

RESENTENCE FOR KINGSLEY SLATED TUESDAY MORNING

Customary to Allow 60 or 90 Days Before Execution—Plea for Clemency May Be Sent Governor

Resentencing to the gallows of James E. Kingsley, confessed and convicted slayer of Sam G. Prescott, Ashland policeman, January 27 last, will be imposed tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton. The supreme court mandate, denying the doomed man's petition for a rehearing, arrived Sunday.

Circuit court attaches and the district attorney's office today were preparing the lengthy death warrant and an order entering the mandate—legal steps necessary for the commitment of Kingsley to state prison. He will be removed to the death row by the sheriff as soon as possible after the court proceedings scheduled for tomorrow.

Governor Only Hope. All legal steps available have been taken by his counsel, and his sole hope to escape the noose now rests in executive clemency. It is understood a petition asking Governor Meier to intercede is being prepared for circulation.

While the date of sentence rests with the court, it is customary to allow 60 to 90 days to elapse between the passing of sentence and the execution date. Kingsley in the "Pauley cell" of the county jail, viewed the approaching climax in his life with characteristic calm. He busied himself preparing his clothes for the appearance "upstairs in the morning."

Bible is Solace. He spends most of his time reading the Bible and praying, and was an interested listener yesterday at the regular Sunday religious services.

The Kingsley case, because of the legal fight waged in his behalf, has attracted state-wide attention. He will be the first man condemned to hang, from this county, since Mike Spanos, 19 years ago. Spanos was convicted of slaying George Dedakalou, a fellow countryman, for his money and burying his body under the building now occupied by the Farm Bureau.

COUNTY TOLD TO CUT TREE LIMBS

The county court received formal notice from the city this morning, through Chief of Police Clatus McCredie, that the county is violating city ordinance No. 137 by failure to keep trees in parkings along sidewalks trimmed. The ordinance is alleged to exist at the new courthouse site, formerly the Washington school, and citizens walking along have their hats knocked off, and their faces scratched by projecting limbs. It is averred.

The county is given until October 1 to rectify the condition, or be subject to the penalties, as made and provided in the ordinance. The city law requires that all limbs of trees be ten feet above the sidewalk. The offending trees have a clearance of six feet, and lower.

The county court will make reparation by borrowing Commissioner John Barneburg's pruning shears and delegating a group of county prisoners to use them.

The city is waging a campaign against low-hanging shrubbery over sidewalks, and has requested the county to set a good example for citizens and property owners.

JACKSON COUNTY WINS SPACE IN LEGIONNAIRE

Much prominence is given Jackson county in the publication of the Oregon Legionnaire sent to Detroit to voice Oregon's formal invitation to the 1932 American Legion convention.

Crater Lake, Lithia Park and Medford figure in the page of illustrations and inviting copy. Fifty thousand numbers of the magazine will be distributed at the national convention which opens Wednesday. The magazine includes 48 pages devoted to the advantage Oregon offers as a convention state. Invitations of Governor Julius Meier and Mayor George Baker are among those included in personal letters.

Petition For Vote On Old Age Pension

A petition asking that a referendum be called at the next general election on the question of an old age pension, was filed with the county clerk this morning. It was largely signed, and filed with the county clerk for checking, later to be mailed to Portland, and thence to the secretary of state for incorporation on the 1932 ballot, if enough names are secured. The petition filed today was one of a half dozen petitions on the same measure, presented since last November.

Cloves rich in flavor

Compare a spoonful of Schilling ground Cloves with any other. The difference is marked. Schilling's is dark brown in color. The other will be a red or yellow brown. Schilling's is so rich with oil that the tiny granules cling together in clots. The other will look dry and loose. Most ground cloves come in a sifter-top tin. But Schilling's is packed in a tin with a large opening. It is so heavy with fragrant oil that it will not shake through a sifter.

