RADIO OF FUTURE IS CLEVER STUNT AT LIONS' DINNER

A lot of speculations are going on in the radio world in the years to come were evidenced last night in the program presented at the junior dinner for Lions and Lady Lions at the Hotel Holland.

The skits prepared by Floyd Rush, Wyatt Clark, Ike McCougale, Dave Reese and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKilsey centered around "What You Might See on Your Radio 10 Years from Today."

The first stunt included several numbers by the "Arizona Bunchers," featuring old-time songs and appropriate parades. Dave Reese, who played the role of the sheriff, later appeared as a juke girl in the television scene and won additional applause.

One of the leading events of the evening was the program played by Sebastian Apollo, guest artist, who is here from Los Angeles. Mr. Apollo played several old classics and a group of his own compositions on the piano. He also accompanied Lion George Olsen, toast master, in a group of solos, which were received with enthusiastic applause.

There were 60 guests gathered at the dinner table. Lion H. C. Williamson and his committee were responsible for the successful program.

Among the comic stunts of the evening presented in addition to the regular acts were a hair-lip announcement by Lion Rush and an address in drunk brogue by Dave Reese.
