TWO STAGE FAST RACE ON HIGHWAY

It was a costly race Harry Garfield, 16, and E. C. Westergren, 20, local residents, enjoyed, the former in a Ford roadster and the latter in a Chevrolet roadster, on the Pacific highway between Phoenix and Medford shortly after midnight last night, during which they went so fast that State Policeman Baucom, who took up the chase near Phoenix, was not able to overtake them until Medford was reached.

In Judge Taylor's court today Westergren was fined $15 and costs, and Garfield $10 and costs, each on the charge of reckless and imprudent driving. In addition Judge Taylor will recommend to the secretary of state that Garfield's driving license be suspended, as it has been only ten days since he was arrested by State Policeman O'Brien and fined $15 and costs on a similar charge.

Another case of reckless and imprudent driving was that of Lyle Algire, who was arrested about 2:00 a. m. last Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Paul Jennings, for speeding on the Jacksonville highway and passing around other cars returning to Medford from the Jacksonville dance. In Judge Taylor's court today Algire was fined $15 and costs, amounting in all to $19.50.

HANNA GAVE FIVE $10 MORE FORGED

A well-dressed young man yesterday appeared at the office of Herbert K. Hanna, attorney, and after introducing himself, requested Mr. Hanna to loan him five dollars, in order that he might get to Stockton, Calif., where he had many friends, and was assured of a job.

The young fellow said that he was not a beggar, that he merely wanted to "borrow" the money until he could get to the southern city.

Shortly after, the same person stepped into a local drug store and wrote a check for five dollars, signing Mr. Hann's name. He informed the clerk that he was being employed by the attorney. Today a check for $4.85 was cashed at a local pool hall by the young man.

Police officials have been notified and a search is being conducted.

LITHIA PARK ELK GORES CARETAKER

R. E. (Dock) Jordan, caretaker of the Lithia park, Ashland, attacked and gored yesterday by the park elk, was resting easy this morning and will recover from injuries sustained. One horn penetrated Jordan's side, and he was badly mauled by the elk bull. Harris Dean, park superintendent, beat off the enraged animal with a club. Jordan was inside the elk pen making repairs to the fence when the animal charged without warning.

The Ashland park authorities have asked permission of the state game commission to kill the elk, and when granted the park pet will face a firing squad.

Age and the fact his horns were "coming out of the velvet," is given as the cause of the viciousness of the animal.

MISS FOSS PREPARES FOR VALLEY SCHOOL

Miss Marie Foss, principal of the Valley school, has returned from her summer vacation, the buildings on Siskiyou Heights have been opened and Miss Foss will be there from 10 to 12 every week day from now until the school opens September 8th to meet parents who have children in the school or interested in the matter of sending them. The Valley school has been conducted for over a decade with marked success, and was recently declared the best private school in the state of its kind, by a prominent educator from the University of Oregon.

AUTO STRIKES TOT ON GENEVA STREET

Marrivonne Moore, three, suffered bruises and shock when struck by a car driven by Billie Hammett late Wednesday afternoon on Geneva street. It was reported at the hospital today that no severe injuries were sustained. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moore.

She is said to have dashed into the street from her mother's car, and in front of the approaching car driven by Miss Hammett, daughter of William Hammett. The little girl was knocked to the pavement.

John R. Crowder Passes in South

Friends in Medford have received word of the death Sunday of John R. Crowder at Calistoga, Calif. Mr. Crowder, known as "Bob," opened the Ivy Street Meat Market here several years ago, and left Medford last fall because of his health.

Mr. Crowder was in the meat business for many years, and is well known here. His relatives reside at Martinez, Calif.

OATHS IN ALLEY BRING SENTENCE FOR C. P. MAN

In sentencing Lee Smith, young man well known in Central Point and Medford, to 10 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $1000, on being found guilty of disorderly conduct, this morning, Judge Glenn O. Taylor, in the city court, gave warning that as far as his court was concerned no boisterous and profane language or other disorderly conduct will be permitted in public, and that swift punishment would always be meted out in his court to all such offenders found guilty.

Smith's arrest grew out of his raising a disturbance in the alley near the Craterian theater entrance about 9 o'clock Monday night, while seated in his car with another person, with whom he was having an altercation, during which he made use of loud and vile words, pleainly heard by the theater attaches and about 50 patrons waiting in the lobby for the second show.

When Manager Holt, Earle Davis and other theater attaches tried to induce Smith to quiet down, the testimony shows that he only grew noisier and more threatening in his comments.

After sentence was pronounced, Smith declared in court that he would make an appeal and was then led off to jail. An appeal would be welcomed by the prosecution, as after the trial was over additional witnesses, who are citizens not connected with the theater, were found who are willing to testify against Smith.

GARDNER WILL GIVE BICYCLE AND PRIZES

A boy's or girl's bicycle will be given away as first prize in the Gardner drug store "Top Notcher" contest which starts September 10. There are five other valuable prizes and any boy or girl between the ages of 8 to 15 can enter. All that is necessary is to ask their friends to save "Top Notcher" contest coupons and deposit them weekly at the Gardner drug store.

