PARIS FAVORS BLACK, WHITE FOR COOLNESS

By Diana Merwin. PARIS (AP)—Black and white is the latest rule for summer smartness.

In the midst of a season devoted to startling color combinations smart Parisians are appearing in black and white morning, noon and night and combining them in ways never tried before.

For days in town black coats are worn over white frocks finished with black accessories, while rare days find many smart women at the track wearing white coats over simple black frocks accompanied by white accessories.

Jacket suits combine the two shades in surprising fashions. Black skirts are worn with white blouses and jackets lined with black.

By night the black and white vogue is built of gleaming stuffs. White satin dinner pajamas are finished with short short black velvet jackets.

Accessories make or ruin the smartness of black and white costumes. Black slippers, gauntlet gloves, hat and bag are generally worn with white frocks.

SCARVES OF BEADS MATCH PARIS HATS

Decorations For The Home

By Jane Svedicor. ARTICLE XXIII. Thomas Sheraton and Sheraton Furniture

Thomas Sheraton, born in 1751, is commonly known as an eccentric genius but this same singular and peculiar genius seems to be responsible for the style which has become so well known by his name altho during his life time it won for him neither recognition nor material reward.

As a poor boy, Sheraton was denied all but the mere rudiments of an education. He taught himself drawing and was, in all likelihood, apprenticed at an early age to some local cabinet maker.

For the greater part of his life he wandered about the country, an obscure cabinet maker, preacher, writer, artist, mathematician, and mechanic. Religion always played a very important part in the life of this unusual man and it is as a writer on religious subjects that we first hear of Sheraton; he always refers to himself as a mechanic.

In 1790 he went to London and opened a small shop, which seems also to have served as a residence, and there he carried on a small business. He probably made a limited amount of furniture from his own designs, and at the same time executed orders for others, notable among whom was Robert Adam.

Nevertheless he believed in his own work and was an artist with a keen understanding of beauty. Altho influenced by the Adam Brothers and even more by the Louis XVth models, Sheraton's style is individual. One of his characteristic marks was the use of graduated or tapering flutes and reeds.

For the woman who does not care for lace there are plain satin, crepe or triple georgette negligees, the distinction of which lies in their sophisticated simplicity and the sweep of wide butterfly sleeves.

Lightweight Wool Frocks to Be Worn in Simple Designs

The Secret Of Slenderness—Given In Three Lessons

Here's the secret of a movie actress' slender figure: First, lying on your back, go through the motions of pedaling a bicycle, to reduce both ankles and thighs. Then, standing, bend to the floor 50 times. Third, seated, touch toes with fingers (without bending the knees) to straighten line from knee to thigh. And that, on the word of Frances Dee, ought to give you a figure as trim as hers.

Trousered Costumes Make Exit As Negligees Capture Boudoir

By Diana Merwin. PARIS (AP)—The negligee of femininity is taking the pajama's place in the boudoir. Trousered costumes, so popular as lounging robes last season and still supreme on the beach, are giving way to sweeping negligees which give Madame an air of voluptuous elegance in keeping with the mode.

Supple shimmering satins, in the peach and apricot hues which give a rosy light to the face, are richly trimmed with beige Alencon or Racine lace.

There is none of the be-ruffled be-flounced effect of the gay nineties in these new negligees. Their lines are trim, their designs comparatively simple, their laces applied in flat cut-out incrustations around the throat, sleeves and hem.

Necklines are often surprise, sleeves are large enough to give an air of grace, and hemlines never trail the floor but clear it by three or four inches. A number of the hems are cut to give a modified flare reminiscent of a Spanish dancer's swirling skirt.

For the woman who does not care for lace there are plain satin, crepe or triple georgette negligees, the distinction of which lies in their sophisticated simplicity and the sweep of wide butterfly sleeves.

Velvet negligees—the one lounging robe which fashion permits to trail—promise to be popular later in the season. Several of these, in rich ruby or emerald tints, are designed with modified trains which sweep with grace over heavy carpets.

