BUCKING HONORS AT PENDLETON TO STAYTON COWBOY

Rides Midnight With Ease To Win—Ike Rude Of Oklahoma Best Cow-hand In World.

PENDLETON, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP)—The money loop, cast by Ike Rude, Mangum, Okla., roper, to win the world's champion steer-roping contest in the Pendleton round-up which closed here today, also caught for him the $5000 Sam Jackson trophy signifying that he was the best all-around cow hand entered in the show.

To win the hotly-contested trophy, Rude had to out-point Jake McClure, New Mexico, first winner last year; Bob Crosby, also New Mexico, owner of the Roosevelt trophy, and what round-up officials term the classiest field of top hands ever to compete here.

Rude took the steer-roping championship with a total time of 35 seconds for three steers. That gave him a money purse and a silver-ornamented saddle.

By sticking to Midnight, a feat declared never to have performed before, F. E. Studnick, Stayton, Ore., won the world's championship bucking contest. He neither raked or fanned the big black, realizing apparently that all he had to do was to stick to win.

E. Pardee, La Junta, Colo., made himself world's calf-roping champion by tying three calves in 51 seconds. World's bulldogging honors went to Frank McCarroll, Boise, Ida., with two steers in 38 seconds.

Mabel Strickland, Burbank, Cal., rode the George Drumheller string, Walls, Wash., to first money in the relay races.

Fony express and cowboy relay races were won by Freddie Hunt, Idaho. He rode McCarty and Elliott's Chugwater, Wyo., string.

Behind Rude in steer-roping came Bob Crosby, also New Mexico, owner of the Roosevelt trophy, and what round-up officials term the classiest field of top hands ever to compete here.

For under winners in the world's bucking event, the judges had to choose from three figures weighted with coral dust. Earl Thode, South Dakota, thrown by five minutes to midnight, placed second, and Leo Murray, Texas, placed third. In bulldogging, Buck Lucas, Texas, was second and Lloyd Saunders, California, third.

Burl Mulkey, Salmon, Ida., punched rode Sundown and Patches to take the northwest bucking championship.

Round-up officials announced the paid attendance for the show at 25,000.

Many Upstate Entries—Dr. Spears Of Oregon May Play—Opening Play Next Friday.

Intensive practice on the course of the Rogue Valley Golf club, in preparation for southern Oregon's big golfing event of next week-end, was on the menu for a large number of local golfers for yesterday and today.

A large number of local aspirants are putting finishing touches on their game, and close competition is expected in both the qualifying and match play rounds.

Entries received up to last night from outside points include Ned Falmberg, Leslie Neal, and Don French, all of Eugene; and A. W. Mathews, C. A. Krause, Clark McCullough, Dr. Paul Sharp, Dr. Geo. Merriman, R. R. MacGaffney, Paul Dalton, and E. Hutchins, of Klamath Falls. Friday, September 4th, will be the date for the qualifying round, consisting of 18 holes, medal play, for the medalist trophy, donated by H. D. McCaskey. From the standings in the qualifying round, match play cards will be tabulated, with flights of 18, play beginning Saturday noon, with first round matches. Two additional rounds will be completed Sunday, with the finals in each flight being decided on Labor day, September 7th.

Qualifying rounds for the women's championship will also be played on Friday, with match play in all flights beginning Saturday morning. A number of outside entries are also being received in the women's division, and local entrants are expecting stiff competition in the championship flight.

A large number of trophies and prizes, which will be the awards for southern Oregon's largest golf tournament, are now on display in the windows of McPherson's clothing store. Prizes are to be awarded for the winner and runner-up in each flight, and also for the winner and runner-up in each beaten eight. Other prizes are also being awarded for low score on a blind hole, lowest number of putts, etc.

Don Clark, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, stated last night that local golfers should hand in their entries as soon as possible, in order that proper arrangements may be made for handling the players on the qualifying rounds. It was pointed out that membership in the local golf club is not essential to entrance in this tournament, which is open to all, upon payment of the entry fee.

Included in the entries which have been made up to last night are the following local golfers: J. C. Thompson, club president; E. E. Kelly, A. E. Orr, P. A. Johnson, Ward Bennett, Harry McMahon, Dr. J. J. Emmons, Tom Emmons, Sprague Reigel, G. M. Roberts, P. S. Newhall, Alfred Carpenter.

AMATEUR AGES TO VIE AT BEVERLY WITH JONES OUT

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—(AP)—High winds and high hopes today marked the preparations of America's foremost amateur golfers, together with a sprinkling of British rivals, for the national amateur championship, which starts Monday over the long and difficult county club course.

This is the first tournament without Bobby Jones since 1919. Most of the 150 entries, more or less, figure they have a chance to grab some of the long lost spot light.

For the past 11 years, from the outset of each affair, it has been Jones against the field.

George von Elm is also missing for the first time and Johnny Goodman is one of only three starters who claim the distinction of victory over Jones in previous national amateur championships. The others are veteran ex-champions, Francis Ouimet of Boston who beat Jones in 1900 at Bostons, and Max Marchand of Philadelphia, who took Bob's measure at the nearby Flossmoor course in 1923.

All the pre-battle chatter and locker-room gossip has failed to develop anything like a favorite in the big field.

Of the youngsters who have been coming along prominently, William Lawson Little, Jr., of San Francisco and Charley Seaver of Los Angeles have their followers.

