

GLADIOLI STEAL FLOWER DISPLAY AT WARNER HOME

The cool green of the lawn beneath the giant oaks, which shelter the W. J. Warner home on South Oakdale surrendered this morning to a flame of color as favorite gladioli, like the ancient gladiators from whom they derive their name, invaded the quiet scene with pomp and glory in the show sponsored by the Medford Garden club.

This afternoon, even-lined petals, variegated petals and ruffled petals flaunt their vivid colors from tall stately stems, in almost military fashion.

The blossoms have been arranged on tables, which form an inviting scene on the spacious lawn. Grass and trees create a most appropriate setting for the show and in the Warner collection itself are found some of the choicest blossoms on display.

The Corophloe, a pale pink flower, which crowds the stem, forces the petals of the blossom to overlap and form a spike of flowers extravagant in their beauty. From the extremity of deep pink the petals fade into an almost white center.

The Mother Macchree, one of the newest varieties, also entered by Mr. Warner, is a smoky lavender in color, blotched with yellow.

The Mrs. Anna Philtzer, a glorious white flower, is large of blossom and displays a lovely waxiness.

The King George and the Red Glory each add royalty to the scene with their velvety red petals. Those of the King George boast white centers, while the Red Glory's have ruffled edges.

One of the most attractive exhibits entered in the show is that of the 4-H Garden club members. Twenty children from the Washington, Jackson, Roosevelt and Lincoln schools have entered their mixed flowers in this display. Pansies, zinnias, larkspur, snapdragons and many others share honors with gladioli.

The general committee managing the show is composed of Mrs. James Lewis Ulrich, T. W. Miles, Leland Mentzer and E. E. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is chairman of the children's exhibit.

Hostesses for today are Mesdames E. W. Simmons, W. E. Crews, A. H. Drury and Olin Arnsperger.

At an early hour this morning displays had been entered by W. J. Warner and Mesdames R. M. Samuelson, W. H. Wood, A. L. Wilkinson, Eudora, M. E. Dungherty, J. W. Jacobs, R. E. Swan, Alta Korr and J. M. Mince.

The show will be continued tomorrow.

PALMER FUNERAL DATED SATURDAY

Funeral services for Gus Palmer, aged 60, who was found to have died from heart trouble on a mountain trail in the Applegate country Wednesday morning, will be held at 2:00 p. m. Saturday at the Conger chapel with the church of the Latter Day Saints in charge. Interment will be in the Central Point cemetery.

Mr. Palmer had resided near Central Point for the past four years where he leaves his wife, Margaret Palmer, one son and three daughters, Mrs. Phil Howard; Mrs. V. H. Hansen; Mrs. H. A. Foley and William Palmer. Another son, Morris, Palmer resides at Palo Alto, Calif.

He also leaves 19 grandchildren. Mr. Palmer was a member of the Odd Fellows order and of the Knights of Pythias.

REIMER RETURNS FROM CONCLAVE

Professor F. C. Reimer of the Talent Experiment station returned from Wenatchee, Wash., this morning, where he presided over the annual meeting of the Association of Northwest Horticulturists and Plant Pathologists, having been elected to that position when the conference was held in Medford last year.

Leading professional horticulturists presented their discoveries of the past year, and representatives of the various experiment stations throughout the northwestern states and British Columbia told various facts concerning plant diseases. There were about 75 experts present.

MAKING IMPROVEMENT BOWMAN BEAUTY SHOP

Extensive improvements are being made in the Bowman Beauty shop on West Main street this week. The shop is being redecorated and five new booths for operators added.

A color scheme of green, cream and rose is being effectively combined with the black rods, which support the draperies. Peggy Markle, who formerly operated her own shop here, is joining the Bowman staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corlies Home From Extended Visit
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corlies arrived Monday from a five months' visit with their son, Lloyd, and family in Stapleton, N. Y., and with relatives and friends in Kansas and Colorado.

They enjoyed their visit very much, but were glad to get back to Medford, the biggest and best little city on the map. Mr. Corlies says Medford and Oregon need to be better advertised in the east and the middle west.

Mrs. Gearhart Luncheon Hostess
Mrs. Stanley Gearhart of Rose avenue entertained Tuesday afternoon with the first of a series of bridge luncheons she has planned for the summer.

The table for the occasion was artistically arranged in orchid and yellow decorations with an old-fashioned bouquet for centerpiece.

Following luncheon, bridge was enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. F. P. Burk and Mrs. E. H. Mann.

St. Mark's Guild Plans Luncheon
St. Mark's Guild will have a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harry Hart on Crater Lake Avenue, Tuesday, July 21. It was announced yesterday. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock and proceeds will be added to the sidewalk fund.

The committee, arranging details for the event is composed of Mrs. A. P. Stennett, Mrs. Harry Hart and Mrs. Gwendolyn Woodcock.

