FIRE TAKES BARN IN JACKSONVILLE

Fire of an unknown origin completely razed the barn of the V. J. Beach property on the old Stage road just north of Jacksonville last evening. The fire was discovered by Mr. Beach about nine o'clock and as the Jacksonville fire department had insufficient hose, a call was sent to Medford. The flames spread to a couple of smaller out buildings which were also burned, but by the valiant efforts of the firefighters the dwelling was saved from any damage. About two tons of hay was lost, but the building contained no farming equipment at the time of the fire. There was no insurance on the building.

PERRY IMPRESSED BY CALLISON AS RANGER

CRATER LAKE, (Sp) — Arthur Perry of Mail Tribune Smudge Pot fame, was a caller for a short time in the park Friday, accompanied by Judge William Colvig. For the past week Perry has been resting from the grind of newspaper work, spending his time at Prospect, 30 miles from the lake. Mr. Perry was particularly interested in the visitation of butterflies in the lake area and was almost taken with the sight of the butterfly when he saw it. He enjoyed a visit with (Prink) Callison, ranger, former Medford high school coach. He was impressed with the wealth of information Ranger Callison has developed on the history and geology of the lake.

MANY CATCHING FISH IN CRATER'S WATERS

CRATER LAKE (Special) — Fred Hubbard, Walter Nitzel and Clyde Gilbert of the park service, all well known in Medford, are classed among the outstanding fishermen this season. They have caught several limits, "Prink" Callison and Al Stoehr, also frequent the lake in early evening. In quest of trout and usually successful, Medford anglers in the park recently include Chester Ritz, J. Verne Shangle and others.

D. A. R. News

The official report of the fortieth continental congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution has just been received by the regent of Crater Lake chapter, Mrs. J. O. Grey. Each of its 750 pages is filled with so many interesting facts and encouraging statements that it seems almost too good that it cannot be put into the hands of each daughter and friend of the organization for careful study.

The address of the president general, Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, seems to strike the keynote of the entire meeting. Oregon is looking forward to her visit to this state the latter part of this month and she will surely bring us new courage to carry on the work in this state. She began her address with the quotation, "But now they desire a better country," an idealism passed to us thru the centuries. Courage is the first attribute she named in attaining this end. Cohesion is the second, a word which should be constantly in our realization. America must have a program of its own which will unite the people of this nation for Americanism, and the wholehearted service of every man and woman worthy to be counted an American. The third attribute she named was justice, and she implores the men and women of America to think and speak well of their own country. "If we look forward to a better country," she said, "we must exhibit truth." "Truth will bring to life clearer facts about the men and women who hourly protect the otherwise unprotected."

In closing she said, "Essentials can be sifted from unessentials. This must be done as we see chaff fanned from wheat. Time presses. The demands upon every individual are nerve racking. Let us cling to the matters of prime importance. If we do so, we will count time in terms of our desire for a better country."

Drivers of sixes never want less because it takes six cylinders to give the smooth, silent power that makes driving really enjoyable

Drivers of sixes are spoiled for anything less. Drivers of sixes are "sold" on multiple cylinders. They would no more think of giving up "six" performance than any other real advancement of motoring.

Drive a Chevrolet Six, and you'll know why these drivers feel as they do. Step on the starter, let the motor idle—and notice its silence. Throw in the clutch, shift into "low"—and feel that smoothness. Change into "second," hit a faster clip, slip into "high," sweep along at top speed—then throttle down to a crawl. The smoothness and flexibility you always get are six-cylinder smoothness, six-cylinder flexibility. Annoying vibration is gone!

Over two million owners have proved this six-cylinder Chevrolet engine. They have found that it costs less for gas and oil than any other. They have found that it actually reduces upkeep costs, by holding vibration to a minimum. They know a six is better in every way—and they would never be satisfied with less!
