

CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON SEPT. 8, RULES OUTLINED

General Teachers Meeting Scheduled For Next Saturday—Registration Of Pupils—Tuition And Special Classes.

School days will soon be here again—Tuesday, September 8, elementary, junior high and senior high will open in Medford. And with the opening two new buildings will be occupied for the first time, the high school on South Oakdale and the new Washington school on South Peach. Two new classes rooms and an auditorium added to the Roosevelt building will also add interest to the new school setting.

Tuesday morning pupils in grades one to six will register at 9 o'clock when they arrive at their respective buildings. Most of the incoming Junior high school pupils are registered. Pupils who are new to the system or for some other reason not registered, are asked to present themselves at the school Friday between the hours of 9 and 4. Tuesday morning they will receive assignments to classes, roll rooms, lockers and the like, when they meet with their counselors.

Thursday and Friday have been named as registration days for high school pupils who have not already registered. They will be assigned to classes and full periods beginning Tuesday morning, September 8.

A general teachers meeting for all Medford teachers will be held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. Following this teachers will meet with their respective principals in planning the year's work.

Pupils who will be six years of age before six weeks after the opening of school, or before October 19, are accepted without question; younger pupils who will be six during the first semester may be accepted provided they show by test a mental age development of 6 1/2 years. Parents of such children who desire to enter them should call Mrs. George B. Caspary, phone 1973-L, who has charge of testing such pupils, between now and September 6th.

The boundary lines of the wards served by the four elementary schools are as follows:

The high school and junior high school each serves the whole city for the grades each represents.

The four elementary schools house grades one to six. Roosevelt school serves all the territory on the east of the Pacific highway. The Lincoln school serves that portion of the city west of the Pacific highway and east of the S. P. R. R. tracks. The Jackson school serves the west and northwest part of the city lying west of the S. P. R. R. tracks and north of Main street or Jacksonville highway. The Washington school serves the southwest part of the city, or that territory lying west of the railroad tracks and south of Main street.

All pupils from the given districts are expected to report to their own respective schools for the opening day. Following registration, where it can be shown that individual parents or pupils will be better accommodated by attendance at some other school, a request for transfer may be filed with the school superintendent, but until a transfer can be effected a pupil must attend the school to which he is assigned.

According to the board's order tuition for non-resident children is fixed the same as last year at $6.00 per month for elementary and junior high school pupils, payable in advance. For high school pupils, it is $10.00 per month. High school pupils living in a school district which does not support a high school have their tuition paid by the county. Non-resident parents who are in arrears on tuition from last year, must square the account before their children will be accepted into the Medford schools for this year. Non-resident parents who pay taxes in the Medford School District No. 49 will receive credits on their tuition bill to the amount of the school tax they pay.

Some change is being planned in handling the education of crippled children. Heretofore teachers have gone to the homes, giving each child private instruction, which has enabled a teacher to meet only about four pupils a day. This means that two or three teachers have been required on either full or part time basis. This year a room is being fitted up in the new Washington school to take care of these children, and parents of most of them have signified a willingness to transport them.

According to Superintendent Hedrick there will be several advantages in this new plan, provided it can be carried out. In the first place it will be cheaper for the district. In the second place it will enable these children to have the companionship of other children. In the third place it will relieve mothers who have been tied down with the care of these children for two or three hours each day.

Children who are not able to be transported will be taught in the homes just as before.

The typical special children will be handled at the Washington school the same as last year.

JACKSONVILLE SCHOOL REPAIRED, DECORATED; WILL OPEN SEPT. 8TH

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., Aug. 29.—(Special.) Jacksonville school will open September 8. Work of repairing the building and redecorating has been done during the summer. The school bus is undergoing a thorough overhauling. H. H. Farley will again drive the bus, bringing in children from Sterling and nearby districts. Clyde Smith will bring in the students from the Applegate district who wish to attend high school. Teachers for this term are Milton E. Coe of Medford, principal of the school, also instructor in the high school; Joe Nee of Butte Falls, science teacher, also high school coach; Mrs. Kafoury of Salem, commercial; Mrs. Marion Crocker of Eugene, English and sewing, in the high school; Ray Hunaker of Ashland, seventh and eighth grades, also coach for the grades; Maxine Brooks of Portland, fifth and sixth grades, also music instructor; Miss Loraine Sparr, third and fourth grades, and Mrs. Mary Norvald, instructor of the primary room.