MICHAEL SIDLEY OF LAKE CREEK PASSES BEYOND

Michael Sidley passed away at his residence in the Lake Creek district, Saturday at 12 a. m. He had been in ill health for the past six years and very ill the last two weeks. He had made his home in this district for the past 50 years, coming to the United States from Bere Island, in Bantry Bay, County Cork, Ireland. He was born in County Cork, Ireland, September 29, 1848.

Mr. Sidley was very well known in southern Oregon, having been a farmer in the Lake Creek country for over 50 years, and was one of the few remaining pioneers of that district. He will be missed by a host of friends.

He leaves four daughters and two sons: Mrs. T. C. Dugan of Medford, Margaret, Julia and Helen, Mike and Joe, all of Lake Creek, also six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Tuesday, September 22, at 10 a. m. Father Francis W. Black officiating. Interment will take place in the Jacksonville cemetery.

Wanted—Homes! To the Editor: Are the people of Medford selfish or are they only thoughtless, or possibly ignorant of conditions?

The school authorities are literally swamped with appeals from boys and girls for homes in which they can find for room and board and continue their education—out no homes can be found.

These youngsters, some 30 or 40 of them, and the list grows longer each day, must find homes in town or go without a high school education. Some come from farms so far away that they cannot make the trip each day; some are children whose parents

Signs of Better Times

(By the Associated Press) Directors of Swift International today declared extra dividend of $1 a share, payable November 14 to stock of record October 15. Company said estimated earnings first nine months warranted the extra.

Sears, Roebuck has declared regular quarterly of $2 1/2 cents, payable November 1 to stock of record October 9.

General Foods Corporation estimates earnings for current quarter will approximate those of September, 1930, when $4,885,564 equivalent to 92 cents share was earned.

Will volunteers please phone or call on Mr. Finch of the Junior High or Mr. Smith or Miss Carroll of the senior high school?

The authorities will endeavor to place the right child in the right home and assist in making any necessary readjustments. The boys and girls range in age from 12 to 18 years. And for a benefit of some to whom the thought may not occur, some of the boys are just as capable as girls in doing housework.

It is earnestly desired that all who can will volunteer at once in order that no child be handicapped with a late start in school.

SURELY there are many homes in Medford which could accommodate an extra member. Maybe a mother would like to have help after school hours with young children or with meals and dish washing. Possibly a father dislikes the shivery trip to the basement to start the fire in the furnace or has high blood pressure and has been forbidden to mow the lawn, wash the car or beat rugs.

There may be some elderly couples who would like a little extra help; or maybe some lonely person would look forward with anticipation instead of dread, to the long winter evenings, knowing that they would be shared with a grateful companion. There must be many who do not feel that they cannot afford a maid, yet would like to have help and would never miss the little extra that it would cost to provide food for a third person.

There are many organizations in Medford willing to give both time and money for various civic projects—aren't there any willing to help find homes for deserving children? If some of the more prosperous Elks, Shriners, Rotarians, Lions, etc., would agree to take one boy or one girl into their home for the school year and let them do the work that they themselves, probably dislike doing or have to hire done, in return for their board and room, a great many problems would be solved.

Advertisement for Chesterfield cigarettes featuring a man's portrait and the text: "They speak my language!" "... and it's no 'namby-pamby' talk, -either! Words can mean lots of things—but you can always trust your taste. If a cigarette tastes right, if it satisfies you right down to the ground, then it is right. There are all kinds of tobaccos—some good, some not so good. And there's the Chesterfield kind—the best Turkish and the best Domestic that grows. Full-ripe, sun-cured, aged in Nature's thoroughgoing way—and as mild and smooth and sweet as sun-ripened fruit. Chesterfields taste right —because they are right. And something you can't taste—that's important too! The finest cigarette paper—so pure it burns without taste or odor! And behind this unchanging good taste, all the resources of a great organization—men, money, science, experience. It takes them all to make a great cigarette, and they're all behind Chesterfield. Your taste is dead right. Chesterfields do satisfy. GOOD... they've got to be good!