Among the more seasoned campaigners, Dr. Oscar F. Willing of Portland, Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston of St. Paul, the last on the list to hold the championship; George Voigt, of New York; Chicago's Chick Evans and Francis Ouimet, are old rivals for the top honors.

Britain's entries include Cyril Tolley and John De Forest, runner-up this year for the British amateur title. Another former British title holder, T. Philip Perkins, is entered from his present home, New York.

Perhaps because he is a veteran himself, Dr. Willing, still a keen competitor at 41, believes the winner will emerge from the older group because, he says, "it takes experience to get aly where on this layout."

MRS. GODFREY WINS WILLAMETTE TITLE

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Augusta Godfrey, Eugene, defeated Mrs. David Graham, also of Eugene, two straight sets to win the women's singles title in the Willamette valley tennis tournament on University of Oregon courts here today.

Mrs. Graham was seeded No. 1, the score being 6-3, 9-7. Joe Kalkisky and Jack Ahearn, both of Eugene, will swap serves tomorrow in the finals of the men's singles. Ahearn defeated Al Coats, Tillamook, and Kalkisky, Gardiner, Eugene, to get into the finals.

The men's junior singles will be decided between Sam Bickman, Albany, and Pete Buck, Eugene, tomorrow. The former is seeded No. 1 and the latter No. 2.

In the finals of the men's doubles tomorrow, Ahearn and Kalkisky will meet Gattner and Kabler, Myrtle Point. The former pair won from Coats and Slattery in the semi-finals. The latter put out McDonald and Rick.

Buck and Mrs. Bushman will meet Phillip Overmyer and Mrs. Graham in the mixed doubles finals.

MRS. HILL'S MAGIC PUTTER NETS HER WESTERN HONORS

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, a fighter with a magic putter and a strangely unorthodox swing, was crowned the woman's western golf champion for the second time in three years today.

Although paired against one of the greatest iron stylists in the game, Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, Cal., in the 36-hole finale, Mrs. Hill putted her way to a 3 to 1 triumph. She romped to a three-up lead at nine holes, saw her lead vanish on the 17th hole, came back with a birdie to lead at the halfway mark and then stretched her lead to the finish.

Putting accomplished the trick for her and ruined Mrs. Pressler's efforts time and again.

The Pacific coast star had great chances to forge ahead with beautiful approach shots only to lose them away and half or even lose the holes. She excelled Mrs. Hill in every phase of the game until she came to the greens, but as soon as she had to work with her putter she lost and Mrs. Hill was right at home.

Mrs. Pressler lead only once during the 36-hole journey and that was on the first hole where she played par to win the hole with a five to Mrs. Hill's shaky six.

Only by luck of nice approaches and one putt greens did Mrs. Hill stop what looked like a march on the next two greens. Then everything seemed to go awry for the far western star. She tossed chances away on the greens hole after hole, while Mrs. Hill clicked off one after another until she had won five in succession to bound to a commanding four-up lead.

Mrs. Pressler appeared to be in a semi-panic at this stage but she came back with a rush with a deuce on the short ninth, and by the time they finished the 17th, the match was all squares.

Mrs. Hill proved her nerve by slugging two wood shots to the green on the 18th to click off a birdie 4 and go to lunch one up.

DIZZY DEAN NEARING STRIKEOUT RECORD

HOUSTON, Tex., —(AP)—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, eccentric pitching ace of the Houston Buffaloes in the Texas league, is likely to establish a new modern strikeout record for the circuit this season.

Early in August he had fanned more than 200 batters and had his eye on the mark set by "Wild Bill" Hallahan, now with the St. Louis Cardinals, who registered 244 strikeouts in 1928.

SEATTLE INFIELD FAST MAKING DOUBLE PLAYS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—As the second half of the Pacific Coast league season neared the midway mark the Seattle Indians had a total of 136 double plays.

Most of them were made by the second base-shortstop combination with the score cards reading Muller to Bismworth or Taylor. Some, however, were started by Fritz Knothe, third baseman.

MISS ENGLAND GROOMED TO GA SPEEDBOAT TI

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Don, the British sportsman who driven a speedboat faster than other human beings, falling from the Harmsworth trophy from Wood in the power boat starting a week from today, not because he has overlooked detail of preparation.

Despite a deluge of invitations, luncheons, dinners and other Don's mind has been chiefly on the Harmsworth course that starts upper Detroit river between Isle and the mainland and out into Lake St. Clair.

The British speed king has the boat, single challenger, three American craft for the over the course several times.

Meanwhile, the Gar Wood has his boats, the three Miss America "Fifth," "Eighth," and "Tenth," his home at the end of Lake St. Clair.

Although Wood has entered boats, he is depending mainly on his Miss America IX, whose 12-cylinder motors are equipped with superchargers. The "Ninth" is little better than 103 miles an hour on a straight-away course in the superchargers were in.

Wood believes he has a speed in the craft now of 115 miles an hour.

Don probably will spend hours each day next week on his efforts to "catch the feel" of the boat, he will travel a week today.

The "feeling out" process has rather snappy, if the stop was an occasional observer was accurately correct. On one lap, five-mile course, Miss England was clocked around Friday in minutes 27 1-5 seconds, or 71.6 an hour.

The fastest lap in the Harmsworth a year ago was by Miss A. IX, 79.082 miles an hour.
