

GATES ADDRESSES GRANGER MEETING AT JACKSONVILLE

Jacksonville Grange was opened Monday evening with a program presented by C. C. Hoover. Mrs. Anna Wendt sang two numbers accompanied by Mrs. Mabel Sims, C. E. Gates, president of the Northern California Southern Oregon Development association, was then introduced. He gave some details of the work being done by this organization, its aims and future plans.

The work at present centers around the Crescent City harbor plan, the accomplishment of which points toward a bright outlook for the Rogue River valley. Mr. Gates pointed out that the future of Medford and vicinity depended on the development of certain lines of industry suitable to this location. Southern Oregon has the climate, location and industries all necessary for a remarkable growth, but the proper marketing facilities are yet to be developed.

Hearing so much of depression these days, it was a pleasant change to listen to a speech so full of optimism as that given by Mr. Gates. The Grange enjoyed the opportunity of hearing Mr. Gates and wishes success to the development association.

A. H. Banwell, secretary of the association, was also introduced and gave a few remarks on certain aspects of publicity. The program was closed by two vocal numbers by Miss Doris Richardson of the Sams Valley Grange.

Marketing report was made by Ted Sims announcing the starting of a campaign to destroy obnoxious weeds. Each member was asked to take care of the roads adjacent to his property.

There was a general discussion on the feasible plan of tax reduction. The outcome of the discussion was a resolution stating that the Jacksonville Grange was opposed to any appropriation of county funds to the Jackson County Humane society and the granting of any county office room in the new court house to that organization.

The Grange appreciated having the master of the new Red Top Grange present as well as other members of that Grange.

The H. E. club spent an enjoyable afternoon with Mrs. Severance Wednesday. The by-laws were read and requirements of the club were pointed out by the president, Anus Wendt. The club has been meeting these requirements almost 100 per cent. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. Langley of Jacksonville on August 26.

Booklet Is Issued By Valley School Interests Parents

A neat illustrated booklet, telling of the different activities, entrance and tuition requirements, school calendar, faculty, playground facilities and other things of interest to parents and children, has just been published for the Valley School by the job department of the Mail Tribune. A copy will be sent to anyone interested by addressing the school at Medford.

The introduction says: "The Valley school is attended by boys and girls from pre-primary grades through the seventh grade, whose parents wish to give them the best in modern education. In this school the child's personality is developed and best interests encouraged. An outstanding feature is the happy atmosphere to be found at all times."

The school is pleasantly situated on a four acre tract in Siskiyou Heights, has modern facilities and equipment, including a recreational shelter for games of all kinds, also baseball diamond and a volley ball court.

There was an attendance of thirty-eight last year.

The trustees are Alfred S. V. Carpenter, chairman, Dr. George Dean, Floyd Hart, F. Corning Keely and David Rosenberg.

The board of managers are: Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter, chairman, Mrs. Milton Pessley, Mrs. S. E. Janney and Mrs. Paul A. Schorer.

The faculty consists of Miss E. Marie Foss, principal, Miss Marabel Braden and Miss Naomi E. Hohnman.

Radio Program KMED (Mail Tribune-Virgin Station) Wednesday

- 5 to 6—Prosperity: News and Markets by Mail Tribune.
- 6 to 7—Mutual Mill: Where to Go? Firestone.
- 7 to 8—Happiness Train: Jackson Co. Bldg. and Loan; Cupp Furniture Request Program.
- 8 to 9—All Request.
- 9 to 10—Friendship Circle by Economy Groceries; Procter and Gamble.
- 10 to 11—Novelty Program.
- 11 to 12—Panatorium Dye Works.
- 12 to 1—Health's Drug Store; Ivy Street Market; News Flashes by Mail Tribune.
- 1 to 2—Peoples Electric; Jackson Co. Bldg. and Loan.
- 2 to 3—KMED Presentation; World Bookman.
- 3 to 4—KMED Presentation; News and Markets by Mail Tribune.
- 4 to 5—Chucker Cab; Where to Go; Porter Lumber Co.
- 5 to 6—Happiness Train; All Request Program.

