

LOWER BUDGET IS REPORT OF CHEST REPRESENTATIVES

Humane Society Withdraws As Beneficiary—Need for Much Relief Work Is Emphasized at Meeting

The complete budget of the Community Chest for the coming year will be presented at the meeting of the board of directors September 17 with recommendations of the committee which met yesterday evening at the Chamber of Commerce building, it was announced this morning.

Representatives of all organizations included in the chest attended yesterday's session and discussed the problems to be confronted this year. The need for relief work was given special emphasis and a letter of resignation was presented by Mrs. H. D. McCaskey for the Humane Society.

The character building work that is carried on by the Humane Society, however, was emphasized by Mrs. McCaskey, with the many other services it performs throughout the county.

The Salvation Army, which withdrew from the Community Chest last year applied for membership and the other organizations included last year are remaining. The group for this year includes: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Jackson County Health Association, Y. W. C. A., Red Cross and Salvation Army.

The letter of resignation presented by the Humane Society, reads: The unanimous support of the Community Chest is so essential to this fact that the Jackson County Humane Society feeling that its work not being understood in some quarters may be used as an excuse to avoid contributions to the Chest, respectfully withdraws.

We wish to thank the members of the Community Chest for their hearty co-operation in the past and assure them that the Humane Society will gladly lend their support to its work.

JACKSON CO. HUMANE SOCIETY. Mrs. Sidney W. Richardson, Secretary-Manager.

ANGLERS RETURN WITH 15 CANS OF SALMON

Everett Trowbridge and Otto De Labor day fishing at Requa, the mouth of the Klamath river, fished all right and enjoyed it, but with poor luck, as stormy weather and rain Saturday night and Sunday forenoon and dense fog the remainder of that day and later, were not conducive to catching salmon.

However, they did not return home empty-handed, as they caught a 30-pound salmon, which journey back to Medford with them in 15 cans, as they had the large fish canned at the cannery nearby at a cost of eight cents a can, and each man had seven cans of salmon for his home market. The odd can being traded for a package of cigarettes with a tourist, while en route home.

INITIAL TOUCH OF SNOW GIVES LAKE VISITORS A TREAT

Six inches of snow has fallen at Crater national park since last Sunday, most of which melted away rapidly, including the fresh snow that fell yesterday which, while it lasted, transformed the lake and park into a veritable fairyland, and was much appreciated by the tourists and other visitors. The tourists, especially those from southern California, were enraptured at the sight.

Even the regular force of park employees and those of the concessions and laborers on the rim road, enjoyed the novel wintry sight.

The weather conditions at Crater national park, following the rain and snow of earlier in the week, which cleared the atmosphere and made wonderful visibility, are now conducive to making the scenery all the more attractive.

Tourists and others continue to visit the national park daily, and local people who wish to enjoy the lake and surroundings in fall setting, before the season comes to an official close on September 20, have only a little over a week to do so.

The cafeteria is still open, although the lodge closed about two weeks ago, and the roads are in good condition. The park improvement work and the work of constructing the first section of the new rim road are still in progress and will be as long as the weather permits, perhaps into late fall.

As in past seasons, even after a concessions close on September 20, hundreds will continue to visit the national park until the coming of winter prevents.

COUNTY WILL NOT FOOT EXPENSE OF WILLIAMS RETURN

Former Mining Promoter Will Come From Philadelphia to Face Charges of Own Free Will, Word

Jackson county will take no legal action looking to the return of Dee Williams, formerly general manager of the Kermitie Metals, Ltd., here, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, the district attorney's office said today.

According to information furnished to District Attorney George A. Codding, Williams will return to this city of his own free will from Philadelphia where he has been under arrest since July, for alleged fraudulent stock transactions. A Pennsylvania court nolle prossed indictments against him, so he could return to Oregon.

Expense a Factor Heavy expense entailed in returning Williams here was given as one reason for decision to take no official action. It would require two men to escort him across the country and if he chose to fight extradition, the cost would be higher. Another factor was the feeling that the governor would be reluctant to issue requisition papers.

Williams is specifically charged with selling mortgaged furniture belonging to "Your Office Boy," to a man by the name of Griffin. He is also alleged to have civil actions pending, in which steps for adjustment have been made.

Williams is well known throughout the state. He first appeared in this city 18 months ago and leased mineral land in the Gold Hill area, for development by a secret process. He shipped in machinery, which was never removed from the cars, while the demurrage bills of the Southern Pacific mounted.

Planned Building At another time he planned to erect a seven story modern office building on corner of Main and Holly streets, and had an option on the University club property. Plans were drawn for the structure but none of his plans materialized.

When the schemes collapsed Williams, in a paid advertisement, threatened to move his general offices to Grants Pass and blamed the Mail Tribune for his failure.

A few weeks later Williams went to Los Angeles and was next heard of in Philadelphia.

Travelers to Eat Pear Pie On Train Pear pie will be served in the Southern Pacific dining cars, it was announced today in a letter received by the chamber of commerce from J. A. Ormandy, general freight and passenger agent.

This addition to the menu has been made at the request of the Medford chamber of commerce, and it is hoped will prove pleasing to all travelers.

JACKSON COUNTY'S BUDGETEERS WILL AIM AT ECONOMY

Sessions of the budget committee appointed yesterday by the county court, are scheduled to start October 1, and continue throughout that month. The budget committee, delegated to apportion sums for county government the coming year, is composed of the county court, and Ben E. Harder, Medford banker, E. T. Newbury, Sr., farmer-fruitgrower, of Phoenix, and W. H. McNair, druggist and landowner, Ashland.

The appointment of Newbury met with favor, as he is an orchardist, farmer, fruit shipper and packer, and closely identified with the horticultural interests of the valley and their activities.

Under the state law, the budget must be published twice before calling a public hearing upon it. The publication will be made in November, and the public hearing will be called for the first week of December. The budget must be in the hands of the county assessor by December 31, under the law, so that officials can make the extensions and fix the levy for the coming year.

The budget estimates and appropriations, inaugurated by the county court, will be given the closest scrutiny and consideration in the history of Jackson county, and, according to County Judge Alex Sparrow, "everything will have to go through a fine-tooth comb before it is approved."

Pythian Sisters will give card party Wed. evening, 8:30. Admission 25c.

"I was told to watch out for one of those so-called friends who is so mighty glad to see you today—almost going to hug you; and the next time you see her, is holding her head high up in the air and won't even speak to you." "I was thinking about this while I was enjoying a CHESTERFIELD cigarette. You know, I have been smoking CHESTERFIELDS quite a long time, and they are not like some of our friends—one thing today and another thing tomorrow. They are always the same—always mild—always so pleasing in taste. They just satisfy all the time." "By the way, that reminds me of something. I was playing bridge recently with a girl friend of mine and two men, and after we finished the game they began lambasting a whole lot of things and folks. Some of the talk was right funny, you couldn't help laughing; but, really, they pulled down a whole lot of things, and didn't build up anything." "And that reminded me of a salesman who called to see me the other day to tell me something about CHESTERFIELD. The thing that pleased me more than anything else was that he didn't lambast and cuss out any other cigarette; but, of course, he thought that CHESTERFIELD was the best... And I rather agree with him. They do satisfy." GOOD... they've got to be good!!