The total value of prizes, $105, is an incentive to every boy and girl in Medford.

Petrolle Choice to Beat McLarnin in Rubber Battle

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(AP)—It's the rubber battle between Billy Petrolle, the veteran scrapper from Fargo, N. D., and Jimmy McLarnin, the Vancouver youngster, at the Yankee stadium tonight.

Petrolle, who thought he had had enough of the ring a year or so ago, came out of retirement and gave Jimmy one of the worst beatings of his career. Then McLarnin turned around and polished off Billy in a return bout. Tonight, in their third meeting within a year, they hope to settle the argument. The bout is over the ten-round route.

McLarnin is expected to have about a four-pound pull in the weights, coming in at 144, but Petrolle's recent knockout triumph over Justo Suarez, the Argentine lightweight star, has made him an even-money choice.

FRANK EDDY FINDS CITY PROSPEROUS

Frank Fay Eddy, formerly special and editorial writer on the Albany Democrat-Herald, arrived in Medford today, and will spend some time here preparing an illustrated article on Medford and the Rogue River valley for the October number of the Oregon magazine published for many years by Murray Wade of Salem.

Mr. Eddy recently left the Albany paper and is now associate editor of the magazine which the publishers plan to make a genuine state periodical with a circulation throughout the northwest. Mr. Eddy, familiar with business conditions all over the state, said that he had heard Medford was in better shape than most places on the coast, and remarked that after looking over the town and talking with business men, he was convinced this was true.

Mears Returns to Make Medford His Permanent Home

After spending a decade in Los Angeles where he was associate counsel for the Title Insurance and Trust company, one of the largest institutions of the kind on the coast, Fred Mears, former city attorney and well known local resident, has decided to return to his old love and make Medford his permanent home.

Mr. Mears arrived yesterday, and since then has been busy greeting his many old friends, who are delighted that he has decided to come back, where he spent so many years. He will resume the practice of law, and no doubt will take an active part in local politics, as he did before, being an ardent Republican of the Progressive type.

Mrs. Mears who also took an active part in Medford's civic and social life, passed away while living in Los Angeles, and the two sons Frederick and James, graduates of California and Stanford universities respectively will remain in business in southern California.

ASTORIA PASTOR DROWNS IN RIVER

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Rev. T. I. Kirkwood, for the past two years pastor of the Clatsop Plains Memorial Presbyterian church, drowned in the Nehalem river near Jewell Wednesday afternoon. The body was recovered.

Rev. Mr. Kirkwood had taken several boys, members of the Pioneer club of his church, to the Nehalem valley for an outing Tuesday. Yesterday he decided to go swimming with the boys. He was about 10 feet from shore and in eight feet of water when he disappeared. The boys said he did not rise to the surface again.

He is survived by his widow and three children.

Newspaper Gives Wheat to Needy

DAYTON, O., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Dayton Daily News today announced it would distribute wheat to needy families in an effort to show "how simply and cheaply a considerable part of the whole relief program can be met" and at the same time demonstrate how the over-production of farm products might be solved.

The newspaper will give wheat to families whose wants are certified by the family welfare organization.

CRASH INTO GAS PUMP BURNS PAIR FATALLY

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Two men died of burns today and four other persons were in a serious condition as the result of a strange accident last night when a gasoline pump into which an automobile had crashed, exploded and sprayed passersby with liquid fire.

The automobile, driven by Edward Little, police constable, collided with the pump in an attempt to avoid striking three pedestrians.

Two of the pedestrians — Herbert Emmerson and Thomas Conroy—died today of burns. William Daly was seriously burned but may live, doctors said.

CIGARETTE SETS FIRE IN APARTMENT HOUSE

Fire in the Schuler apartments at Oakdale and Sixth streets this morning at 10 o'clock did small damage, it is reported. The blaze was started by a cigarette in bed clothing, firemen said. Miss Gwetholyn Reese is the occupant of the apartment.

When the flames were discovered by other residents of the building, they were spreading from the bedding to the walls of the sleeping room. Miss Reese was not at home at the the time. The fire was quickly extinguished.

DOUGLAS COUNTY TAXPAYERS KICK

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Douglas County Taxpayers' League yesterday adopted resolutions recommending a 20 per cent reduction in the salaries of all state and county employes and a 25 per cent reduction in the assessed valuation of all Douglas county real estate.

The tax league held the assessed valuation of real property was raised 25 per cent when the Oregon and California grant lands were revested in the federal government. Since the county now receives an amount equal to the tax on grant lands, the assessments should be lowered to the former basis, the league said.

The reduction in assessed valuation also would apportion taxes more equitably between real and personal property, the league said.

LONG DEAD LANGUAGES LIVEN GERMAN PUPILS

STUTTGART, Germany — (AP)—Classical education seems to be no dead weight upon the school children here.

Pupils of the grammer schools, devoted to academic subjects, are 1½ inches taller and weigh 3.3 pounds more on an average than those of the same age who attend the national or vocational schools.