PRIZE CUPS WAIT WINNING TOTS IN AUXILIARY SHOW

Fifteen silver loving cups on display at Brophy's Jewelry Store are to be given winners in the American Legion Auxiliary baby show and will be presented September 1 at 412 E. Main street. Babies to receive cups and prizes are: Baby King, Baby Queen, Baby Prince, Baby Princess, first grand prize girl and boy, prettiest red head, youngest baby and highest scoring out of town baby in beauty, health and friendship and popularity votes, all combined.

The beauty show will be Monday, August 24, and the prettiest girl and boy will be chosen by secret ballot by six lady judges who have no children entered in the show and who are related to none entered.

The health examinations will be on August 25 and 27 when babies will be judged by local physicians and may receive as high as 10,000 points on health. Photographs are being made by the J. Verna Shangle studio.

Leaders for baby king for today are: Richard Harrison, first; Richard Steele, second; Donald Long, Robert Nelson and Glen Coleman third, Peter Bateman and Alvin Pena fourth with Glen Byrd fifth.

Leaders for queen are: Madge McKeever and Carolyn Wynore, first; Janis Grigsby and Joan Doran second; Priscilla Detrich and Doris Kyle, third; Marion Tilley, fourth, and Marianne Perl, fifth.

In Holly Drama

Bestirring Roy Francis, whose rise to screen stardom has been deserved and rapid, Ricardo Cortez, suave villain of the talkies and Paul Cavanagh, notable stage star, play the principal roles in "Transgression," the super feature now at the Holly. The story is from Kate Jordan's novel and the feature is a vivid film of contrasts. From the quiet panorama of an English country side the picture moves swiftly to Paris, and Spain.

A Pathé news reel and a comedy "Dumb-bells in Derby," rounded out the bill which closes at the Holly tomorrow night to make way for the appearance of the Arizona Wranglers in person, on the Holly stage Friday.

At Fox Craterian

Peggy Shannon

Owing to the great crowds that have been packing the Fox Craterian theatre during the current run of Marie Dressler and Polly Moran in "Politics," their latest and greatest hit, the management of the theatre announces that it is to be held over through tonight, enabling everyone the chance to see it.

"Politics" is one of the funniest screen dramas to play Medford this season and is now breaking all records of attendance at the Fox Craterian theatre.

"The Secret Call," scheduled for opening today at the Fox Craterian will open Thursday.

Richard Arliss and Peggy Shannon are co-featured in "The Secret Call," taut gripping romantic drama of modern political intrigue in a big city.

SARDINE CREEK

SARDINE CREEK, Ore., Aug. 19.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simpson of California, spent several days last week visiting his mother, Mrs. E. C. Fieno. They also visited his brother, John Simpson, in Medford before returning south.

Among those picking blackberries in the Evans valley last week were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dusenberry and son, Arthur, Earl Croft and family, Mrs. Wm. Wright and Mrs. John Smith.

Charles Smith returned home last week from Riverside, where he had been employed picking pears in the Galbraith orchard.

J. U. Smith and son, Harold, moved their haybale to Galls creek last week and baled hay for D. Estremado.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Durkee enjoyed a visit and trip to Crescent City recently with her sister, Mrs. Minnie Young and family of McCloud, Calif.

MOON of DELIGHT by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS: When Umberto opens the chest he has stolen from the Dolores Juan Divitt's gambling house has a mystery. For in it is Juanita Divitt, who Divitt and his wife, Molly, conclude is a runaway from Argentina. Araid to free the lovely newcomer because he fears her story to the police would expose the theft of the chest, Divitt arranges for her to sell cigarettes to his guests. She submits, dreading his threat of exposure of her as a runaway, because she has a secret. Divitt's secret is that he is a gambler, a thief and a runner, in sympathy toward her, she asks his mother, Conchita, to have him see her privately. For she knows the dwarf's strong hands can break the locks holding her prisoner in the courtyard of the resort in New Orleans' French quarter.

Chapter 5
THE LOST BRACELET

CONCHITA concluded her description of Umberto's wickedness and her flame subsided. Molly's light step was coming along the balcony. She opened the door and came in, a width of spangled black over her arm.