Mrs. Mary Norvald and daughter of Portland moved Wednesday into the E. R. White residence where they will make their home while Mrs. Norvald teachers in the Jacksonville schools this year.

FOREIGN POSTAGE RATES INCREASED

The Medford postoffice has been advised that beginning with next Tuesday, September 1, the postal rates on letters to England and Canada from the United States will be increased. The regular foreign rates of five cents for the first ounce, or fraction thereof, will be the new rate to Great Britain and Ireland, and the rate of postal cards will be increased from two to three cents.

A special rate of three cents an ounce will apply on letters to Canada, Newfoundland and Labrador, and air mail postage from the United States to Canada and Newfoundland will be increased from five to six cents an ounce.

The domestic rate of two cents an ounce on first-class mail matter between these countries and the United States has been in effect since 1908. Prior to that year letters to Great Britain carried the 9-cent postage rate.

Postage on letters from Great Britain and Canada to the United States is now equivalent to three cents, the same as domestic postage, the one-cent increase added during the war never having been repealed.

No hunting, no trespassing signs, on cardboard or cloth at job department of Mail Tribune, 28-30 North Grape.

Green slabs, $2.50 per load. Medford Fuel Co. Tel. 631.

REGISTRATION FOR STUDENTS TO OPEN THURSDAY, FRIDAY

Tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade pupils who were not in attendance at Medford high school at the close of school last fall should report during the registration hours Thursday and Friday, September 3rd and 4th for assignment to counselors and registration. Registration hours are from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Thursday and Friday. All counselors and teachers will be on duty. Students who were in attendance at the close of school last fall need not report for registration. Schedules for such students have already been made out and will be delivered to the students by the counselors Tuesday morning, September 8th at 8:45. Regular class work will start Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. Full hour periods will be run throughout the day.

The senior high school book exchange will be open from nine to four Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, September 2nd, 3rd and 4th, and Saturday morning from 9:00 to 12 noon, September 5th. Students who have books to exchange are urged to deliver books to the book exchange at the earliest possible date. The book exchange will be open for pupil purchases all day Tuesday, September 8th.

Counselor lists and other bulletins of special information will be found posted on the corridor bulletin boards throughout the building.

Pupils who have not as yet been assigned to counselors will report to the principal's office for assignment. All pupils of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades should report to the junior high school, which is now located in the former senior high school building, at Second and Oakdale. It will not be necessary for any pupil who was in attendance in the Medford school system last fall to report before Tuesday, September 8th at 8:45. It will however, be necessary for junior high school pupils who were not in attendance in the Medford school system last fall to report Friday, September 5th at the Junior High School building for registration. Registration hours will be from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. during which time all junior high school counselors and teachers will be on duty.

Pupils who finished the sixth grade last year in the Medford city schools need not report for registration Friday. Such pupils have been registered and program cards for them will be delivered to them when they report to their counselors at the junior high school building September 8th.

The school bus is undergoing a thorough overhauling. H. H. Farley will again drive the bus, bringing in children from Sterling and nearby districts. Clyde Smith will bring in the students from the Applegate district who wish to attend high school.

Teachers for this term are Milton E. Coe of Medford, principal of the school, also instructor in the high school; Joe Nee of Butte Falls, science teacher, also high school coach; Mrs. Kafoury of Salem, commercial; Mrs. Marion Crocker of Eugene, English and sewing, in the high school; Ray Hunaker of Ashland, seventh and eighth grades, also coach for the grades; Maxine Brooks of Portland, fifth and sixth grades, also music instructor; Miss Loraine Sparr, third and fourth grades, and Mrs. Mary Norvald, instructor of the primary room.

Mrs. Mary Norvald and daughter of Portland moved Wednesday into the E. R. White residence where they will make their home while Mrs. Norvald teachers in the Jacksonville schools this year.

