

LINDBERGH'S LEND HAND FOR RELIEF IN CHINA FLOODS

Famous Fliers Make Aerial Survey of Stricken Section — Social Functions Cancelled by Request

NANKING, China, Sept. 21.—(AP) Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, volunteering their services to the Chinese government for relief work, made an aerial survey of the flood-stricken section of northern Kiangsu province today.

They left here at 7:45 a. m. (6:45 p. m. Sunday, E.S.T.) for the Grand Canal area of Kiangsu, some 500 miles distant, and returned at 4 p. m. (3 a. m. Monday, E.S.T.).

The survey flight was the result of an offer by Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh to place themselves and their plane at the disposal of the government to help in any possible manner during the flood emergency. The offer was accepted with thanks by Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Nationalist government, and T. V. Soong, finance minister.

Heavy Loss of Life. The region for which the fliers headed was inundated late in August, and the loss of life was estimated at 100,000 in five counties along the Grand Canal. Destruction in that area was so thorough, however, that no means of making a reliable survey have been available.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh took a camera, hoping to obtain useful pictures of the flooded area.

As Lindbergh's suggestion, all social functions planned here in honor of Mrs. Lindbergh and himself were cancelled to enable the fliers to devote their full time to flood relief work.

After accepting Lindbergh's offer to help, Soong sent two experts of the flood relief commission from Shanghai to Nanking to confer with the fliers on the most effective way of using their plane.

When the decision was reached, the Lindberghs proceeded immediately to Lotus lake here, where they had landed last week after their flight from Fujioka, Japan, and took off in 10 minutes.

BRYANT WRITES PRIZE VERSE FOR OIL SONG

Burton Hopkins Bryant, "post laureate" of Medford, poet of the American Legion had the pleasure Saturday evening of hearing a verse which he submitted some time ago to the Gilmore Oil Co., sung over the radio. The verse, for which Mr. Bryant will receive a prize, follows:

Yohn Yohnson have fine Yersey bull. But one day bull get sack. Hay lay round on de shade all day. Will hee pain en hee back. We feed him plenty med-e-see. But hay don't get well-e-que. Un den we geeve heem Blu Green Gas. Un bull yump beeg hay stack.

PRIZE PEAR RECIPES TO APPEAR TUESDAY

Prize winning recipes entered in the pear foods show last week-end will be published in tomorrow's Mail Tribune for all women interested in new ways to prepare southern Oregon's favorite fruit.

A long list of recipes was entered in the show with the display products. Several requests have been voiced for a repetition of the show next year. Women are urged to watch for the first recipes tomorrow. Dishes and jars of fruit not called for at the fairgrounds will be left in Mrs. Mabel Mack's office in the Liberty building.

PORTLAND NOVICE FLIER IS KILLED; PASSENGER HURT

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21.—(AP)—When a training plane crashed 150 feet to the Portland airport yesterday, Parveen Hunt, 19, the pilot, was killed and Richmond Womack, 22, his passenger, was seriously injured. The ship fell just after it had taken off.

Hunt was a mechanic for the Pargson Flying Service. He had been detailed to warm up the motor of the plane for another pilot, Dr. Joseph A. Pargson, father of the air service proprietor, August Pargson, total officer. Dr. Pargson blamed a cold motor for the accident.

He said Hunt had both mechanic's and private pilot's licenses but no license entitling him to carry passengers. Today was to have been his last day in the employ of the flying service.

Womack suffered lacerations about the head and an injury to an ankle. Hospital attendants said he probably would recover.

GRANGE-BARBECUE APPLGATE RIVER PLANNED OCT. 3RD

WILLIAMS CREEK, Ore., Sept. 21.—(Special).—Williams and Applegate Granges will have a barbecue for all Grangers and their friends, Saturday, October 3, on E. F. Brown's place on the Applegate just above the Applegate postoffice. A gate charge of one dollar per family and 50 cents for single men will be made, to cover all expenses of dinner, entertainment and the dance in the evening at the Applegate hall, except that a collection will be taken in the evening to pay the orchestra.