"Did you guess what it was?" she asked brightly, glancing at the things on the bed. "Divitt says you're a Turkish lady, one that still wears veils. Just your eyes showing—you needn't be afraid. And I found these little slippers. They're such a pretty red with these gold threads. Madame Arraline ordered them for Gabreau would be in fancy dress? Gabreau was speaking to her, fidgeting some cigarettes into her tray, seeming to be talking about the cigarettes.

"I will come to yo' room after ever' body is 'sleep. Put out yo' light." He picked up the coins from her tray and carried them over to Molly.

Divitt was watching her again. She moved among the tables. An old lady sat in the crowd, wearing a red and gold dress with rubies at her throat and in her white hair. A tall young man stood beside her chair, Juanita, meeting his eyes, found them blue and kind. His glance was casual, returning to the old lady and her excited dealings with roulette, but it left Juanita sadder. She gave the old lady a flower, smiling. She gave many flowers. She sold many cigarettes. Would the night never end?

It was over at last. Some one—Molly, no doubt—had laid a silk night gown on her pillow, and turned down the covers of the great canopy bed. She blew out the light, afraid to take off the black costume lest Gabreau arrive. When Gabreau came she must admit him instantly. The house had been still for a long time. Soon it would be dawn. Had Gabreau forgotten? . . .

Juanita heard the struggle in the dark.

Somebody for Mardi Gras, and they were too small. I hadn't time to get the other things. I'll get them tomorrow.

"Conchita, go down and get the bangles and the pearls on my bed. See, Juanita, how thin this stuff is. I think your flesh showing through will look mysterious and Oriental. And you don't need even to speak. In fact, you mustn't, or they'll know you're not from Istanbul."

"All right, Conchita. Put the trinkets on the bureau and come here."

Juanita stood still while they dressed her, decking her with bangles and amulets. . . . She was to see Gabreau alone. Gabreau's hands were strong. They had broken a lock.

Velled and tinkling, with bare arms, her white knees showing through the thin black crepe, Juanita went with Molly and stood outside the door of the parlors receiving her tray. The parlor door opened.

Juanita closed her eyes. The light hurt them. The glances of the people at the tables, at the roulette wheel. They all seemed to hurt her eyes. Molly need not have warned her to keep silent. She could not have spoken. But she must look at them or she would not know when they wanted cigarettes. She must look, or she would not see Gabreau.

Juanita passed among the tables, bearing her tray. The people spoke pleasantly to her as they took their cigarettes, laying their coins on the tray. Yonder stood Divitt in full dress, beside the roulette wheel, watching her. Where was Gabreau? . . .

"Cigarettes, Fatma! And lift up your veil." A man's voice. "I've just made a bet as to what your lips are like."

She held out the tray, received the coin, moved on quickly. Molly, in the cashier's cage, plucked at her sleeve.

"When they say things like that," she whispered, "you must smile and give them a flower, since you can't talk."

Where was Gabreau? . . . Ah, yonder! Coming toward her. Why had she not remembered that spent nearly a year here 21 years ago, and finds a great many changes in that time.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Dusenberry and son, Arthur, were business visitors in Grants Pass Saturday, where Mr. Dusenberry took the examination required by the new law for chauffeurs' and operators' licenses and also had an aching tooth extracted.

Mrs. Lydia Finwater and daughter, Margaret, and son, Carlos, of San Jose, Calif., visited here last week with her brother, George King and sister, Mrs. Lily Durkee, then went on north to Tuff, Ore., to visit another brother, Ray King, and to Portland to visit her youngest brother, Richard.

Mrs. Eva Newsum, Harry, Wendell, Ceral Hopkins and Lorena Selridge were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Dusenberry.

Mrs. Earl Croft and family were surprised Saturday by the arrival of her brother, Frank Harold of

CONSOLIDATION OF VOTING PRECINCTS URGED FOR SAVING

Action, looking towards the consolidation of a number of Jackson county voting precincts, was suggested to the county court today by County Clerk Delilah S. Meyer, to effect a substantial saving in election expenses, and to speed up the counting of the votes. The county court took the matter under advisement.

The county clerk proposes that the following precincts be consolidated: Sterling, Watkins, and Union, in the Applegate section.

Rocks Creek and Rogue River, Willow Springs and South Central Point.