SEPTEMBER 8 IS REOPENING DATE FOR ST. MARY'S

On Tuesday, September 8, Saint Mary's will welcome the return of her students, who from all reports have enjoyed pleasant vacation trips in, and around our city beautiful. Some claim the honor of having mounted the heights of Shasta to view in exalted splendor the smiling valleys below.

For weeks past preparations and decorations have been in order so that the high school classrooms, halls and library have been entirely renovated.

The famous basketball players are looking forward to another year of successful achievement. Applications for enrollment as resident or day students is so in evidence that the sisters expect quite an increased attendance. Those wishing to register in the music and other departments, should make application to Sister Superior as soon as possible. As in former years, students are expected to conform to the regulations effecting the wearing of the midnight blue uniform not later than October 1. Further information regarding official requirements will gladly be sent by mail or by applying personally at the academy.

WOMEN CLUBS OF CITY AID PLAN TO POPULARIZE PEAR

The southern Oregon pear is coming into its glory this week and bids fair to find its way to every table via pie, salad, preserves or pickles.

A movement among the women's clubs to bring keener interest in the use and experimentation with pears, aroused by Mrs. Fred Cummings, president of the Garden club, will center on pear recipes.

Leaders in this campaign are Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Edwina Weishaar, president of the Business and Professional Women's club; Mrs. A. J. Hanby, president of the Greater Medford club; Mrs. Lorena Leach, president of the Lady Lions; Mrs. Carrie G. Chambers, president of Ladies of Rotary; Mrs. Georgia O. Hollway, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion; Mrs. Sprague Riegel, president of the Colony club, and Mrs. G. Q. D'Albini, president of the Parent-Teachers association.

The following recipe is submitted by the leaders: Slice green pears into your pie crust, add 1 cup sugar, butter for richness and add cinnamon and nutmeg, if you like spice in your pie. Put in a hot quick oven for a few moments, then bake slowly in a moderate oven.

Persons who find the result pleasing are asked to phone the Mail Tribune or one of the above organizations.

The J. N. Cafe yesterday announced that the management would co-operate in the movement to encourage consumption of the famous Rogue River valley pear by serving home made pear pies daily.

W. B. Crause of the Fruit Products company, whose various pear products have been manufactured for the past four years in an experimental way, was about town yesterday introducing his many tasty preparations to friends and members of the Mail Tribune staff.

The Fruit Products company is working with the idea of utilizing pears in a more merchantable condition than that prevailing at the present time. No water is used in the canning process adopted by Mr. Crause, whose offices are located at 528 South First street.

The products contain 100 per cent pure fruit and cane sugar. There are 17 different products, ranging from carbonated drink to candies. Extract is made from the seed, so the only waste resulting from handling the fruit is stem and core.

A new form of ice cream, which will resemble frozen glaze is also being prepared with the pear as the chief element.

The products are as yet in the experimental stage but have been used by some merchants. The Colossal bakery is launching a pear roll, which is made with the pear puree.

A pear pie was also brought to the Mail Tribune yesterday. It was made by Mrs. N. D. Brophy and the lucky ones who tasted it described it as the pie "supreme."

Fred Wagner and Louise Dodge, prominent Ashland citizens, were named yesterday by the county court to be members of the court house advisory committee. Other members are William A. Gates, T. E. Daniels, V. J. Emerick, T. W. Miles and Olen Arnspiger. The committee will confer and consult with the county court on matters pertaining to the construction of the new county structure.

POSTOFFICE AIDE HOME FROM TRIP

Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. R. G. Beach arrived home last Friday night from their vacation trip to the east, during which Mr. Beach attended the national D. O. K. K. convention at Cincinnati, O., as a delegate from the local Dokie temple. The majority of the time in the east however, was spent in visiting relatives and friends at their old home in Lincoln, Neb.

Perhaps it was just a coincidence, instead of a plan with malice aforethought that their homecoming was on the night before Saturday. Anyhow Mr. Beach resumed his duties at the postoffice this morning, but was not overwhelmingly surprised to learn that Saturday afternoon is a half holiday with postal employes. So he quit work at noon and went home to rest.
