HERNDONLANDS ON WALES SOIL EARLY TONIGHT

CARDIGAN, Wales, July 29.—(AP)—The American aviators, Hugh Herndon, Jr. and Clyde Pangborn, landed tonight at 7 o'clock on a farm at Mogyregrove, about five miles southwest of here.

(By The Associated Press.)
At 2 o'clock Eastern Standard time, the two trans-Atlantic planes—that of Boardman and Polando and of Herndon-Pangborn—had been out of New York 33 hours.

Herndon and Pangborn's red monoplane carried 850 gallons of gasoline, enough to carry them 3,500 miles without halt. At an average speed of 190 miles an hour, they could travel another 22 hours without landing. The plane, however, was capable of somewhat greater speed, which would cut down the time in the air by a few hours.

The Boardman-Polando plane had 718 gallons of gasoline, sufficient to carry them, they believed, 7,000 miles, at 100 miles an hour—their average speed—this would enable them to stay aloft 70 hours, or until 3 a. m. Friday morning.

LINDBERGH'S PREPARE FOR PACIFIC OCEAN HOP

A flight across the Pacific Ocean will be the next adventure of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. Unlike his epic flight to Paris in 1927 Lindbergh plans no long water hops. He probably will take the northern route shown in map. After the ocean crossing they will spend several weeks touring the Orient by air. Their low winged monoplane shown here, which will be equipped with pontoons, will be used.

BLAZE DESTROYS A PIONEER HOME IN JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE (Sp.)—July 28.—The Chris Kenney residence on North Fourth street, one of the first houses constructed in old Jacksonville, was destroyed early this morning by fire of unknown origin. The loss is estimated at $2000 for the house and furniture valued at several hundred dollars was also destroyed.

The fire was discovered about 3 o'clock this morning in a back apartment of the house by Mr. and Mrs. Don Kenney, who were living there. They immediately called the fire department but the flames had made too much headway when the men arrived for the building to be saved.

The loss was partially covered by insurance. Many antiques which were not insured were burned. Among them was a mahogany bedroom suite, valued at $300.

The house formerly belonged to Chris Kenney's grandmother and was well known to all persons familiar with the historic little town of Jacksonville.

EDITOR GUILTY IN ATTACK ON CLARA

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—(AP)—Frederick H. Girnan, pamphlet publisher, today was convicted on two counts of sending obscene matter through the mails in connection with an attack on Clara Bow, former motion picture actress. A sealed verdict was opened in federal court today.

Material for the published articles, it is reported to have been the revelations of Miss Bow's "love life," was furnished by Daisy DeBoe, former secretary to the film actress, Girnan confided. Miss DeBoe was returned to the county jail recently to serve a sentence for theft from the actress.

PORTLAND TILLAMOOK ROUTE TO BE SOUGHT

SALEM, July 29.—(AP)—Tillamook and Washington county delegations will appear before the state highway commission here tomorrow with resolutions urging the selection of the Wilson river cutoff as the route from Portland to the coast, and that immediate steps be taken for construction of the route. The proposed route would connect Portland and Tillamook, reducing the mileage between the two points from 112 to 73 miles, the delegation leaders announced.

JOAN BENNETT IS INJURED BY FALL OFF FIERY HORSE

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 29.—(AP)—Joan Bennett, screen actress, was in the hospital today and was facing the prospect of remaining there for a period of from eight to 12 weeks as a result of injuries she suffered yesterday when she fell from a horse.

The young actress' left hip was broken and she sustained fractures of the spine. Her physicians said the injuries were such that they would heal without possibility of any permanent disability.

Miss Bennett will be given an amputation, so that her hip may be placed in a cast.

The actress was injured when she insisted, according to John Byrnes, director of a picture in which she was working, on riding a black mare that had been declared unmanageable and too spirited by James Kirkwood and Armand Kalis, actors. As Miss Bennett rode the animal down a road in a film scene, it shied and bolted into a clump of trees, throwing the rider.

Miss Bennett is the younger of three sisters, Constance and Barbara, daughters of Richard Bennett and Adrienne Morrison.