East and West Phoenix, East and West Talent with the West Ashland precinct.

Derby and Butte Falls, Antioch and Sam's Valley, North and South Jacksonville.

The county clerk estimates that a saving of between $750 and $1000 would be effected at each election, and favors the establishment of double counting boards for each consolidation.

Emigrant Creek Residents Seek Road As Outlet

A delegation of residents of the Emigrant creek district appeared before the county court this morning, and asked that a road near that stream, serving eight families, be constructed over winter comes, so they will have an outlet, and be enabled to send their children to Ashland schools without moving into Ashland. Read Supervisor William Perry accompanied the delegation.

It was brought out at the meeting that all are in favor of the road save Fernin Zano, a farmer who to date has refused to grant a right of way across his land. The court moved to order the road built by resolution.

County Engineer Paul Rynning told the court, that he had interviewed Zano relative to a right of way and that the first price suggested by him was $2500, but this had been reduced to $50. The court held that if anything was paid it should not be more than $25 "if that much."

The road has been under consideration for several months, delayed by negotiations with Zano.

The delegation was assured that action would be taken towards construction of the road at an early date.

111 ONE-ELEVEN-BAR-RANCH 111 Saddle horses for hire. By hour, day or week. Special trips into the mts. at reasonable rates. New equipment and good horses. Tel. T. W. Jones, Provolet. Mail address Murphy, Ore.

Dress Making Special. All work guaranteed. Silk dresses $3.50. Ensembles $5.00. Tel. 632-W

STOP ITCHING TORTURE

Clean, soothing, invisible ZEMO brings prompt relief to itching skin. Eczema, Pimples, Ringworm, Rashes, Dandruff and similar annoying, itching skin or scalp irritations are relieved and usually healed by this antiseptic, soothing lotion. All Druggists. 35c, 60c, $1.00. Extra Strength for obstinate cases—$1.25.

NEW! FREE!

Travel data, road conditions, road information, where and how to go—all the guide service you need for any trip in the west.

Yours for the asking of Shell Service, Inc. stations which display the covered wagon symbol pictured above.

FREE TICKETS TO A TALKING PICTURE PROGRAM AT THE

CRATERIAN

As a Guest Subscriber of the MAIL TRIBUNE

MAIL TRIBUNE

WATCH THIS SPACE. If you are a subscriber of the Mail Tribune your name may appear here tomorrow. Only subscribers' names will be published and, during the duration of this offer, all subscribers will be given an opportunity to enjoy FREE shows as GUESTS OF THIS PAPER.

Now Playing "Politics"

Hubbard Bros., Inc.

Medford's Oldest Store—Since 1834

Meteorological Report

August 19, 1931. Forecasts. Medford and vicinity: Tonight and Thursday fair; no change in temperature.

Oregon: Fair tonight and Thursday, but overcast in extreme west portion early Thursday morning; no change in temperature.

Local Data. Lowest temperature this morning, 59 degrees.

Temperature a year ago today: Highest, 78; lowest, 51.

Total precipitation since September 1, 1930, 13.67 inches.

Relative humidity at 5 p. m. yesterday, 25%; 5 a. m. today, 78%.

Sunset today, 7:06 p. m. Tomorrow: Sunrise, 5:24 a. m.; sunset, 7:05 p. m.

Observations taken at 5 a. m., 190 Meridian Time.

City	High Temp.	Low Temp.	Wind Dir.	Wind Spd.	Clouds	Weather
Baker City	94	54				Clear
Bozeman	84	66				P. Cdy.
Boise	96	68				Clear
Chicago	80	72				Cloudy
Denver	80	58				Clear
Des Moines	88	66				P. Cdy.
Des Moines	88	64				Clear
Helena	90	60				P. Cdy.
Los Angeles	84	66				Clear
Medford	84	59				Clear
New York	83	74				Cloudy
Phoenix	108	80				P. Cdy.
Portland	74	58				Cloudy
Reno	90	66				Clear
Roseburg	72	52				Cloudy
Salt Lake	94	60				P. Cdy.
San Francisco	64	53				Clear
Seattle	83	66				Cloudy
Spokane	94	62				Clear
Washington, D. C.	90	68				P. Cdy.

