

JACKSON YOUTH BEST LIVESTOCK JUDGE AT FAIR

George McCracken Individual High Scorer in 4H Club Contest — County Team Wins Third Place

SALEM, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Sunshine and showers were in prospect for most of the events as the fourth day of the Oregon state fair opened here today. Rain yesterday failed to reduce materially the late afternoon and evening crowds, with the result that attendance on Monday was estimated as near the 10,000 mark.

The state fair horse show last night got away to the best start in years with more than 2000 persons present.

Rider Hits Dirt

Frank Studnicka of Stayton, world champion rider of bucking horses, took a bad spill in a performance which was added to the regular horse show as one of the diversions. Studnicka's black mount slid and plunged to the ground, hurling the rider to earth. After a few minutes the champion was able to get up and leave the arena.

The greatest activity on the grounds yesterday was in the 4-H club division where judging was completed in many departments. Yamhill county youths walked away with honors in the livestock judging contest in a field of 21 teams, with a score of 2250. Clackamas county boys and girls won in the poultry-judging contest and Wasco county won in the crops judging contests.

Klamath county, with 2235 points was second in the livestock judging event and Jackson county with a score of 2205 was third. Jackson county was represented by Harvey Childers, Uriel Morse and George McCracken.

McCracken is High Scoring 830 points, McCracken was high individual.

The Clackamas county boys' and girls' team, with a score of 945, was first in the poultry-judging contest.

The Wasco county boys' and girls' team, with a score of 2177, finished first in the crops judging contest.

The boys' and girls' club judging contest are being conducted under the direction of H. C. Seymour, state club leader. Nearly 200 boys and girls, engaged in 4-H club work in all parts of the state, are spending most of the week at the state fair grounds competing in a wide variety of events.

Chief interest centers towards the Isaac Lee Patterson individual trophy, presented to the outstanding boy or girl club member of the state while the Dollar dinner contestants are eyeing the H. R. Crawford steam cooker awarded for first place in this division. The healthiest boy and girl of the state will probably be selected by Wednesday.

The selection of the two boys and two girls who have displayed the best all-around possibilities and accomplishments is the private care of L. King, superintendent of this division of the Southern Pacific, with presentation of gold watches by Guy Talbot, Portland, and a trip to Crater Lake next season as the guests of Richard Price, manager of the resort.

TEACHER HONORED AT ROGUE RIVER

ROGUE RIVER, Ore., Sept. 29.—(Sp)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sama were given a surprise party Wednesday by members and friends of the Presbyterian Sunday school in honor of Mrs. Sama, retiring teacher of the adult class. About 30 sat down to the evening meal, prepared and taken by the ladies.

Mrs. Sama was presented with a gift of appreciation for her long service as a teacher. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. Sama, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Sama and son of Grants Pass, Reverend and Mrs. Sidney Harris, Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stuhl and sons Willis and Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and son Harold, and daughter Lillian, Roland Stehl, Mr. and Mrs. Buoy, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nourse, Mrs. A. C. Sutcliffe, Mrs. C. T. Baker, Mrs. Albert Mellwin, Mrs. Burtlette, Mrs. Millie Walker of Gold Hill, Miss Thelma Bangert, Ronald Bangert and Miss Velma Smith.

EAGLE POINT FOILER BY ALBANY PITCHER

The Eagle Point Cheesemakers, Southern Oregon champions, lost the state semi-pro championship at Albany, in a game with the Aloes of that city last Sunday because they could not hit John Beck, Albany pitcher. They garnered four hits in the entire game, and for the first six innings not a Cheesemaker reached first base, according to the Albany Democrat-Herald's account of the game. Beck struck out nine men.

Gipe pitched for Eagle Point and was touched up for 13 hits.

Eagle Point scored its lone run in the eighth inning of singles by Vanden and Gipe. The game was described as the best played in the Willamette valley this year.

Brown Principal Shade In Women's Fall Suits

By JANE EADS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Autumn, bringing brown to the countryside, has brought brown also to Fifth avenue.

Brown, combined with fall oak leaf tones, is the principal shade this season in women's suit-dresses and coats, with black, green and some dark blues also being favored. Tweed coats and corduroy and wool suits with raccoon or blue fox collars likewise are proving popular.

A number of the newer hats, Paris imports, sit a bit higher off the forehead than the first tiny chapeaux of the season. Some have blouse-crowns. Others are turbans with golds, or rolls, of felt or velvet. One had a narrow turned-up brim with satin bows placed at different angles on either side.

Corsair blue, a high color, but softened with a minute blending of purple, is a new shade appearing in one shop window. Dresses fashioned of it are trimmed with raspberry, or claret red.

Black and gold jewelry is shown for wear with black dinner gowns and black satin or velvet slippers with gold sandal straps.

"Can-Can" bracelets, fashioned of wood with an inside banding of tinkling metal pieces, have been so popular that one store has no more in stock. These bracelets are worn with simple wool frocks.

A new belt is made of silk cord in mesh design, each mesh caught together with a tube bead. The belt is fastened with two crocheted buttons the color of the beads. It is about four inches wide.

Ostrich feathers are not only coming into their own again on hats, but are used for fans. One fan has 10 plumes in shell sticks. Another fan of black ostrich has cock feathers for its sweeping tips.

While the normal waist line still emphasizes most of the season's costumes, one New York designer features no waist line at all. Her evening gowns have a certain fullness from the shoulders to the hips and then are fitted snugly to the figure. Another designer creates all of their evening gowns with a waist-line a trifle above the normal mark.

MANY CONTINUE PROSPECT WORK

The California-Oregon Power company construction work at Prospect continues with between 500 and 600 men employed, and will continue as long as weather permits. The rush of transient toilers has subsided and the large majority of those now employed are residents of Josephine, Jackson and Douglas counties.

The power company the past week has been concentrating on the hauling of material and equipment to the works, before rain and snow makes the Red Bluff road impossible for heavy hauling. A giant transformer was transported to the project last week, and other machinery is being hauled as fast as it arrives.

Fields Finds East More Optimistic

M. D. Field, secretary of the California Oregon Power Co., returned today from a three weeks' business trip to Washington, D. C., New York, Chicago and San Francisco, in the interests of the company.

Mr. Fields reports a general tendency of improvement in business and a better feeling among people generally in the east as well as on the west coast.