DEATH FOLLOWS SLEEP AT WHEEL

EUGENE, Ore., July 29.—(AP)—Miss Edith Barrett was killed and Mrs. M. B. Gilmore, her sister, was seriously hurt today when their automobile left the highway and crashed into a telephone pole near here. P. C. Gilmore, driving the machine, said he went to sleep at the wheel.

Miss Barrett was a school teacher in Washington, and the party had just driven from her brother's home north of Seattle. Gilmore said he became very tired and must have fallen asleep. Miss Barrett's skull was fractured when she was thrown from the car.

PARIS, July 29.—(AP)—Longer skirts for the winter of 1931-32 were exhibited in the flower decked salons of one of the foremost dressmakers last night during a brilliant fashion parade, in which the sweeping lines of the sophisticated seventies were combined with the elements of the 20th century girl.

LINDBERGH'S HOP FOR NORTH HAVEN TO SAY GOODBYE

NORTH HAVEN, Maine, July 29.—(AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed on the water near the island of Vinal Haven late today after a flight from North Beach, N. Y.

The Lindberghs hopped off after a satisfactory final test of their plane's elaborate equipment which had failed to work when the couple flew to Washington Monday for their passports.

A favorable tail wind indicated the flying colonel and his feminine radio operator will probably be able to make sufficient speed to arrive at North Haven before dark.

After spending the night at the Morrow estate, the Lindberghs are expected to hop off sometime tomorrow for Ottawa, Ont., on the first leg of their aerial vacation trip to Tokyo.

ONE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR DALLES CHILDREN

THE DALLES, Ore., July 29.—(AP)—With the birth of twin daughters to Mr. and Mrs. H. Jewell, July 27, a highly unusual coincidence occurred. Two other children of the couple, Grace, 17, and Jackson, 15, both celebrate their birthdays on July 27.

Skirts Will Be Lower Than Ever This Winter Is Edict Dame Fashion

PARIS, July 29.—(AP)—Longer skirts for the winter of 1931-32 were exhibited in the flower decked salons of one of the foremost dressmakers last night during a brilliant fashion parade, in which the sweeping lines of the sophisticated seventies were combined with the elements of the 20th century girl.

From daytime coats and dresses eight or nine inches from the floor to evening wraps which touched the heels and evening gowns that trailed the carpets, the show decreed hemlines several inches lower for the forthcoming winter.

TOTS TARGET OF GANGLAND MACHINE GUNS

One Dead, Four Critically Wounded When Harlem Killers Spray Group on Walk From Automobile

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—"Big" Teed, described as a bookmaker, was hunted by police today as the man marked for assassination by the gang guns that killed a child and wounded four others last night.

Teed recently attempted to "muscle in" other bookmakers of the Harlem neighborhood in which the attack occurred, police said.

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—Little Michael Vengali, 7, whom five years was a lifetime, died today, and a mantle of silence, born of fear, settled upon Harlem's "Little Italy."

The child was slain by gang killers in an automobile, killers whose machine guns and shotguns poured between 50 and 60 slugs into the midst of playing children last night.

Four other tots, one in a baby carriage, were critically wounded by the gunmen in a reckless attempt to assassinate a man who had been loitering about the torrid street in which the youngsters had been at play. The man, believed to be Joe Rao or his cousin, Vincent Rao, fell to the pavement and was unhurt. Slugs, however, found little Michael Vengali in a vital spot, as they dropped four of his companions.

Salvatore Vengali, seven-year-old brother of the dead boy, was wounded five times. He may die. Michael Bevilacqua, three years old, was in a baby carriage, was struck twice in the back by the slayers' slugs. He, too, may not survive. Florence D'Amelio, 12, was wounded in the shoulder. Samuel Defino, 6, was shot in the left leg.

Orders were issued today for the arrest of Vincent Coll, leader of one of two gangs fighting for control of the beer business in Harlem and the Bronx. Police said they doubted their earlier theory that the attempted assassination was connected in any way with the beer war, but they offered no other possible explanation.

CLERICS ASK BAN ON EVOLUTION FILM

DAYTON, Tenn., July 29.—(AP)—The ministerial association of Dayton, the scene a few years ago of Tennessee's famous anti-evolution trial, has called upon the local theater to ban the showing of Clarence Darrow's film "The Mystery of Life."