Card of Thanks. We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all our friends for their kindness and sympathy to us during the illness and death of our loved one; also for the lovely floral offerings. Mrs. Daisy Grigsby.

Len Grigsby and Relatives

E. D. Elwood, Optometrist, new location at 133 South Central, just south Montgomery Ward's. Tel. 272.

"SPENT DAYS IN BED"

"WHEN I was first married I had a fall which caused a miscarriage. Then I had an operation but it didn't do me any good."

"I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also took two bottles of the Herb Medicine. I do not have the crampy pains like I did. I used to go to bed for three to five days each month." Mrs. Lula Reppes, 1160 West Kirby St., Detroit, Michigan.

Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

You are invited to present this coupon at the Mail Tribune office and receive two

EARL VAUGHN 1126 West Ninth

FREE TICKETS

TO A TALKING PICTURE PROGRAM AT THE

CRATERIAN

As a Guest Subscriber of the MAIL TRIBUNE

MAIL TRIBUNE

WATCH THIS SPACE. If you are a subscriber of the Mail Tribune your name may appear here tomorrow. Only subscribers' names will be published and, during the duration of this offer, all subscribers will be given an opportunity to enjoy FREE shows as GUESTS OF THIS PAPER.

Now Playing "Politics"

Hubbard Bros., Inc.

Medford's Oldest Store—Since 1834

NURSE'S ATTORNEY FILES ARGUMENT

Attorney T. J. Enright, representing Mrs. Lydia King, ousted county health nurse, in her action against County Physician B. C. Wilson, appeared before the county court this morning, reviewing the evidence.

Attorney Enright said that this legal step was taken because similar action had been taken by Attorney George M. Roberts. Attorney Enright said it was his understanding that the case had been closed, but he was advised by the court that such was not the case.

Attorney Roberts asked for and received "a week or ten days" extension for the filing of what he designated as "a memorandum."

Wanda Armour, Astrologist. On fifth return engagement, will continue one week. Mrs. Armour is well known in successful Horoscope Readings, scientifically applied to life's problems. Phone 672, 301 So. Central.

Classified advertising rates

Ashland Boy Held in Connection With Escapade of

Roscoe Stewart, 17-year old land youth, charged with a misdemeanor involving a 13-year old girl, appeared before County Judge H. D. Norton this morning and was remanded to the county jail because of his years. A hearing will be held tomorrow before County Judge Alex B. Stewart.

The girl in the case in a statement given to the district attorney's office, says that she was taken away from home, because she objected to the way she was washing. When the family she crawled out from her bedroom and went to Lillian part told a boy friend she "was skip the county." She then a room in a lodging house, where she had been "keeping company" and tried to induce her to come home, "because you are your folks to death."

She stated that Stewart had er tried to persuade her to home, but she always refused.

Classified advertising rates

NEW LOW RATE 100 rooms as low as

MULTNOMAH HOTEL

AT THE HUB OF THE HIGHWAYS APPROACH PORTLAND HALF-BLOCK FROM NEW BURNSIDE BRIDGE

PERL Funeral Home

Distinctive Service at Moderate Rates Established 20 Years

Ambulance Service—Sixth St. at Oakdale Telephone 47

GAS

Is the FASTEST and QUICKEST Controllable Fuel AVAILABLE

Beautiful appliances, plus the fastest Fuel. Gives you a service beyond APPROACH.

Heat BY GAS Cook King of them All. Cool

Local rates as low as 1-10 of 1c per cu. ft.

Southern Oregon Gas Corp.

"Home of Instant Heat" 200 West Main Street Phone 63

Orchard and Fruit Packers' Supplies

Rosenberg Packing Pails $3. No. 1 Wells & Wade Buckets $4. No. 2 Wells & Wade Buckets $2. Portland Picking Bags $1. Wenatchee Picking Bags $2. 16-qt. Galvanized Fruit Pails $7. 16-qt. Tin Picking Pails $4. Picking Rings, each $40c to $50c. Orchard Ladders, per foot $40c to $50c. Canvas Gloves and Packers' Supplies

Special Close-Out On Ladders

Hubbard Bros., Inc.

Medford's Oldest Store—Since 1834