Persons are to bring their own dishes. Members of the two Granges who are the hosts will provide the food.

Sid Hanson, who has charge of the barbecuing, promises there will be no tough meat as only choice cuts will be used and the barbecuing done in short order.

Mrs. George Fields and Arthur Brown, State Grange officials, were inspecting all buildings on Williams creek insured by the Grange, Mr. Brown making a report of each one.

Harry Sorrels and Clive Davidson, the committee from the Williams Grange, drove over to Applegate Sunday, where they met with the committee from the Applegate Grange, Louie Hanson, Mr. Treadwell and Sid Hanson, to complete plans and choose the place for the barbecue. Mrs. Sorrels and children, Mrs. Treadwell and the Grange correspondent were also present.

SIN HELD TRAGEDY THROUGHOUT AGES IN TENT SERMON

The second week of the revival meetings at the big tent started off last night with much enthusiasm. It was necessary to place chairs in the aisles and open spaces. Bill Shannon, the evangelist, preached a powerful sermon on "The Tragedy of the Ages."

People were moved to tears or smiles at Shannon moved the hearts and minds of his hearers.

Shannon said in part: "Sin is the tragedy of the ages and the underlying cause of the present day chaotic condition of society. It was commercial greed that plunged the world into war. Commercial greed for the resources of the world that demands nation power and prestige to back it up in its grab for the wealth of the world."

"Slices taken from the smaller nations were the bait used to get Italy and Japan to join in the great war, and by so doing the way was paved for another more bloody world war. In the midst of all this we cry 'Peace!' But how can there be peace without righteousness? Let the great nations of the world restore to the weaker nations that which they have stolen from them, and then we will have some grounds for thinking of the possibility of a warless world."

"Commercial greed is also responsible for the clash between capital and labor. In recent years the working man has had to pay twice as much for food, clothing and shelter as in former years, but he has not received twice as much wages. He is the consumer as well as the producer and, not receiving in wages the value of his production, his purchasing power is curtailed to such an extent as to cause overproduction. Overproduction may be juggled for a time but ultimately it must stop the wheels of industry, leaving the rich, richer and the poor, poorer."

"Today agriculture is bankrupt, and millions of working men are unemployed, facing the winter without a dollar at hand, with no relief in sight except perhaps the poor house or the crumbe that fall from the rich man's table; and worst of all, he must see his own loved ones suffer because of the lack of food, clothing and medicine. In the midst of all this the degenerate rich spend thousands of dollars to put on a 'Feast of the Beasts' at the Hotel Billmore of New York City.

"To this same class belong 'Amy' and 'Ma,' masquerading as Christian evangelists, using money collected from the poor and the sick and the lame and the halt, to make a mockery of marriage, to live in luxury while God's people suffer because of the lack of the necessities of life."

Gid Higgenbotham was back again in the tent with his good cheer and sparkling humor. He announced that services would be held in the tent every night this week excepting on Monday night, and beginning Wednesday, day services will be held in the First Baptist church daily at 2:30 p. m. The audience was thrilled.

ROASTING OF COFFEE MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE BLEND

Under-roasting and Over-roasting Produce an Unsatisfactory Flavor

It is a fact that two lots of coffee from the same blend can be given entirely different flavors by different degrees of roast. A delicious, uniform flavor in coffee depends upon a uniform roast.

Hills Bros. invented and patented Controlled Roasting—a process that roasts perfectly all the time. Hills Bros. Coffee always has the full charm of the flavor that Nature puts in the coffee berries.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so a perfect, uniform flavor is secured in Hills Bros. Coffee by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. There is automatic control of heat—thereby eliminating guesswork, which is the constant problem when coffee is roasted in bulk.

Vacuum cans preserve the wonderful flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.