Burnetts of Eugene Visit in Valley
Horace E. Burnett of Eugene, city editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, and Mrs. Burnett are visiting the city and valley, and are guests this week of Mrs. George W. Dunn of Ashland. The Burnetts will visit Crater Lake and Klamath Falls before they return home. They are on an auto vacation trip.

Mrs. Littrell and Grandson Leave
Mrs. Belle Littrell and grandson, Jackie Littrell, are among local people vacationing at Crescent City this week. They plan to spend two weeks at the beach.

Miss Gehlbard Leaves for Seattle
Miss Inez Gehlbard left Tuesday night for Seattle, where she will visit relatives and friends. Other cities will be included in her vacation trip, from which she plans to return the last of August.

JACKSON CITIZENS CHOSEN BY MEIER TO AID TAX SLASH

SALEM, Ore., July 16.—(AP) One hundred and fourteen citizens of the 36 counties in Oregon named late yesterday by Governor Julius L. Meier as the permanent state-wide tax committee. The group will form the nucleus of the recently organized Oregon Tax Conservation and Equalization League. A meeting of the new committee is expected to be called sometime next week.

The three from each county, and nine from Multnomah county, will organize local taxpayers conservation and equalization leagues in their counties.

The resolution passed at the initial meeting last week, authorized the governor to form a permanent state-wide personnel, and provides that these county units shall elect officers and assist all tax levying bodies within their counties.

Jackson county's appointees include J. B. Coleman and W. H. Gore, Medford and Fred Homes, Ashland.

Blames 7-Year Itch For Alcoholic Odor
BEAVER, Pa.—(UP) John Cotton, 39, Economy township, was acquitted by a jury on an intoxication charge when he testified he soaked his clothes in alcohol to relieve his seven-year itch.

"That was the cause of the odor," officers noticed when they arrested me," Cotton testified.

Fur Coats In Reach of All As Prices at Lowest Ebb; Great Increase In Buying

By Jane Fads.
NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP) The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady can be sisters under the fur coats next winter.

Prices are much lower. One of New York's largest furriers, with connections throughout the entire country, said today that fur coats and suits are now at the lowest figure that can be expected for 15 years.

In keeping with the lower costs, this firm reported a 2,000 per cent increase in fur sales in the period from last autumn up to now, as compared with a year ago.

Squirrel has come down out of the high price branches to within reach of many more fur buyers. The price has dropped from $1.85 to $1.45 a skin to $1. A squirrel bought for $125.

Persian lamb, caracul, the ritzy mink and leopard are among the leading furs for the coming season. The college raccoon has dropped in price more than 30 per cent. Because of the increasing demands for wraps of this fur, its style now includes a more formal coat possessing fitted lines and large flattering collars of other furs.

Mink may be had at prices 20 to 45 per cent lower than in other seasons. The demand for this fur this year, wholesale dealers said, is almost as great as the supply.

Sable is still the patrician. Though a little lower in price than in other years, it still is one of the most expensive furs.

Chinchilla and ermine will again be worn for evening. Wraps of these furs will be loose and luxurious. The collars will be deep and of shawl or cape effect. The sleeves will be wide dolman or mandarin.

Alaska and Hudson Bay seal are the furrier's perennial standbys. Logwood brown is being shown for street and sports wear, and black with fox collars, for dress. An innovation is the use of Persian lamb for trimming.

Fitch and moleskin are other good selling furs for formal wear. German and Russian fitch are equally popular.

New fur coats are fitted closely to the figure with a circular full-

BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR BARGAINS IN FRUITS

As the different fruits appear in the market, you can always expect special low prices for each one. Since sugar is low in price, you can save money by putting up at least part of your requirements of canned fruits, jams and jellies. Refined cane sugar has been the standard of home canners all over the country.

Keep in touch with your fruit dealer so you can take advantage of the best prices for berries, currants, cherries, apples, quinces, plums, pears and peaches. Fruits belong in the diet. Buy with refined cane sugar. The Institute.

No wonder Women are switching to Camels

The steady increase in the number of women who are switching to Camels is a tribute to the mildness of this cigarette.

A woman's throat is more delicate than a man's—more easily irritated by the unkindly hot smoke of parched, dry-as-dust tobaccos.

Camels are milder, first, because they are a throat-friendly blend of fine Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos that require no parching.

Camels are milder, second, because all peppery dust is removed by a special vacuum-cleaning process before Camels are air-sealed in the Humidor Pack of germ-safe moisture-proof Cellophane.

Camels are milder, third, because this wrapping of moisture-proof Cellophane prevents the cigarettes from drying out. The natural moisture of the tobacco is held intact.

When you inhale the cool fragrant smoke of a Camel you enjoy all the flavor, all the aroma of blended fine tobaccos kept in prime smoking condition—without the sting and bite-and-burn of stale, dried-out cigarettes.

Just try Camels, join the throng and switch to them for one day, then quit them — if you can.

● Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. It delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked.