Dark blue and black are favorite hues, while the general design is simple. White pique or lace-trimmed chiffon collars and cuffs are often used as trims.

The handkerchiefs are so large that they almost touch the hems of the gowns. Cask Holds 130,000 Bottles MUNICH, Aug. 22.—(UP)—The largest cask in the world for actual use has been completed here by Joseph and Aloys Dorn, cooper.

CULINARY CRAFT....

By Estella Dorgan, Director of Home Service, California Oregon Power Co. Refrigerator Recipes.

The art of "Cold Cookery" is quite as fascinating in this season as is the old craft of food preparation by means of heat. Nowadays you hear of "Refrigerator Meals," "Frozen Soups," "Chilled Soups" and as on without thinking how strange such expressions would have sounded just a few years ago.

The electric refrigerator has brought this change and possibility to us and we have welcomed the many delightful uses both for "cooking" and saving in a most enthusiastic manner. In fact, it seems to me that we are asking almost too much of our refrigerator sometimes by loading it to the utmost and then forgetting to defrost so that it may do the work we are expecting of it.

It might not be amiss to remind housewives that a chilling unit cannot be most efficient when covered with a thick coat of frost. Not only is the unit less efficient but it will take more electricity to keep the cabinet cold and consequently cost more to operate the machine.

This isn't fair on either side! This defrosting may be done easily at night. Just remove the ice cubes and keep them on a food shelf then disconnect the motor of the machine and be sure that the pan to catch the melting frost is in place. In the morning the machine is still cool and ready to start working again. See that the machine is started well and the cabinet wiped dry if any moisture is found on the shelves or bottom after the defrosting.

Now let us give you some new recipes: Banana Sherbet. 1 1/2 cups boiling water, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 teaspoons gelatin, 3 tablespoons cold water, 2 tablespoons minced nut meats, 4 bananas, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup whipping cream.

Soak gelatin in cold water. Boil sugar and water 10 minutes and combine with gelatine. Mash bananas to pulp and add to first mixture with lemon juice and salt. Freeze to mush then add beaten cream and nuts and finish freezing.

Apricot Salad. 1 can apricots, 1 teaspoon almond extract, Vanilla ice cream. Cook apricots slowly in syrup from can and flavor with one teaspoon of almond extract. Chill. Put halves of fruit together with ice cream and arrange on sauté plate with macaroons.

Orange Mousse Layer. 2 teaspoons gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1/2 cup sugar, Grated rind and juice 6 oranges, Grated rind and juice 1 lemon, 1 pint whipping cream, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon orange extract.

Soak gelatin in cold water and melt over hot water. Combine with fruit juices, rinds and sugar and heat until the sugar is melted. Pour into freezing tray and cool. Then cover with whipped cream combined with powdered sugar and extract. Return to freezing compartment and finish process.

Fresh Peach Sherbet. 1 cup peach pulp, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup white corn syrup, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon gelatine, 2 tablespoons cold water, 2 1/2 cups milk.

Combine the first four ingredients and let stand one hour. Soak gelatin in cold water, dissolve over hot water then combine with first mixture. Add the milk slowly to prevent curdling. Pour into trays to freeze.

Fudge Ice Cream Sauce. 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3/4 cup white corn syrup, 3/4 cup cream, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 teaspoons cocoa. Mix all ingredients and boil for five minutes.

GOOD morning. It can't be afternoon unless you're your Pineapple Morning Glace and maybe you haven't heard to make it yet. This refreshing drink originated in this...

While scientists were making careful investigations to discover which fruit juice contained the fullest vitamin content—first heading the list with orange juice followed by pineapple juice—a close second—a discerning taster blithely tossed the two valuable juices together to form a base for this delicious drink, vividly rich in vitamins.

Here is the formula. Mix half cup of syrup from can Hawaiian pineapple, one-half fresh or canned orange juice, tablespoon honey, a pinch of and lemon juice, but you'll want to multiply it many times. Specially, this might have been called Pineapple Four-o'clock cause it is a delightful mid-afternoon cocktail, as well as a fast drink.