Darrow was a principal figure in the trial, defending John T. Scopes, who taught the theory of evolution in the public schools, in defiance to state law.

In resolutions adopted by the pastor, the film was registered against the showing of what they termed "an anti-Biblical and anti-Christian picture," and the people of Dayton were asked not to attend the showing of the film.

THREE NEW FIRES IN SPOKANE AREA

SPOKANE, Wash., July 29.—(AP)—Summer's scorching brew of forest fires simmered slowly upward in the northwest "pot" today, while dangerous weather conditions threatened to make it "boil over" at any minute.

The Deer Creek conflagration on the Bend Oreille and Kootenai forests crept on through the timber until its perimeter was 65 miles, with burning acres of trees estimated by forest officials at between 27,000 and 35,000.

AID OF JOBLESS LOCAL BURDEN RED CROSS IDEA

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—President Hoover today summoned Chairman Payne of the American Red Cross for a conference regarding relief for the unemployed.

After a long conference Chairman Payne said that in his opinion it was the beginning of a thorough study of the situation and the start of a cooperative movement among different agencies.

Reports on unemployment, he said, were not alarming, but at the same time could not be described as bright.

"The burden of unemployment," he said, "falls on the local community first."

Local Burden.
"It is the primary duty of the state, county and municipality to bear the burden of unemployment," he said.

The agencies of the federal government, the states, counties and municipalities are working to the same end, he said, and the movement which the president began today looks to having them co-operate more fully.

Questioned as to the part which he expected the federal government to play, the Red Cross chairman replied there was no possible reason for the federal government being called upon.

"The place for unemployment relief is in the local communities where everyone knows everyone else," he said.

SITE RACE WIDE OPEN SAYS HINES

Eugene and Roseburg Have No Strangle Hold As Veteran's Home Location Avers Bureau Head—Is Due in Oregon Thursday

SALT LAKE CITY, July 29.—(AP)—Major-General Frank T. Hines, head of the United States Veterans' administration and member of a subcommittee on selection of hospital and soldiers' home sites, stopped here today en route to Oregon, where he will inspect sites for a soldiers' home.

The terms of the allocation for the Oregon home, he said, confine it to the territory south of the line of Portland and west of the Cascades. He indicated he would visit several cities in that region and look over sites offered. Since no funds have been appropriated for purchase of the sites, he said, it is assumed the one chosen will be turned over to the government without cost.

White, Roseburg and Eugene, Ore., are the most active candidates for the soldiers' home, General Hines said, the selection is not restricted to those cities.

General Hines said he would proceed to Portland for an inspection of the veterans' hospital there and after his trip to other Oregon cities, would go to San Francisco to look over sites for a Veterans' hospital there.

General Hines is due in Portland tomorrow morning, it was reported yesterday.

His statement at Salt Lake that the new soldiers' home would be located in Oregon, apparently puts Vancouver, Wash., out of the running, but his further statement that Roseburg and Eugene were not the only Oregon cities up for consideration is contrary to the belief of Eugene and Roseburg residents, who based their opinion upon a resolution adopted by the sub-committee during its considerations in Washington whereby Eugene and Roseburg were announced as the only cities to be considered.

General Hines' statement that the home would be located south of Portland and west of the Cascades is believed to settle the question of the home being taken to another state.

This further statement that Eugene and Roseburg will not be exclusively considered, renders it probable, in the opinion of local residents familiar with the situation, that he will look over the sites offered by Medford and Ashland before his final decision is rendered.

SWEATSHOP WORKERS WALK OUT IN PROTEST

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP)—Between 20,000 and 25,000 workers belonging to the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America walked out of 300 shops today, on strike against sweatshop conditions.

Police details were sent into the clothing district near the Pennsylvania terminal, but little trouble was expected.

ROASTING EARS SELL FOR CENT PER DOZEN

KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 29.—(AP)—One cent was the price of a dozen ears of sweet corn here today. The hot dry weather has matured the "roasting ears" rapidly, making an abundance of corn available for market. One merchant bought an entire field so cheaply he was enabled to retail his wares at the record low price.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 29.—(AP)—A short earthquake shook the capital at 6:38 a. m. today.
