

PAROLE GRANTED FOR ACCOMPLICE OF 'TOUGH EDDIE'

Mrs. Marie McCandless, 28, Port Townsend, Wash., mother of two children, was sentenced to ten years in state prison this afternoon, as "a passive participant" in the holdup of the Bellevue Service station near Ashland, last Thursday night.

Mrs. McCandless made a plea for leniency for Ed F. "Tough Eddie" Rice, in her own plea, and begged "that both be given another chance." Rice is under 15 years sentence for robbery with a deadly weapon.

Judge Norton told the woman that Rice could have received a life term for his crime, and "had received ample leniency." He advised the woman to avoid complications "in the future and go and care for your children as best you can."

The woman several times interrupted the district attorney and requested his statement that Rice had exonerated her from all blame in the crime.

The court ruled that Mrs. McCandless be paroled to the district attorney and that she be assisted on her way to her folks in the state of Washington.

Her infatuation for Rice is still strong, and she was defiant of any steps that did not free him too. Once she referred to the state police "as Smedley Butler's Cossacks." She praised Jailer Ike Dunford, as "a gentleman of kindness," in the handling of prisoners, and declared it was through his efforts that the holdup was confessed.

FISHERMEN NOW GET CRATER BOATS LATE

Boats can now be obtained for fishing in Crater Lake after 5:00 o'clock in the evening. This announcement, anticipated by many local sportsmen, was made today.

Arrangements have been made with R. W. Price, according to local sportsmen, whereby boats will not have to be returned to the landing at 5:00 o'clock, when the best fishing begins.

A large crowd of local anglers is expected to take advantage of this much wanted asset to lake fishing.

fell on him. He was brought to a hospital here for care.

Planes reach from Mt. Baldy, Josephine county, to within a few miles of Jacksonville. Driven by a strong wind, smoke and ashes poured into the Rogue valley all of Sunday afternoon and night. The smoke-filled valley was able to see little of the sun today, and many residents thought it was cloudy.

Thick smoke throughout the region will make it dangerous as far as other possible fires are concerned, forest officials state. It is now impossible to determine locations of any new blazes because of the extremely poor visibility.

G. P. Report Denied.

Reports from Grants Pass that five farm homes in the lower Applegate valley region had been wiped out by the fire were held untrue today by Mrs. W. H. McCandless, John Pegg, Mrs. Fred Offenbacher and other residents of the section. They stated that many farmers and harvest workers have volunteered to fight the fire in addition to the larger number of fighters there from Medford and Josephine county.

The section on the north side of the Applegate has been the most seriously stricken by forest fires in Jackson county this year. The fire burning today is the third serious blaze within the last month. Thousands of acres have been left barren and lifeless by the onrushing flames. Yesterday is the first time that any farms have been destroyed. Previous fires have caused some residents to move their belongings to protected spots, but no property damage has been reported.

Other fires on Foothills and in the Aspen Butte country were under control today.

BUTTE FALLS YOUTH GIVEN NEW CHANCE

Elmer Abbott of Butte Falls and a high school graduate, charged with breaking into a store and passing a bogus check last month, was given another chance by Judge Alex Sparrow in the juvenile court this afternoon. The court paroled the young man, upon promise to report weekly by postcard to the court, and reimburse the storekeeper for a wrecked slot machine and stolen cartridges. Abbott said he had paid back some, and would make amends for the remainder as soon as he was able.

into Reykjavik, Iceland, on an unheralded flight across the north Atlantic to America, something he's done before. He is following his previous route and that of Cramer via Greenland and Canada to his destination.

Girdlers Quizzed

Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon Jr. were still answering questions in Tokyo as to why they photographed Japanese fortifications on their flight from Siberia after passing of their assault on the Post-Gatty globe girdling ribbon. Officials said the matter would go to the highest authority but the fliers, admitting their mistake, refused to be worried.

The German seaplane Do-X chafed at its moorings in Para, Brazil, because a broken crankcase in one motor had delayed its maiden visit to America via South American ports. Commander Shildhauer said things were at a standstill until a new engine should arrive from Rio de Janeiro, starting point on the homeward trip to the Rhineland.

Vets to Hear Delegates—American Legion post members of Medford will hear reports from the state convention held last week end in Corvallis, when they gather this evening for their regular meeting in the Armory. Brief reviews will also be given by other local members who attended.

Oh the best things in life are free

free wheeling

I'd pay several cents a mile extra for that Free Wheeling sensation in my Studebaker—if I had to.

But the job is, it doesn't cost money—it saves me money.

A Studebaker is well when running along with the motor engaged, but it is those moments of momentum—those miles of Free Wheeling—which give me my grandest thrills... and these don't cost—they PAY.

I sail along, manufacturing miles and money!

About one mile in seven or six or five is free—because you save from a seventh to a fifth of your gas and oil.

Seems to me ridick to buy a car without Free Wheeling—when you can get a real Free Wheeling Studebaker for $845!
