to the final fadeout, the pace is never allowed to lag and there isn't a dull moment in the whole picture. Keene, who makes his bow as a western hero, has qualities which should make him the most popular of all cowboy stars. Supporting the star are Marion Shilling, Nick Stuart and Hooper Atchley. The story, a fast moving tale of a cowboy's romance with his haughty but beautiful employer, is by Robert F. Hill, who also directed the picture and deserves plaudits for both efforts. Replete with thrills from magnificent riding and carefully built suspense, the picture also provides a feast for the eyes with the wildly picturesque beauty of the Mojave desert providing the background for the action.

Howard Hughes Has Clever Holly Film

A ruthless behind-the-scenes picture of the metropolitan press is "The Front Page," which Howard Hughes, the youthful producer, is presenting at the Holly theater. Audiences are going to be surprised at Adolphe Menjou in the role of the suave, lovable but hard managing editor. Pat O'Brien's place in the movie is secure as a result of his work as the star reporter and Mary Brian handles splendidly the part of the little girl who is going to marry the wild reporter. Frank McHugh is good for many laughs and Walter Catlett, George E. Stone, Slim Summerville and Mae Clarke complete the brilliant cast of this picture. Showing with the feature is a Graham McNamee News Reel, and a reel of football thrills. Tomorrow night only, Karl Bennett and Mabel Jacobsen, winners of the Atwater Kent radio audition for the Grants Pass district, will be heard on the Holly stage in songs.

Huson's Grandson Dies in Portland

Funeral services will be conducted in Cloward, Ore., for Kenneth Huson, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Huson, who died yesterday afternoon at the Dorenbecker hospital in Portland. The little boy was known in Medford, where his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Huson reside. Besides his parents, Kenneth is also survived by a sister, Aronell, age three. Mrs. A. C. Huson has gone to Cloward for the services.

Midnite Matinee On Craterian Bill

The current attraction on the screen of the Fox Craterian theater is Elmer Rice's Pulitzer prize story, "Street Scene," which features Sylvia Sidney, William Collier, Jr., and Estelle Taylor. Completing the program is a clever comedy, Fox Movietone News and Leah Holt at the console of the Wurlitzer, in Oregon Specialties. Tomorrow night the Fox Craterian theater is presenting a midnight revival, showing of George Arless in "Disraeli" and those attending the second showing of "Street Scene" (Saturday night) are invited to remain as guests of the theater for the revival showing.
