Bits of Action In World Series Opener

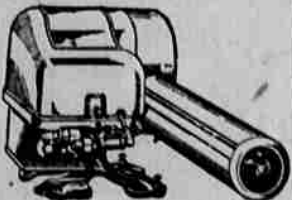

Max Bishop, lead-off man for the Philadelphia Athletics, is shown in Associated Press telephoto (at top), at bat in the first inning of the first game of the 1931 world series in St. Louis. He struck out. The Athletics won, 6 to 2.
 Pepper Martin, (below), St. Louis centerfielder tagged out at second by Bishop in a daring bit of action during the fourth inning. After disposing of Martin, Bishop threw home and the camera caught the ball in the air.

PREMIUMS WON BY 4-H CLUB AT FAIR

The premiums won in the individual exhibits of the 4-H Home Economic clubs of Jackson county at the state fair were announced today by Mrs. Mabel Mack, home demonstration agent who returned from the fair last night and who declares that the local clubs showing was splendid considering the large amount of competition because of entries by the 4-H clubs of thirty counties.
 The winners of the team demonstrations of 4-H clubs at the fair will probably not be known until Saturday afternoon.
 The home economics premiums won by the county 4-H clubs were as follows:
 Kerr Special Canning—Beth Joy, Ashland, second.
 Canning III—Beth Joy, Ashland, fourth.
 Canning I—Beulah Harvey, Ashland, ninth.
 Camp Cookery—Kenneth Bell, Leliview, fourth.
 Cooking III—Frances Faber, Central Point, fifth.
 Handicraft—Monroe Davis, Sams Valley, fifth.
 Sewing II—Freya Rein, Reese Creek, seventh; Helen Judy, Griffin Creek, eighth.

MORGAN'S INJURY ONLY DARK SPOT ON OREGON SKIES

PORTLAND, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Portland was slicking up its streets today and throwing banners to the breeze in anticipation of the arrival tonight of 1,500 University of Oregon rooters who plan a rousing rally as a prelude to the Oregon-Idaho football game on Multnomah field Saturday.
 The Oregon team was to arrive tonight and will not have a workout before taking the field at 2:00 p. m. Saturday. Word from the Eugene camp indicates the team is in fine physical shape with the exception of Bill Morgan, huge tackle from Medford, injured several days ago.
 It appeared here today that Oregon is but a slight favorite to beat the Idaho Vandals who are heavier and apparently more experienced.

FIRST 'HI-TIMES' OF YEAR ISSUED

The first issue of the Medford Hi-Times, official senior high school publication, was given out this afternoon free to all high school students.
 The Hi-Times ticket sales campaign will be launched Monday, October 5, featuring lower rates than were offered last year. The tickets will sell for 25 cents for students with a student body ticket, and 50 cents without.
 This paper is issued by a staff composed of students selected from the student body and under the supervision of Arthur L. Schoen, journalism instructor. The Hi-Times is issued twice a month.
 The staff is: Editor, Adrian Fraley; news manager, Wilton Colbourn; circulation manager, Arthur Jensen; sports editor, William Dorn; society, Anna Mae Fuson; exchanges, LaDonna Calder; features, Jeanne Parick; humor, Charles Champlin; advertising manager, Earl Littell; solicitors, Charles Champlin, Bill Lyman, Douglas Finch, Earl Littell, George Brown; reporters, Mabel An-

COW SHOT FOR DEER ROGUE RIVER RANCH

ROGUE RIVER, Ore., Oct. 2.—(SPL.) The first day of the hunting season, Lee Hills' party returned with a four-point buck. Upon reaching their home, they found someone had shot one of their milk cows, which was in the barn yard near the county road, and less than a hundred yards from the house.
 Several nice deer have been taken out this season, and each week end sees a flood of hunters going up both creeks.
 Vern Orr came down from the lookout station on Battle mountain Saturday evening and brought a large buck. O. C. Oden and son Alfred each brought back a mule deer from near Lakeview Saturday. Jack Stewart and Frank Perry of Grants Pass are enjoying a hunt at the head of Louise creek but have not yet returned.

SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

Farm Products OREGON

FROM

Safeway Stores is probably Oregon's largest customer for food-stuffs. Our annual purchases through Oregon offices exceed FORTY MILLION DOLLARS! That's a tremendous amount—its one and a half times the total value of all the farm products sold by cooperative marketing in the State, according to U.S. Census. • Keeping 284 stores in Oregon stocked with farm products is a big job but a most pleasant one. Think of all the dairy products, fruits, vegetables, fish, meats, nuts, cereals, flour, etc. it takes to supply them, in fact 85c out of every dollar we take in goes into the cost of merchandise—right back to the FARMER and PRODUCER.

For the above reasons we are happy to cooperate in the
