Isaac, manager of that concern. The management will also continue to carry musical goods.

Everything in high grade appliances as well as wiring and electrical contracting will be featured by the new store. In order to afford space for electrical merchandise which is already arriving, a sweeping disposal sale of musical instruments and supplies is now in progress.

This event offers reduction on grand and upright pianos, radios, phonograph records and popular sheet music. C. H. Isaac and W. H. Fisher retain ownership in the re-organized Palmer Music House, and Morris B. Leonard, formerly of the Southern Oregon Electric, will be associated with the new concern.

Public Hungers For Tasty Pies Made of Pears

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Estes, proprietors of the Tiny Tavern on the highway in Talent, following the suggestion in the Mail Tribune made a feature of a pear pie on their menu Sunday. The results were highly gratifying, more than 70 percent of the patrons ordering pear pie and many declaring they were so delighted with the delectable dish, they would carry the gospel of pear pie wherever they go.

Mrs. Estes who is famous locally as a cook confirmed other local reports that the pears used for a pie should not be dead green or dead ripe but half way between, preferably just turning ripe. Such pears make a much better pie, sweeter and juicier, according to her experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Estes favor pear pie signs cut in the shape of a pear for eating places on the highways of the state, and believe such an advertising campaign would do worlds for the pear industry in southern Oregon.

Mrs. Young of the Young and Hall orchard, who has raised pears for the past 35 years, baked her first pear pie after the present campaign was started. She made it just like apple pie, seasoning with butter and cinnamon and reports it was delicious.

Many green Bosc pears were converted into pies over the week end. Rippe Barilets are especially well recommended by their users.

Members of the local women's clubs backing the pear consumption program wish to emphasize that green pears can be used as well as ripe ones in pies and conserves.

LOSES WIFE IN MYSTERY

Police are investigating the death of Mrs. Daisy Price in a fall from a hotel window in San Francisco while her husband, Lt. Comdr. George D. Price, (above) was aboard the aircraft carrier Lexington.

Clarabelle Elliott late yesterday filed suit in the circuit court against Clara Mary Pason and R. I. Stuart and Gilbert Stuart, for $750 alleged damages for deprivation of the use of a Buick auto she won in a newspaper subscription contest. At least a dozen legal actions, in one form or another, have been filed by contestants since the end of the contest.

The Stuarts—father and son—are named in the latest suit, as bondsmen for Mrs. Pason, when she secured a temporary injunction restraining Clarabelle Elliott from using the auto, or removing it from the Buick Agency.

It is alleged that a result of the restraining order, Mrs. Elliott was financially damaged to the extent of $200, when she was unable to work as an insurance collector, by reason of not having the use of the auto; that attorney fees amount to $200, and the auto has depreciated in value from $1200 to $885, now being "out-moded." It is alleged that an opportunity was offered to sell the car, but the restraining order prevented.
