither was hurt, although the plane was damaged.

The fliers crawled out at the end of their spectacular 3200-mile flight grinning broadly. A few minutes before they landed the plane roared over the city, turned and circled before heading in the direction of the airport.

It seemed as though the whole city of Budapest raised its voice in a great roaring cheer as the ship circled over the city just before it came down. Thousands who had been waiting hours for their arrival were perched on roof tops, jammed in the streets and craning out of windows as the ship passed over.

Circle Costly. It was those few minutes of circling over the city which cost the two fliers the glory of bringing their ship down on Matyasfold air field, but even so their was the first flight since Lindbergh's passage to Paris in which the pilots set a definite goal for themselves and came so close to hitting it.

The two men piled into an automobile and went on to the airport. They were forced down near the little village of Bicske at a point after 7:30 p. m. (1:30 p. m. E.S.T.).

In just a little over 26 hours they had covered the 3239 miles between Harbor Grace, where they took off at 11:18 E.S.T. Wednesday morning, and Budapest, averaging about 135 miles an hour.

WHEAT BOARD CANNOT BOOST PRESENT PRICE

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—Chairman Stone of the farm board said today the board was not in a position to attempt price stabilization to relieve the present low price of wheat.

To do so, he said, would mean continuous purchases until next June.

"We haven't the funds to stabilize for that length of time," he added.

20,000 ALIENS TO BE SHIPPED FROM AMERICA

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—The labor department expects to deport 20,000 aliens this year.

In making this prediction today, Secretary Doak said these deportations, together with voluntary departures, would more than equal the number of immigrants.

Doak said the department expected immigration in the present calendar year would not exceed 50,000. He pointed out that whereas 19,000 persons entered the United States in May, 1930, only 3,900 were admitted last May.

CONFAB AT PARIS WILL AID CREDIT

German Officials Going to France for Talk On Restoration Confidence in Europe—Banks Opened for Mid-Month Payrolls

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—Private advices to New York bankers from Paris state that the plan for extending financial assistance to Germany, presented to the French cabinet today would consist of a loan of $500,000,000 which would be guaranteed by customs receipts.

(By the Associated Press) Developments in the situation arising from Germany's financial crisis are succeeding one another with a rapidity unusual in international diplomacy. Representatives of the principal World War allies, including Secretary of State Stimson, met at Paris and invited Chancellor Bruening to come there as soon as he can.

Prime Minister MacDonald of England, cancelled a visit to Berlin in which he was to have made a speech, and will remain at London for a meeting there on Monday of representatives of the principal world powers. This meeting may supersede that of the Young plan experts who were to have gathered to dovetail that plan with the Hoover memorandum.

At Berlin the banks which were closed two days ago by Government decree, reopened to meet the mid-month payroll. There were no disorders. The cabinet remained in session considering Chancellor Bruening's trip to Paris and London.

PARIS, July 16.—(AP)—Premier Laval announced tonight at the end of a cabinet session that Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany are coming to Paris to "talk over things which would lead to restoration of credit and confidence in Europe."

Their visit, he said, also will be an occasion for examining the financial guarantees and the measures of political appeasement which must accompany them.

'Lousy' Not Libelous Word Declares Supreme Court; No Penalty Yet For Envy

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Peter S. McCormack decided today that the word "lousy" is not libelous. He dismissed the $150,000 damage suit against the publishers of "Life" magazine brought by the Shubert Theatre corporation. The Shuberts had complained that an issue of the magazine had characterized their efforts as producers as "lousy."

"The statement under consideration is an ill-advised and tactless attempt at humor rather than a libel in any sense," Justice McCormack said.

"It may be irksome to one's pride of accomplishment to be unjustly taken to task, but such is the state of social morals that all men must tolerate, particularly those who ambitiously and successfully have striven, the opinions of others concerning their work."

Daughter's Death, Long Brooded, Is Cause of Suicide

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 16.—(AP)—Brooding over the slaying of her 6-year-old daughter by a playmate was blamed today for the suicide here last night of Mrs. Beulah Ethridge of Denver. Last August the child was shot by Gloria Utter, 5, who explained, "Rose stole my rag doll, so I shot her."

Newspaper clippings telling of the killing were found by Mrs. Ethridge's bedside after she swallowed poison in a rooming house.

NEW STEP-DAD JUST A RUMOR TO FAIR AMEE

SEATTLE, July 16.—(AP)—To Amee Temple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, her new stepfather, the Rev. Guy Hudson is just a newspaper report.

"I haven't met Mr. Hudson," Mrs. McPherson remarked severely when reporters met her train here today. "Our paths didn't cross. Anyway, it's strictly my mother's business."

