

LINDBERGH SEES GREAT FUTURE IN PLANE AND RADIO

Address at Reception in Tokyo Carried Through-out United States by Hookups—Flight Lauded

By C. E. Butterfield
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has great confidence in the future of aviation and radio, he told an eastern world today. He spoke from Tokyo in response to an address of welcome at a reception given by three members of the Japanese cabinet after the conclusion of the flight of him and his wife from New York City. The program was re-broadcast throughout the United States by two networks.

Although there were a number of interruptions due to atmospheric and other disturbances during the forty minutes the program was on the air, the voice of Lindbergh came through clearly most of the time.

Flight Lauded

Col. Lindbergh was introduced by W. Cameron Forbes, American ambassador, who declared that the flier had made himself "an international character and has received international recognition."

The Lindberghs were officially welcomed by Matajiro Koizumi, minister of communications.

The program was opened with a five-minute period of music by Japanese players who gave a medley of American songs including "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Dixie."

The address of welcome by Matajiro Koizumi was translated in English by L. Komatsu, Harvard graduate and former San Francisco business man. His translation follows:

"We are gathered here to extend our congratulations to Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh on their 7,000-mile flight from New York to Tokyo. Please accept our congratulations. We want to express our appreciation to you and America."

A Great Pilot

He lauded the colonel as a great pilot, yet one who never failed to take precautions when starting on his flight. He said the flight would create good will.

Responding Col. Lindbergh said in part:

"We have come to Japan for an opportunity of meeting your people and seeing a little more of the country which in our school days was known to us in America as being on the 'far side of the world. When we were children we thought of Japan as a land filled with people who were different from us as though they lived on another planet."

"We marveled at their ability to walk upside down and that they kept from falling off the earth altogether. During more recent years, a rapid change has taken place in our conception of your country. We have many more of your people in America, and more of your products are used in our homes."

"Your scientific men have added to our common knowledge and international affairs have claimed a mutual interest of both our people."

Distance No Mystery

"With the advance of radio and aircraft, the mystery of distance can no longer exist. We are interested in many of the same things and concerned by similar problems. We have come to Japan over the top of the world, and when we were near the North Pole we discovered that the people in our country were not right side up, and those in yours upside down, but that both were really walking at the same time. We discovered no lands separating a green crusty from a purple one on our map. Ideas which we had inherited from past ages become insignificant when we look at people from the sky and speak to distant people through the radio."

"I do not know what effect air-mail will eventually have on the world, but I have great confidence in

FEDERAL EXPERTS TO START SURVEY MEDFORD, TALENT

W. W. McLaughlin of San Francisco, chief of the irrigation division bureau of agricultural engineering department, with headquarters in San Francisco arrived today to launch an economic survey of the Talent and Medford districts. The completed survey, according to District Manager Olen Arnsperger will be used as a basis for an adjustment of the financial affairs of the two districts.

The survey will start September 1 and will be completed by October 15. The surveyors will include government experts, on their first visit to this section. The survey will be thorough and embody the productivity, development, soil conditions, and other elements, economic and otherwise. They will view all acreage in the two districts under cultivation and also report on the water conditions for the past five years, as compared with previous periods.

While no definite announcement is now available it is understood that following the completion of the survey, there will be a series of meetings between the landowners and the bondholders.

MRS. VOORHIES ON GROUNDED VESSEL, SAFE IN VICTORIA

The family and friends of Mrs. Gordon Voorhies were considerably alarmed by the report in last night's Mail Tribune that the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Norah had gone on the rocks in a fog off Port San Juan, Vancouver Island. Mrs. Voorhies sailed with a Portland friend on this boat several days ago for a cruise around the island.

Colonel Voorhies, however, got in immediate communication with Canadian Pacific officials in Vancouver last night and found that there was no immediate danger. This morning he received a wire from Mrs. Voorhies that she was safely in Victoria where all the passengers on the ship had been taken.

The Princess Norah was not seriously damaged and Mrs. Voorhies said that the company plans to float the ship at once and continue the cruise. Mrs. Voorhies, an experienced world traveler, declared she would make no change in her plans, and will return to the boat with her fellow passengers.

CONNECTICUT SOLON VISITOR AT CRATER

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK (Special)—Contrary to general opinion that the prohibition question will be a major issue during the next presidential election, United States Senator F. C. Walcott of Norfolk, Conn., a visitor this week at Crater Lake, believes the time is not yet at hand when that question will be made a major issue.

In Senator Walcott's mind, the unemployment situation, if it still exists next year, will overshadow all other matters. In discussing the agitation begun in the east for the government to issue bonds to create a fund out of which employment will be given to the jobless, he frowned on the idea and is equally against the dole system. He thinks it will only be a matter of a comparatively short time before conditions right themselves.

Senator Walcott was accompanied to the lake by Congressman Albert E. Carter of Oakland, Calif., and spent several hours viewing the beauties of the lake.

MEDFORD, OREGON LOOK GOOD SAYS LINDSAY EDITOR

"I have been all over the coast on my vacation and I will say this: Medford and Oregon look better than any other section."

This was the statement of A. L. Evans, editor of the Lindsay Tribune, who arrived today to launch an economic survey of the Talent and Medford districts. The completed survey, according to District Manager Olen Arnsperger will be used as a basis for an adjustment of the financial affairs of the two districts.

"Oregon looks so green after California, and while they talk of drought there is little evidence of it in the Inland Empire in Washington it was so dry and dusty all along the highway, while in Oregon there are green pastures, green trees and fine looking fruit crops."

"I am devoted to California and always intend to live there. But I will admit conditions down there are far from good. I have a Valencia orange grove and its returns this year won't pay for more than the orchard heating. My neighbors are in the same boat. Perhaps this news will convince your pear growers they have nothing to complain about. I understand most of the growers here will at least break even, and some will make money. Not going in the red this year should be enough for any fruit district I know anything about."

MANY RELATIVES UNABLE TO PAY COURT INFORMED

Relatives of Jackson county residents in Oregon institutions appearing before the county court this morning and answered questionnaires relative to their ability to pay for their care and keep, in accordance with a law passed by the last session of the legislature, and the economy program recently adopted by Governor Meier.

The new law, whose constitutionality is threatened with legal attack by several counties of the state, provides that each county pay $20 per month, for each dependents' care, if able, otherwise the sum shall be paid by the county. Many counties maintain that, as the care of the dependents is provided for in this year's state tax levy, the counties are being asked to pay twice, and plan to fight it in the supreme court on this grounds.

All the kin appearing this morning expressed a willingness to contribute but many explained that they were in strained circumstances themselves, and would be unable to render out small financial assistance, if any.

The questionnaire contained only questions bearing upon the earning power, wealth, and dependents of the kin.
