NURSE'S CHARGES SET FOR HEARING NEXT WEDNESDAY

The county court late yesterday named Wednesday next, at 1:30 p. m., as the time for a public hearing into the controversy between Dr. B. C. Wilson, county physician, and Mrs. Lyda King, discharged county health unit nurse. All with any evidence to submit, and the general public are invited. The hearing will be held on the regular county court session day.

There are several legal points involved and Mrs. King in her petition questions the authority of the county physician to discharge her, holding that it is a right held by the county court.

Mrs. King, in her petition for a hearing, makes serious felony charges of a general nature against the county physician.

While no statement was forthcoming from the county court, it is understood they feel, "that under no circumstances shall the youngsters suffer, as the result of an internal controversy."

LANDLADY TURNS HOSE ON ROOMER TO CLEAR PORCH

Correct rules as to which porch a tenant should sit on, especially if his room is in the back of the house, were decided yesterday afternoon by a local landlady, without the aid of police officers. However, she notified them of her decisions at the close of the episode.

The woman had rented out a room in the back of the house. Nothing was said concerning the porches at the time of the transaction, but Mr. Roomer took it for granted that he would be allowed to take a leisurely rest on the front porch occasionally.

Yesterday afternoon he was enjoying himself (on the front porch) when he was informed by Mrs. Landlady that his room was in the back of the house, and that was where he belonged. He did not think so.

His side of the debate was upheld by passive resistance—he continued to rest. Her side was upheld by action. The tranquility he had been enjoying was suddenly interupted by a cold spray from the garden hose.

Mrs. Landlady did not tell police whether or not Mr. Roomer paid her extra for the cooling refreshment.

ALLEGE PREJUDICE FRITZ CONVICTION

A motion for a new trial for Richard Fritz, serving an eight months sentence in the county jail upon conviction of contributing to the delinquency of a minor child, was filed in the circuit court this morning by his attorney, T. J. Enright. The motion alleges 16 separate items in which it is alleged the court and the prosecution erred in the conduct of the case. Also charging the verdict was born of prejudice and passion and contrary to the law and evidence.

Fritz was sentenced last Monday with Frank Bennett, who received a three year state prison term for their part in a "petting party" with two high school girls, both 15 years old, last March. Both were allowed a deduction from their sentence of time served in the county jail, awaiting trial.

EAGLE PT. GRANGE HEARS MILK NEED OF CHEESE PLANT

(By Mrs. Gertrude Haak)

There was a smaller attendance than usual at the regular meeting of the Eagle Point Grange July 21, due, no doubt, to the hot weather.

Several members from the new Red Top Grange were present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen, Frank Hansen, secretary, and Miss Anna Hansen.

It was reported that the Eagle Point cheese factory could use more milk than it is getting, as an increased output is desirable on account of market expansion, Klamath Falls now taking a considerable amount of the product.

The Grange and community wish to thank the merchants who are now handling the Ladino product, also the consumers who use the home product. "With Jackson county trade is Jackson county made."

The report of the Grange fire insurance agent shows appreciation of the members. Members are warned, however, that their insurance becomes non-effective unless their dues are kept paid up in advance.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Elk creek were given the obligation in the first and second degrees and the secret work.

During the lecture hour there were several assembly songs led by R. A. Botts. Miss Gynell Powell pleased with two vocal selections. Her mother, Mrs. R. A. Botts, accompanied her on the piano.

Mr. Botts rendered two violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Botts, which delighted the audience.

Mrs. Dinsmore gave a humorous reading, "Cora Anna's Wedding," and responded to encore with a number in Swedish dialect.

SNAKE EATS CANARY, BUT FEAST IS FATAL

SAVANNAH, Ga.—(UP)—The cat that ate the canary probably looked less guilty and a lot less silly than the rat snake that ate the canary in this case.

The reptile entered the home of Mrs. G. C. Hendrix here and consumed her songbird, "Sonny Boy."

But, after the meal, the snake's slim waistline had become a bulge which prevented it from escaping from the bird's cage and led ultimately to its own death. It measured two feet in length.