The evangelist, who has become a "bad" since her last visit here, admitted she had followed with interest newspaper accounts of her mother's moonlight wedding, and subsequent reports that her new stepfather had been married before.

That's, Ma's Business. "That also is mother's business," she said. "But I did read the newspaper reports."

Mrs. McPherson laughed away questions in Portland yesterday who asked about reports that her mother was going to find a husband for her.

"I'm married to my job," she said.

The evangelist and a party are enroute to Vancouver, B. C., where Mrs. McPherson is to address the graduating class of the Canadian Bible school.

Meier had urged legislation similar to that used in Indiana.

HARVEST OF BARTLETTS OPEN AUG. 3

Traffic Association Figures Schedule On Local Crop—Fruit Sizing Well Is Report—Market Tone Hopeful—Exports Seen

Picking and packing of the Rogue River valley crop of Bartlett pears is scheduled to start Monday, August 3, and the first general movement to eastern markets is scheduled to begin August 5, it was announced at today's meeting of the Rogue River Traffic association.

On some of the lighter soil orchards of the valley, the first picking will start three or four days before this time.

The Bartlett crop is now sizing under ideal weather conditions and for the most part will be up to standards.

Market Hopeful. Individual packers say it is too early for price forecasts, but admit that the eastern pear market has a more hopeful tone. Some export trade in Bartletts is developing.

It was reported yesterday on the streets that one grower had sold a large block of Bartletts for $115 per ton, or $30 per ton. Another report said that cannery representatives were offering from $22.50 to $30 per ton.

It is felt that the California Bartlett crop will be cleaned up before the local eastern shipment starts.

The inspection committee of the traffic association reported that there was a good chance for the plant bureau of the recently created state board of agriculture to extend to shippers and growers a $1 inspection charge, which would include the spray residue charge of 50 cents.

The traffic committee reported that the Erie and Pennsylvania railroads had declined to grant the use of the Potomac gateway for shipments from the west coast but thought it could be so adjusted so as to be available for the Medford district. Granting of the request would permit the use of southern routes, thus avoiding the extreme cold of the midwest and east in a large measure.

COUNCIL FEELS RESPONSIBILITY UP TO VOTERS

Result of Medford Bond Election Is Blamed On Depression—No Plans for Resubmission Soon

The following statement on the bond election result was made by Mayor E. M. Wilson this noon: "While the result of our sewer bond election was against the project, the prevailing national depression, and particularly our state sentiment foretold the result.

"From the standpoint of the city council, I can say that every councilman feels that his duty has been performed and that the project as submitted to the voters was a constructive plan as nearly perfect as six months of intensive study could make it. Only 40 per cent of the registered vote was cast, which can not be regarded as representative.

"In the cities of La Grande and Walla Walla sewer improvements were at first turned down and heavy damage claims were secured against each city before the people supported bond issues and built systems equaled by no other. This will, no doubt, be the result in Medford.

"Regarding submitting the question again to the people, the council at this time has no definite plan of procedure. We may be forced by the state board of health to call another election at once, if we can provide a fund in October for our next budget to secure complete detail and design of plant from a consulting engineer I would prefer waiting until this can be done before submitting the question again. The surveys and information we now have are of great value.

"As to contagion and property damage, I am much concerned from the standpoint of health. A death traceable to Medford's sanitary condition would result in irreparable injury to the family and a serious damage action against the city. We now have a property damage case before us. Others are threatened. In yesterday's election the responsibility for existing conditions was placed on the voters.

"While the councilmen laughed last night over the defeat, yet inwardly they felt hurt that the gravity of the sewer situation

Following the overwhelming defeat of the $255,000 septage trunk sewer bond issue yesterday afternoon over three to one, the mayor and city councilmen are today in a quandry off-hand as to just what can be done by the municipal government in way of remedial conditions to the old septage tank, sufficiently to get by with the state board of health's orders until times are better financially or the Medford voters are in a better mood.

"They say that with the defeat of the bond issue the city is now up against a real condition and not a theory. However, they are agreed that it would be useless to put the question again up to the voters for at least three months."

Accept Verdict Mayor E. M. Wilson, W. W. Allen, chairman of the council health committee, C. A. Meeker, chairman of the council finance committee and the others of the council accept the verdict of the voters with good grace. While the city officials recognized for weeks past that there was grave danger of the bond issue being defeated because of the financial depression they did not dream of so big a defeat.

Their attitude all along has been that it was their duty to place this question, that has been dodged by prior city administrations for years past, up to the vote of the people, in view of the demand made by the state board of health last January that steps must be taken as soon as possible to rectify the present inadequate septage tank conditions. By so doing, they argued, the responsibility rested with the people, and the council could not be blamed for not acting.
